MISSIONARY MEETING.

Held by the Congregation of the Scranton Street Baptist Church in the Church Last Evening.

The congregation of the Scranton Street Baptist church held a very interesting missionary meeting in the church auditorium last evening. There was a large audience in attendance and they were delightfully surprised by the entertaining and instructive data furnished in reference to missions. Dr. Le Roy Stevens, of Bucknell university sent a manuscript on the subject which was read by the missionary society's president, Mrs. B. V. Dersheimer. The paper read by Miss Frances Bace, of Keystone academy, also proved enlightening on this important subject. The program was announced as carried out as follows: The song service by the congregation was followed by prayer and some special selections by the choir. The paper by Dr. Stephens was then read and a recitation, "The Message," given by Miss Viola Roderick. The reading by Miss Ruth Beddoe was very well received, being not only a good selection, but was rendered in a happy style. The choir followed this number with a selection and Miss Bace read her paper, "Not Interesting," but which did interest. Two recitations which followed one, "Keep Us Sweet," by Miss Anna Thomas, the other, "How to Spend a Cent," by Miss Edna Ames; both happily chosen and well given. The pastor gave a short address upon the purpose and aim of the meeting.

DR. WILLIAMS'S SERMON.

Spoke Morning and Evening in First Welsh Baptist Church.

Rev. Dr. Williams, of London, preached two sermons in the First Welsh Baptist church yesterday. He is a forceful speaker and held his large audience captive. The subject of his evening discourse was "God a man's true home" and selected as his text the nineteenth Psalm, first verse, "LORD, Thou hast been our dwelling-place in all generations. Taking as his cue, the denunciations of the Jews upon their return from captivity to a ruined home and their doubts and questionings, and then the answer of the singer. The speaker showed how man in his present state of ungodliness might well take a lesson. His three central thoughts were: The love and sympathy of God for man; His granting of perfect peace to the tried; and His absolute protection.

Around these central ideas, he drew the facts that man was ever able to reach the benefit of God's love. Man should attain to a spiritual atmosphere in which peace from all worldly desires of wealth and power were purged and rest would fill his soul. All attempts of education, social intercourse, etc., were useless if God's dwelling place was not the center of his life. As a protection God was all powerful. A freedom from a worldly existence, from "captivity" and mined plans to come to the blessed home and feel that indeed was God—"Man's true home, his dwelling place in all generations." Dr. Williams is being entertained by James A. Evans, of 217 North Hyde Park avenue.

SATURDAY'S INTERMENTS.

Evans S., young son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Evans, of 865 Archbald street, was laid to rest in Washburn street cemetery Saturday afternoon. Funeral services were held at the late residence and were attended by a large number of the relatives and friends of the bereaved parents. Rev. Dr. H. S. Jones, of the Providence Independent Congregational church, preached a very touching sermon. The floral offerings were beautiful and numerous, consisting of casket bouquet and set pieces. A large number of those present accompanied the funeral cortege to the cemetery. The four little girls who acted as pall-bearers were: Mesale and Rena Edwards, Bertha Freeman and Della Harris, Howard Leathers, David James and Ralph Collins. A quartette consisting of Mrs. Henry Evans, Miss Margaret Jones, Edward James and W. W. Jones, sang several beautiful selections during the services. The following persons attended from out-of-town: Mrs. William L. Miles and daughter, of Kingston; Miss Rachel Jones and Evan Jones, of Plymouth; William Noyle, of Nanticoke.

MISCHIEVOUS BOYS.

Anthony Hartman, who resided at 1092 Hampton street, has been annoyed by boys who live in his vicinity. The boys have broken his windows, thrown stones against the house and in numerous ways caused him patience to eke out. On Friday Hartman had two of the lads brought before Alderman John to answer the above charges. The alderman discharged the boys with a severe reprimand and when they returned home, they were arrested by the Rowland Whiting, son of J. T. Whiting, of 1012 Hampton street, and Charles and William Warner, sons of Adam Warner, of 443 South Ninth street. Their ages range from 12 to 15 years. Charles Warner was ill at home and could not appear.

RAN AGAINST A BICYCLE.

Little Tommie Evans and his sister, children of Mrs. Thomas Evans, of 2417 Jackson street, came to Main avenue on an errand for their mother. As the children were crossing at a neighborly intersection, they were struck by Robert Harris, of 507 North Hyde Park avenue, came along on a bicycle. The girl crossed safely but the boy hesitated and then ran directly against the wheel. He was knocked down and the child very much frightened and injured, as he fell on his head. He was taken to hospital. Harris was taken into custody by Lieutenant Williams, but was allowed to go on his own recognition.

HIS FOREHEAD GASHED.

Little Fred Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lloyd, of 1229 Luzerne street, was badly injured yesterday afternoon. The little fellow was playing on a stone wall near his home and fell. He struck on his face and forehead cutting a long, deep gash in the forehead. Dr. J. J. Roberts was immediately summoned and the wound was closed with three stitches, and the sufferer made as comfortable as possible.

There was a large attendance of friends of the deceased and the floral offerings were beautiful. Interment was made in the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

TWO STILL ALARMS.

Two still alarms were answered by the Firemen Friday, one at noon and the other at 9 o'clock in the evening. The first was caused by the burning of a barn on the property of Herman Englehart, of 335 North Broome avenue. The blaze originated from the burning of some straw in the yard. The flames attacked the fence and then were communicated to the barn. No serious damage resulted. The second alarm came from Nicholas Glassner, of 213 North Broome avenue. This fire was caused by the leaving of a stove burning in an outside kitchen. Glassner had retired early, and his family were visiting at a neighbor's. The flames were discovered before much progress had been gained, and it required but a few moments' work by the firemen to stay the fire. Little damage was caused, though the danger was imminent, owing to the frame dwellings which are built nearby.
