All those that participated in the exercises gave a very creditable performance and the large audience frequently broke into applause when their fancy was caught by the scenes before them. Each of the young ladies were costumes of red and white and headgear to match and every one supplied with a three-legged milk stool and strainer pail. The success was in measure due to the untiring efforts of these zealous young ladies. They were assisted in the evening's entertainment by the following: Vocal solo, by Master Alfred William, of Olyphant, which was a marked feature of the affair. Then came a drill by the young bany, and Vogel, of Green Island, N. ladies which entitled them to great credit for the able manner in which they performed. Miss Mattle Pickering and Fred Benjamin then gave an instrumental diet on the plano, which was well received and was followed by a selection by the Keystone quartette, which was highly applauded. After the close of the programme the re-mainder of the evening was filled out with social intercourse, and the young ladies passed through the audience serving them with ice cream and cake.

Cheerful Manner in Which an Editor

Announced an Accident. The steamer S-, commanded by Captain S-, exploded several years since on one of our Southern rivers with terrible effect and burned to the water's edge. Captain S- was blown into the air, alighting near a floating bale of cotton, upon which he floated uninjured, but much blackened and muddled. Arriving at a village several miles below, to which the news of the disaster had preceded him, he was secosted by the editor of the village paper, with whom he was well ac quainted, and eager for an item, "I say, boy! Is the S- blown up?" "

How high was you blown?"

"Was Captain S- killed?" "No; I am Captain S-." "The thunder you are!

enough to think of every mean thing I ever did in my life before I came down." The editor started on a run for his office, the paper about going to press, and not wishing to omit the item of intelligence for the next issue, two weeks off, wrote as follows: steamer S- has burst her boller, we learn from Captain S-, who says h was blown up long enough to think of every mean thing he ever did in his life before he lit.
