WHITNEY'S DISH OF SPRINGTIME SALAD

Remarkable Tale of Two Crows in Hollow Tree.

The Bride's Fatal Biscuit -- Meeting of the Northeastern Pennsylvania Press Association -- A Location Where Temperance Work Is Needed. Notes of Interest to Railroad Boys.

The Hallstead Fake Letter.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Susquehanna, April 21. -- Farmer Sampson and sons, of Sherman, while cutting wood on the mountain, noticed for several days some birds upon a tree near them, several going from tree to tree. Upon cutting down the tree they discovered a limb with a hollow cavity some two feet in length and three or four inches in diameter, in which were two full grown birds of some good-sized species. There was a were supplied with food by their The limb was cut and the birds liberated. They were neither of them stead creates no uneasiness here. "A able to fly, having evidently never J. meeting of the Northeastern Pennsylvania Press association, to be held in Tunkhannock, April 24, will be attended by the Susquehanna county brethren, if the walking is good.

The approaching marriage of A. F Barr and Miss Mary Cahill, two estim able young people of this place, was announced from the altar of St. John's TEMPERANCE WORK NEEDED. The Windsor Standard states that "A year ago C. A. Roberts and David Comstock shot a duck from the river bridge. Last Saturday they were driving across the bridge, when Charley re-marked to David: "Wouldn't it be funny if we should see another duck here today?" They looked down the river, and, sure enough, there was a duck floating under some bushes. They hastened over town, borrowed a gun and blazed away at the duck. The first discharge having apparently no effect, the second barrel was fired, with a like result. An investigation disclosed the fact that the duck was a copy of the Carbondale Leader. The singular part of the episode is that nearly all of the shot penetrated that portion of the paper which contained a snake story by "Whit."

All of which shows the need of temperance and missionary work in Windsor, When its people cannot distinguish the difference between a duck and a newspaper, there is no need of sending missionaries to Africa. Onward, Christian soldiers-

IN THE COUNTY. Susquehanna county has now but ne murder case ahead. Is "hanging played out" in Susquehanna county? "Voluntary manslaughter" is much more genteel than cold-blooded "murder." And the penalty is lighter. And it doesn't make much difference to the victim whether they call it murder or voluntary manslaughter. There are seventeen idle, well-fed prisoners in the county jail. Some day there will be a workhouse annex to that popular resort.

IS THE HOUSE HAUNTED?

Mystery Which Is Puzzling the Good People of Honesdale.

Honesdale, April 21.-The Independ nt is authority for the statement that Honesdale has a real, up-to-date baunted house. On Saturday night a light was seen in a vacant house in this borough by those who live in an Windsor. adjoining house. Investigation the next day failed to show that anything in the house had been disturbed or that any person had been in there. about 11 o'clock, Sunday night, the light appeared again. It could be plainly seen from a bed room window in the house adjoining. Neighbors were called in and several persons viewed the situation. Those who witnessed the mysterious appearance described it thus: They looked from the window of one louse through the window of another into a bedroom formerly occupied by a young lady. The room appeared to be lighted and some person preparing to be distinguished by the clothing. If a man, he had his coat and vest off and appeared in white shirt and dark trousers; if a woman the lower covering was dark skirt. The form bent over and prepared the bed for occupancy and while the people were yet watching it was seen to approach the gas jet and turn it off, leaving all in darkness.

The key of the house was then se cured and several men entered but all investigation disclosed nothing; and mest puzzling of all the gas jet could not be lighted in that room because the gas was cut off in the cellar. Th theory that the whole was produced by mirrors casting reflections from some other house was exploded on investigation by the fact that the blinds of the house on all other sides are closed.
