Burglars at Work on Grand Street—Accident to James Sullivan—Personal and Other Notes of Interest.

Special Correspondence of the Tribune.

Susquehanna, May 11.—Some time during Friday night burglars entered the store of A. J. Shew on Grand street this morning, by breaking the lock of the front door. They secured about $20 in change and a small amount of goods. The same parties undoubtedly tried to gain entrance at the bar room of the Cascade House, across the street from Shew's store. They were frightened away from there however. Bennett's store at Lanesboro was entered the same night and four pairs of shoes taken.

James Sullivan, an employe of the Erie coal mine, while riding his bicycle on Main street on Friday evening last, struck the cross walk and bounded from the saddle, losing control of the handle bars, and his front wheel turned crosswise and Sullivan was thrown with terrific force to the ground. The young man was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to a drug store where he received medical aid. It was found that there was a slight concussion of the brain, a gash back of his right eye, and a badly bruised and discolored face. He is rapidly improving and hopes to be around in a few days.

SPINAL DISEASE

"Disease of the spinal cord and nervous prostration, was what the doctors called it first," Mrs. Rosa Tapley, of No. 721 Harrison Street, Iowa, writes yesterday to a reporter, "but it was not long before every organ and member of my body was affected. There was a continuous beating at the pit of my stomach, my head ached on until I thought I should go insane. I felt as if I was smothering and my legs would become weak that I had to drop when I felt the spells coming on. As for sleep, that was out of the question, except little cat naps, for in addition to the feelings I have attempted to describe, I had neuralgia, and for six months I kept getting worse and worse, and at last was confined to my bed in October, 1894.

"I have nearly always thought it was a gripe, that I had," Mrs. Tapley continued, "though the doctor never would say so, but whatever it was it kept getting worse and worse, especially my head and nerves, and I thought I should die, but I dragged on a wretched existence until about one year ago, when I was reading the Detroit Journal and Saturday Evening. I saw a long article of a similar case to my own being cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I made up my mind to try these pills, and so procured a supply and began taking them according to directions.

"My heart's action is normal, my appetite is good, my nerves are strong, my spine gave me very little trouble, all neuralgia and rheumatic pains have left me. I am no longer a sufferer, whenever, and after the
