WITH HIS WIFE IN AN AIR-SHIP.

Inventor Beam Will Try Sky Naviga tion to Ligonier. Altoona, May 18 .- Away through th akies to Ligonier and return Abras Bean and his wife expect to sail his new air ship from his home the mountain town of Boucher, west moreland county, on Thursday next. They will be propelled by compressed air applied to a fan, and expect to be kept aloft by means of a parachute adjustable to any wind velocity. For a year Mr. Beam has been working on his unique invention, and he has so much confidence in the effective ness of his aerial contrivance that, on top of McIntyre's Hill just above Roucher, a tower is being built, from the top of which the machine will be started, and doubly forcible evidence of his confidence of success is indicated by his determination to take Mrs. Beam along.

He has kept his invention a profound secret until just before its first crucial flight; but those who know him hasn't a doubt that the count can sail from Roucher to Ligorier and return.
