CITY NOTES.

William Kelly and P. J. Casey are in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover, of Ironside, are visiting Scranton friends today.

Miss Nellie Barrett, of Carbon street, has gone to New York city, where she will spend three months.

Only nine cases of measles were reported yesterday. This and the reports of the last few days indicate that the epidemic is abating.

In the estate of Martin Korins, late of the city of Carbonate, letters of administration were yesterday granted to Elizabeth Korins, the widow, by Register of Wills Hopkins.

Joe Hoyan, alias the "Cyclone," was released from jail yesterday on $500 bail. She is under indictment for relieving Thomas McDonald, of Dunmore, of his wallet, containing $5.

The orchestra assisted by the members of the choir at the Second Presbyterian church will give a concert Monday evening in the church lecture room under the direction of Professor J. M. Chance, of the church organist.

Marriage licenses were granted yesterday by Clerk of the Courts Thomas to Thomas Williams and Mary Jones, of Scranton; Thomas Nelson, of Carbonate, and Teresa Kretsch, of Scranton; Patrick Laydon and Mary Gilroy, Scranton; William Huson and Mary Gilroy, Scranton; Henry Walker and Emily Herricks, of Wilkes-Barre.

The Memorial Day committee of Colonel Montross' post, No. 219, Grand Army of the Republic, will hold a meeting this evening at the post, commencing with a program for an entertainment to be given by the post on the evening of Memorial Day. Comrade John T. Howe has been chosen to deliver the memorial address at Jersey.

Company B, Thirtieth regiment, has finished a volume in honor of the twentieth birthday anniversary. The book contains excellent portraits of Colonel H. M. Hoies, Colonel F. L. Hitchcock, Colonel E. H. Ripple, Colonel H. O. Courson, the late Captain William Kellow, Captain John W. Kambek, First Lieutenant John H. Finkle and Second Lieutenant Robert E. Bostwick, and an excellent illustrated sketch of the company at home and in camp. It is an exceedingly creditable memoir.

Several changes have been made in the staff of the Sunday News. The Editor, C. Ben Johnson has resigned and hereafter Colonel Frank Pittman will give his personal attention to active editorial management. John Nihand, formerly of the Elmira Budget and Scranton Standard, will have charge of the business and circulation departments, beginning with tomorrow's issue. Messrs. John Brown and H. Jules Mailoux will continue in their respective positions. The Sunday News by its general excellence has been making rapid strides recently and it is probable that the infusion of new blood will lend additional life to the enterprise.

WISHARD AND GALEY WILL SPEAK. The young men of Scranton will have the opportunity and pleasure of seeing and hearing Luther D. Wishard and Robert R. Galey at the hall of the Young Men's Christian association on Sunday next at 2:45 p. m.

The athletic young men of this city do not have to be told about "Bob Galey," the great center rush of the Princeton foot ball team, and of the All American Eleven, and it has no doubt they will pack the Young Men's Christian association hall and the First Presbyterian church to see and hear him.

The talk at Young Men's Christian association hall will be illustrated with the stereopticon and Mr. Wishard, who will conduct the service and also fill the pulpit of the First church in the morning, will tell of "The Young Men of Asia," in his usually interesting way.

Mr. Galey will speak in the First church in the evening. I hope to see a great gathering of young men to welcome these brothers beloved at all the services.

Dying Man Grasps at a Straw.

"Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart has done so much for me, that I feel I owe it to suffering humanity to give testimony. For years I had smothering spells, pains in my left side, and swollen ankles. When I took the first dose of Dr. Agnew's Heart Cure, my friends thought I was dying. It gave me almost instant relief, and six bottles entirely cured me."—Mrs. F. L. Lumsden, Scranton, Pa. POLICE LAND SOME MUCH-WANTED MEN

THE SUSPICIONS PROVED CORRECT

The Crime Had Been Laid at Their Door and Their Arrest Proves Them to Be the Guilty Parties--Man Wanted in McKeesport for Attempted Murder is Caught Here. Bold Boy Thief Caught Robbing a Store in Daylight.

Three crooks who are undoubtedly guilty of the Schlager burglary of last Friday night and the two Adams avenue burglaries of the week before, were yesterday gathered in by the police. They are Jack Harris, a former barkeeper at the White House, on Penn avenue; Mike Murphy, alias "Sheezy Mike," who is a new comer to these parts; and another man whose name is unknown, but who was called Joe by one of his companions.

The trio have been under police surveillance for about a month past. Murphy and his companion came to this city about the middle of April and from their general appearance and the fact that they picked up with Harris they were considered worthy of being watched.

When the Adams avenue thieving was done these worthies were at once suspected. They were not to be found, however, the next day, and it is supposed they got out of town. They were not reported being seen again by any of the officers until one week ago last night, when the central city patrolman ran across them in several places. That night the burglary at Schlager's bicycle store and repair shop occurred. The police were positive it was this trio in question that did the job and diligent search was made for them.

SEEN YESTERDAY.

They had, however, taken to their heels and nothing was seen of them again until yesterday afternoon when they were seen coming in from the north. They were seen going into Toby's store on Penn avenue. He telephoned for Lieutenant Davis and the two officers started across the street to get them. The crooks at sight of the officers coming in their direction broke across the street and ran into the hotel to Raymond court. The officers ran around to the court and succeeded in heading them off and placing them under arrest.

At the station house they were searched and a knife that Mr. Schlager identified as one of the lot stolen from his store was found on the prisoner "Joe." He said he bought it from a tramp in a freight car at Carbonate. This was all that any of them would say. The police claim to have other evidence that will prove beyond a doubt that these are the Schlager burglars.

SMALL BOY THIEF.

While Officer Dyer was standing on Spruce street near Penn avenue, yesterday, a small boy came along and attracted attention through the side door of Blosser's notion store on his hands and feet. The lad crawled alongside of a counter and helped himself to some knives and then came out again slipping himself along a street foremost. He was grabbed as he was about to straighten up and run and taken to the station house. He proved to be Johnnie Jones, 12 years old, of Academy street, who was arrested last winter for stealing a pair of pants from Chief Robling's porch. It is likely he will be sent to a reformatory.

BURIAL OF J. S. FERGUSON.

Services in Charge of the Masons Conducted Yesterday.

The funeral of the late John S. Ferguson was held yesterday afternoon and was attended by many friends, including a contingent from Hyde Park lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, of which the deceased was a member. Services were held at 2:30 o'clock in the Second Presbyterian church, Rev. Charles Robinson, D. D., officiating.

Dr. Robinson preached a beautiful sermon on the theme "Have Faith in God." Miss Black and Miss Garagan, of the church quartette, sang during the service. The selections were "After," "Some Sweet Day," and "O, Morning Light." Professor J. M. Chance, the church organist, played Beethoven's funeral march as the mourners entered the church. After the ceremony the friends viewed the remains as they reposed in a handsome casket at the altar. There were several beautiful floral testimonials, a square and compass, from Hyde Park lodge of Masons; a scroll from Cour de Leon commandery, Knight Templars; and another design from Lackawanna chapter, No. 105, Free and Accepted Masons.

The services at Forest Hill cemetery were in charge of the Masons, A. B. Stevens reading the rites. The pallbearers were: Charles Cortess, J. M. Eaton, E. B. Carey, E. L. Buck, T. J. Luce and F. L. Brown; honorary pallbearers, Robert McKenna, sr., David Zink, William Conwell and Albert Zink. The flower-bearers were: Charles E. Lanning, W. J. Meares, W. B. Thomson and W. J. Jones. G. W. Jenkins acted as usher and A. B. Holmes was marshal of the lodge.

DON'T WANT STOCK SOLD.

Action in Equity Brought Against Directors of the Scranton Steel Company in United States Court.

Walter Seranton, Robert S. Ives, Henry Stoddard, Edward L. Dana, Carlos French, Louis H. Bristol, John W. Bristol, Henry L. Hotchkiss and Charles L. Johnston, stockholders of the Scranton Steel Company, instituted suit before Judge Acheson, in the United States circuit court at Pittsburg Thursday, against the Scranton Steel Company, W. W. Seranton, William Conwell, Henry Stoddard, B. Sturgess and E. P. Kingsbury, directors thereof, to restrain them from selling in a block, as it is alleged is contemplated, $750,000 par value stock of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel Company, which is the stock left of the Scranton Steel Company.

The plaintiffs claim that should this huge block of stock be placed upon the market at the present time of depression it must necessarily be sold at a great sacrifice.

The affidavits of a large number of the stockholders were presented, in which they aver that they do not want the stock sold as proposed, but wish that it be disposed of among the stockholders.

Judge Acheson granted a rule, returnable next Thursday, to show cause why an injunction should not issue restraining the defendants from selling the stock and a preliminary stay was granted enjoining them not to dispose of the stock in the meantime.

SUDDEN DEATH OF JAMES M. EVERHART

Expired in the Arms of His Brother, Dr. Everhart, Last Night.

NEURALGIA OF HEART THE CAUSE

He Had Been Ill for About a Week, but Was Able to Be About Yesterday and Went to His Brass Works on Cliff Street--Sketch of His Busy, Active Life--Arrangements for the Funeral Not Yet Made.

James M. Everhart, the well-known business man and capitalist, died last night very suddenly at the home of his brother, Dr. I. F. Everhart, on Franklin avenue, with whom he had lived for twenty-seven years. Mr. Everhart was 69 years of age and his death was due to neuralgia of the heart.

THE EFFECTS OF THE ATTACK.

Yesterday he was able to leave the house and went down to his brass works on Cliff street and supervised his business affairs there.

Last evening he chatted pleasantly with his brother and the members of the latter's family and about 7:15 went with his brother into the latter's office in the south wing of the building. He soon complained of a pain in the region of the heart and said that he would go to his room and lie down for a time.

He stood up and Dr. Everhart noticed him waiver for a moment and then he fell into his brother's arms. Dr. Everhart called for assistance but before it was possible to reach him the sufferer on a couch the vital spark had died. Mr. Everhart still resting in the arms of his brother.

SKETCH OF MR. EVERHART.

James Monroe Everhart was born in Berks county, this state, June 7, 1828. His father was a tanner and a lineal descendant of a royal family of Germany. He could trace his lineage back to the thirteenth century when his ancestors were rulers of a portion of what is now the German empire. James M. Everhart was educated in the common schools until his health broke down when he entered his father's tannery and after learning the business thoroughly and recovering his health he entered New London academy from which he was graduated with honors in 1848.

He then entered his uncle's store in West Chester, where he remained for two years, when he accepted a position with a jobbing house in Philadelphia. In 1853 he went to Pittston to look after land owned by his father in that vicinity, and during the civil war assisted in repulsing the invasion of Pennsylvania by Lee's troops. In 1867, accompanied by his brother, Dr. Everhart, he made a tour of Europe, and in 1873 he removed to this city and bought an interest in the Scranton Brass works. A year later he became the sole owner of it, and has been its proprietor ever since.

In 1889 he took a trip to Central America in the interest of the Santa Lucia Silver Mining company, in which he was largely interested, and in 1891 he went to Europe to settle certain difficulties that had arisen with the foreign stockholders of the company. Four years later he made a tour of British America, Alaska, Oregon, Washington, California, Utah and Colorado and spent some time examining gold and silver mines in these places.

He was president of the Everhart Coal company and a managing director of the Mount Jesus Coal company and the Moosic Mountain Coal company. He was a director of the Drop Forge works, and Moosic Mountain Railroad company, and one of the incorporators of the Traders' National bank.

SOLDIER BOYS LEAVE US.

They Have Gone to Philadelphia to Participate in Dedication of the Washington Monument.

By this time the people of the greatest city of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the thousands of others who have flocked hither to witness the unveiling of the Washington monument in Fairmont park, are permitted to feast their eyes upon the finest body of the soldiery that goes to make up the National guard of the aforesaid greatest commonwealth in the Union.

The regiment in question left here yesterday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock from the Delaware and Hudson station. It required eleven cars to carry the soldiers and their baggage, and the horses which some of the field and staff took along with them might not again undergo the humiliation of straddling prancing charges that stop every time they hear a bell rung or when they see a girl coming out of a house with a milk picher.

The cars were furnished by the Lehigh Valley company, over whose lines the greater part of the journey will be made. From Scranton the route was over the Delaware and Hudson to Wilkes-Barre; thence over the Lehigh Valley to Penn Junction, where the Reading was taken for Philadelphia. The regiment was landed at the Reading terminal station, whence they paraded to the First Regiment armory corner of Broad and Callowhill streets, where they are to be quartered with the Eighth regiment.

The companies turned out in good numbers and will no doubt make an excellent showing in today's parade. Colonel H. A. Courson, Lieutenant Colonel C. C. Mattes, Major George H. Whitney, of the First Battalion; Major F. W. Stillwell, of the Second Battalion; Regimental Adjutant L. T. Mattes, Adjutant F. W. Mason, Jr., of the First Battalion; Adjutant R. W. Stratton, of the Second Battalion; Surgeons C. B. Burke and W. E. Keller and Inspector of Rifle Practice H. E. Cox, of the field and staff, all accompanied. Quartermaster W. J. Tracy went down Thursday to prepare things in advance.

Each company commander was in attendance with the exception of Captain Frank Robling, Jr., of Company C, whose duties as chief of police would not permit of his making the trip. First Lieutenant W. A. Raub had charge of the company.

Raue's band was taken along and with the regiment's excellent drum corps will furnish music that is safe to say will not be far from being as good as the best that will be heard along the line of march.
