BULL VICTIM'S RESCUE,

Cycler Saves a Farmer from Death in an Exciting Battle. Philadelphia, May 9.—A dispatch to the Record from Shamokin says: Near Paxinos, Farmer Wesley Newberry was leading a bull along the highway when the animal became fractious and attacked him. In the first enslaught the bull gored Newberry in the thigh and ossed him into a pond at the road-

Not content with this vicious act, the bull pursued the man into the pond, and, catching the farmer helpless there, again lifted him on its horns, went ashore and carried him 50 feet, after which Newberry was given a violent toss, and alighted in a clump of bushes. Bleeding from a score of wounds, and almost exhausted from his struggles in The animal afflicted with hydrophobia the unequal battle, the man crawled behind a stump, and with the prongs of a stick tried to blind the bull as the latter again rushed toward him.

At this stage of the combat a passen ger train on the Northern Central sped past. Taking in the situation at a glance, Engineer Umpleby, who had but a few hundred yards more to run to the station, pulled out the throttle and hurried on to Paxinos station. There the alarm was given, and severfew minutes. A hole was burned al citizens hastened to Newberry's resthrough the roof near the chimney, cue. John Heck, a storekeeper, armed cue. The stomach of an infant is very small and should be nursed at two hour intervals plained the method and progress of and in small amounts. Too early national building and loan associations and after the object of the meeting for liquid food often causes indigestion. The pancreas does not secrete its special ferment until the fourth month, the salivary glands begin to furnish diatase about the ninth month, and their full power is attained only at the eleventh month. Starchy substances, therefore, cannot be digested at all before the fourth month, and nitrogenous matter before the tenth month. Vomlting is the characteristic symptom of infantile dyspepsia, but should be carefully distinguished from a mere regurgitation, which latter occurs imme diately after nursing, the former about an hour later consisting of acid smellng clots.

> Some women spoil their teeth by their neglect to have them attended to directly the least speck of decay is apparent, and thus one tooth after another becomes affected, for the disease is very infectious and soon spreads The neglect in the majority of cases arises from the dread of going to a denaist, but provided you consult a skillful operator the pain resulting from having a tooth stopped is nothing in comparison to the aching which will surely come at sime time or another. Decayed teeth are not only unsightly out they impair the digestion and inlure the general health. All acid beverages, if frequently taken, are very harmful to the teeth, for by degrees they destroy the enamel, and the ivory, longer protected by this covering, very liable to be injured and then lecay soon sets in.

New York May 8.—Considerably over a fourth of the dealings at today's short session of the Stock Exchange were in Chicago Gas and when the sales of Sugar were added about half of the total sales were accounted for. The dealings in Chicago Gas consisted for the most part of quite heavy realizing sales and the loss amounted to 1%. New Jerseyl Central was subjected to special pressure and lost 14. Sugar also sold off 3s and Western Union 3. The losses were restricted to less important fractions in other stocks. The strength developed by Omaha suggested that the recent selling of that stock was probably by the shorts who found themselves compelled to cover. INFORMATION ABOUT GREECE.

From the New York Sun It has a population of 2,187,208 It is called "Hellas" by its people. The mean temperature of Greece is 64 egrees Fahrenheit.

No part of Greece is forty miles from the sea or ten from the hills. About one-half of the population ar griculturists and shepherds. It has an area of 24,977 square miles,

It is the only country in the world whos armies are provided with the Gras gum and the paper-covered cartridges. The Greek flag is a white cross on a blue ground-the Bavarian colors and the Greek cross.

Greece is more thickly populated than any other country in Europe, with the ex-ception of Sweden and Prussia. It has few rivers and many hills. None of the former is navigable, and many of the latter are fortified. The chief characteristics of the average Greek are his inquisitiveness, fondness for excitement, love of discussion, desire for knowledge, an aptitude for learning, and aggressive patriotism. The climate has two striking peculiarities—the heat in summer and the cold in winter are far more intense than those of any other country in the world lying b the same latitude. Gell once remarked that in travelling through the Morea in March he found "summer in Messenia spring in Laconia, and winter in Arcadia, without having moved beyond a radius of
