BURGLARS AT SIMPSON.

Whyte's Hotel Entered .- D. M. Lynch Has a Midnight Encounter.

Joseph Whyte's hotel at Simpson was entered by thieves late on Sunday Access was gained by removing a pane of glass in the front door, so that the key in the lock was easily The burglars forced open a desk and found a small sum of money and some jewelry, and also silverware. D. M. Lynch, a well known wholesale beer agent, who boards at the hotel, was just entering the house, when he noticed a light in his room. He quiet-ly unlocked one of the side doors and

So intent was one of the thieves in examining the drawers of a bureau that his coming was not noticed. Mr. Lynch advanced in the darkness toward the room to investigate, but he unfortunately moved a chair and elarmed the burglar, who quickly drew his revolver and fired in the di-rection of the noise. The shot grazed Mr. Lynch's neck, but did not seriously injure him. He drew his revolver and fired, but the light had been extinguished and the shot was returned from out the darkness. The swond thief, who was working the upper floor, hurried down and escaped.

The burglar that was seen was dis-guised with a mask. They were both armed and desperate, as several shots were fired. It is possible that they are tramps and have disappeared from
