Judge Knapp Experiences the Discomfiture of Knocking Out a Good Republican Vote, But He Gets Even.

The laugh was on Judge Knapp yesterday in the Dunmore contest when man who is known as "Sherman, the after knocking out the vote of Charles anatomical wonder," and a wonder he Maddox, of the Second district of the assuredly is. His arms and legs do Third ward, he learned from the man's not seem to be fastened in the way own admission that he had voted the that those of the ordinary human be-TICKPI, Knapp laughed last, however, and true that seem to be directly opposite to to the prover's laughed best, for, before the laws of nature with the ease and was over, he made up for the Maddox misfortune and had nine to in using their limbs in an ordinary spare. William Monley, Martin Runne and Stephen Rgan, of the First district of the Third ward; Edward Matchews, of the Second district of the Thusi ward, and Martin McHale, of the First dis-trict of the Second ward, were disqualified for non-payment of taxes. James Ruane, Michael Sweene, and in songs; Eddle Gray, the boy so-John Tighe, of the First district of the prano; Will Nersey, a funny negro Third ward, and James Langan and John Murray, of the Second district of the Third ward, were shown to be non-citizens. In the case of James Ruane, Michael Sweeney and John Murray the allegation was that they had not paid taxes. It developed that they had paid taxes but were never naturalized. It is contended by the respondents that their votes will stand as they were not at-tacked on the ground of being noncitizens. Other witnesses examined were Patrick Reilly, John Ryan, Patrick Scanlon, Patrick Ruane, Thomas Ruane, John Ryan, Patrick Wynn, James Wynn, John Ward and Michael Golof the First district of the Third ward, and Patrick Collins, Patrick Collins, jr., William Crane, Michael Crane, Michael O'Hara, John M. The farce is in three acts, the first is laid in the dining room of Wertzburger Ratz's home in New York; the second A messenger was di in the grounds about the summer place of Ratz in Brighton, England, and the third in a palace in Germany. The plot s of no consequence, they never are in farce comedies, but is sufficiently tangible to give a legitimate excuse to the members of the company to introduce innumerable singing and dancing specialties. Among the clever members of the company who entertained the audince last night were William West. Max Miller, Minnie Cline, Eva L. Leshe, Ida Marie Rodgers, Rose Leslie,

FINE ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN.

Classes in the Penn Avenue Baptist Sunday School Entertain.

The members of Classes 24 and 47 of the Penn Avenue Baptist Sunday school gave their friends a delightful entertainment last evening in the church lecture room. The programme included selections on the piano and violin by Charles Doersam and Walter Kiple; songs by the Philomel quartette, Misses Rose, Kahn and Joseph; impersonations by Willard D. Howe, the Pittston young man who has won much favor here of late; plano and banjo duets by Mr. and Mrs. George Carr; tenor solos by Theodore R. Straub.

There were numerous repetitions and the entertainment offered was fully appreciated. Miss Esther T. Rowlands and Bertha Lowenstein are teachers of the classes.
