CITY NOTES.

Letters testamentary were yesterday granted John T. Barrett, on the will of the late Ann Lynton, of Archbald.

An adjourned meeting of Lackawanna Presbytery will be held in the 2-nd Street Second Presbyterian church on Thursday, May 29, at 7:30 p. m.

Marriage licenses were yesterday granted to Louis Connor and Minnie Johnson, of Scranton; Thomas Dowling and Annie Hinchey, of Scranton; William T. Goshoff, of Carbondale; and Augusta Howell, of Archbald.

The Sunday school and congregation of Grace Reformed Episcopal church have made arrangements to hold their annual basket picnic at Lake Ariel, Tuesday, June 29. They wish their friends to make note of the date and arrange to go with them.

Gertie West for a time conducted an establishment in Center street that was visited by the police one night and Gertie was arrested for keeping a disorderly house. When her trial came on in criminal court she failed to appear and her bail was forfeited. Yesterday Gertie returned to the city after a year's absence and walked right into the arms of Lieutenant Davis. She was locked up.

A new delivery wagon, owned by Miss Early, who conducts a bakery at 25 Penn avenue, was badly wrecked on Adams avenue early yesterday morning. The wagon, which was loaded with flour, was driven by a man whose identity could not be ascertained. The driver fled his horse directly in front of the delivery outfit which was descending the hill on the proper side of the street. He then, the delivery driver, was thrown to the pavement and slightly hurt.

Kate Regan, 18 years of age, came to the city some time ago from her home, in Dalton. At noon yesterday she was arrested on Lackawanna avenue in a pitiful condition of intoxication and when she met Patrolman Feeney and L. F. Jones, she begged that they would look her in the station house. She was taken before Chief Robling and for a time was placed in the woman's ward. In the afternoon Miss Keiser, nurse in charge of the Board of Charities, took charge of the girl and had her placed temporarily in the House of the Good Shepherd.

MEMORIAL DAY ORDER.

Issued by P. J. McAndrew, Commander of Post 319, G. A. R.

To the members of Col. W. N. Monies post, 218, Grand Army Republic, and to all veterans of the late war:

The time is nearly here when we will again assemble around the graves of our comrades who have fallen for their reward, and pay our tribute of respect to their memories in placing upon each mound the choicest of flowers. It is also need that we should assemble in some church and there receive our news, to Hiney, who received the victory. Our post has been invited to attend the Penn Avenue Baptist church on Sunday evening, May 23, 1897, and we hope every member will be at his post wearing the full Grand Army Republic uniform. If you cannot do this come without, and bring your old comrades. Ladies' circle, No. 19, of the Grand Army Republic, are especially invited to accompany the post, also all sons of veterans. The post will assemble at the post room at 6:30 p. m. sharp, Sunday, May 23, 1897. By order of P. J. McAndrew, Commander. L. Grever, adjutant.

MISS PARLOA'S TALK ON ART OF COOKING

She Gave a Number of Very Practical Suggestions at Yesterday's Session.

SPOKE OF ALBUMINOUS MATTER

In Their Natural Conditions Albumens Are Liquid, but Some Are Solid and Some Have a Consistency Between the Two--Heat Has the Power of Coagulating Nearly All Albuminous Substances--Interesting Illustrations with Milk and Eggs

The seventh lecture in the series of twelve on domestic economy by Miss Marie Parloa was delivered yesterday afternoon before a fair sized audience in the Young Men's Christian association auditorium. The subject was "Cooking and the Principles Underlying It." Miss Parloa illustrated her remarks with practical demonstrations. She began her talk by speaking of the principle of cooking. Miss Parloa advised her pupils to study the subject and make home tests.

"There is no knowledge like experimental knowledge," said Miss Parloa, "and all you may get by listening or reading will avail but little unless it is put into practice. Theory is a good thing but it must be wedded to practice to do much good." The lecturer then discussed albuminous matter.

It is of various kinds and is found in animal and vegetable substances. In their natural conditions albumens are liquid but some are solid and some have a consistency between the two. Coagulation is one of the properties of albumen and heat has the power of coagulating nearly all albuminous matter. Miss Parloa's remarks on milk were very interesting. She said: "The casein of milk does not coagulate when subjected to heat, but if the milk be heated to 100 degrees and an acid be added it will coagulate as in the case when we make ricotta curd. This solidified mass will be soft creamy and digestible."

PRODUCT WILL BE DIFFERENT.

"If the milk be raised to the boiling point and we add the acid the albumen will be coagulated, but the product will be quite different from that which we get by adding acid to the milk at 100 degrees. The higher temperature hardens the albumen, which separates from the water, thus giving us a curd and whey. The longer the cooking is continued at this high temperature, the tougher will become the curd and the clearer the whey."

"The fibrine in blood coagulates on exposure to the air and also when subjected to heat. Albuminous substances, such as gelatin, when heated in water, the boiling liquid will be soft and digestible. When cooked at a temperature of 212 degrees or over the albumen becomes hard and indigestible. The purer the albumen," stated Miss Parloa, "the more marked is this condition."

In illustrating the point the lecturer used a quantity of milk and eggs. An interesting fact which was demonstrated was that the curd from skim milk is much tougher than that made from whole milk and if a little cream be added to the milk the curd will be still softer.

The white of an egg is almost pure albumen while the yolk contains nearly twice as much fatty matter as it does albumen. Miss Parloa then told of the albuminous substances in meats. Miss Parloa exhibited pieces of meat to show the several kinds of tissues and material and what they mean in cooking. An interesting demonstration was the placing of a piece of meat into water. The water became dark colored while the meat paler. The rest of the experiment is stated in her, Miss Parloa's, own words.

IT TASTES INSIPID.

"Now I will heat a portion of the liquid to nearly the boiling point, say 150 degrees. I taste it and find that it is rather insipid, but on adding a little salt I find the flavor pleasant."

"You will notice the liquid which, before it was heated was clear and dark, has now become lighter and cloudy, with a flaky substance floating through it. I will now return the hot liquid to the saucepan and heat it to the boiling point, letting it boil for a few minutes. As it boils a froth or foam rises to the top. If I should let this boil for some time under a little of this froth would appear and it would gradually change to a dark stringy substance and the liquid would become clearer."

"This dark, unwhiting frothy matter is the same which we saw as a flaky substance, when the liquid was heated to about 150 degrees, and is the albumen which was taken from the meat by the water. The low temperature of about 112 degrees has hardened it and made it indigestible. This is what happens when lean meat, poultry, fish or eggs are subjected to a high temperature for any length of time."

"I will now show you the effect of heat on the white of an egg, which is almost pure albumen. I will cook one egg at a temperature much below the boiling point and another at the boiling point. By the first method the white of the egg coagulates into a soft creamy mass. By the second a horny, indigestible substance is produced."

Miss Parloa afterward showed the effect of heat on the egg substances. The science of boiling, how to boil, to stew, to broil, etc., were explained by the lecturer. In speaking of meats Miss Parloa said that it is a pity mutton is not liked as it is nutritious, easy to digest and inexpensive. She gave a hundred and one hints on the matter of meats and their several degrees of nutrition. The latter part of the lecture was taken up in giving very valuable hints for the preparation of dishes. This feature was probably as beneficial as any of Miss Parloa's previous instructions.

The eighth lecture, which will be delivered Thursday afternoon will be upon "The Characteristics of French Cooking." The lecture will begin at 2:30 o'clock instead of 3 o'clock, as it has been formerly. Miss Parloa last evening gave an interesting lecture at the South Side branch of the Young Women's Christian association.

WILL BUY AN AIR COMPRESSOR.

New Method for Getting Water in Hillside Home Reservoir.

William S. Langstaff, president, and Directors F. L. Fuller, Reese G. Brooks and W. A. Paine, home committee of the Scranton poor board, visited the Hillside home yesterday to look over the damage done by last week's fire. As was noted in The Tribune the building over the pump house and the engines which furnished the water from the artesian well were destroyed and since the conflagration the water power of the home has been very weak.

Immediate action was necessary and yesterday's visit of the committee resulted in the final plans. In the place of the machinery formerly used in pumping at the home the committee decided to purchase an air compressor to force water from the artesian well which is 125 feet deep to the reservoir. The introduction of this force will remove the necessity of a protecting shed and none will be built in the place of the building which was destroyed last week.

ACCIDENTS IN THE MINES.

Three Mine Employees Injured in as Many Mines Yesterday.

Martin Hollenway, a miner in the Bellevue mine, was injured yesterday by a fall of rock. He was taken to the Lackawanna hospital. Hollenway is a middle-aged man whose home is in Bellevue. His injuries are not serious. John Leske, employed as a laborer at Johnson's mine, was slightly hurt yesterday by a fall of rock.

John Caffrey, a driver boy in the Pine Brook colliery, was badly injured yesterday morning in the Pine Brook colliery. Caffrey was coupling moving cars when his foot caught in a spike and the two bumpers squeezed his left leg and causing a compound fracture. He was taken to the Moses Taylor hospital.

HER MAN SLAPPED HER FACE.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, of Oakford Court Had a Disagreement.

James Simpson, colored, and his wife, Reta Simpson, also colored, who live in Oakford court, were before Alderman Millar yesterday, Mr. Simpson being the defendant.

Reta alleges that her man, James, slapped her in the face with which she carried Alderman Millar thought that James ought to be given a hearing in a higher court, so he held him under $200 bail.

AN EGG WITH THREE YOLKS.

A Hen Owned by Robert Simrell Is Responsible for It.

A Plymouth hen owned by Robert Simrell, of 524 Breakear street, has broken all records for this region.

She has, for some time been laying double-yolk eggs about once a week, but last Sunday she discounted her past efforts by laying an egg with three perfect yolks.

The egg measured seven and a quarter inches in circumference.

Detective Aehl Arrested.

Constable Henry Burschell, of the Fifteenth ward, was called upon to serve a warrant upon a detective yesterday. Sometime during the month of March last, one Frank Agil, of 511 Cedar avenue had wanted arrested by Constable Joseph Woelkers upon August Zellner, hotelkeeper. The charge against Zellner was selling intoxicants without license. The case was settled before Alderman Robbing by a payment of $15 by August Zellner to Woelkers, coached by Zellner, has had Agil arrested for "extortion" and carrying concealed weapons. Detective Aehl appeared before Alderman Daniel Moses, of the Fifteenth ward, and entered bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance in court.

Officers of Gen. Phinney Co.

At a meeting of General Phinney Engine company last night the officers of recording secretary and foreman, held by A. L. Berry, were declared vacant. F. W. Long was elected foreman and W. H. Lewis recording secretary.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, for publication, by the writer's name. The Tribune is not held responsible for opinions here expressed.]

Concerning Official Salaries.

Dear Sir: I would like to see that there is a paper in Scranton that is independent and fearless enough to stand up and proclaim the justice done the American employer of politicians. I would like to see the salaries of the sheriff's deputies of Philadelphia. The control of politicians over such men, such as favored the selfish interests of the public employees that a political job or the position of one who can sway a large number of votes is almost the only one worth having. Hence we witness increasing numbers of people after such positions.

You will say that Mr. Crow, our sheriff, can find men by an advertisement who will gladly work at the old salaries paid to deputy sheriffs in Philadelphia, but even this might not be necessary. Let him inquire of some of his men and he can find those equally competent as any deputy need be. Crow has not forgotten that there are good men about his mill who would be glad to work at $59 a year.

I would ask that justice be done to the people who "pay" the public employees and when these "people" secure such legislation as will restore the duty of industry all over the land. I would ask all independent papers and people to help us in this. I would like to see the City to secure some laws to enable us to earn more with which to pay the increasing salaries of politicians before we are compelled by the employers themselves to increase their salaries. In the language of C. L. Pullman, we will not permit our employees to dictate to us.

Respectfully yours, Thomas Yearstey, Philadelphia, May 15.

WILL BE A VERY LARGE GATHERING

Brigadier General Starbird's Orders to the Uniformed Rank, K. of P.

HE WANTS THEM ALL TO REPORT

The Great Parade Which Will Be a Feature of the Meeting of the Grand Lodge of Pythias in This City Will Be Held on Wednesday, August 18--Fine Drill Prizes Are Offered--Encampment Will Be in Laurel Hill Park.

With reference to the meeting of the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias to be held in this city in August Brigadier General W. H. Starbird has issued the following order to the uniformed rank of the Grand Lodge of Pythias in this city: Headquarters Pennsylvania Brigade, U. S. K. P., will be held in Scranton during the week of Grand Lodge session, beginning Monday, August 16, 1897, and continuing during the week. The existing arrangements for the state tents for the accommodation of all 818 Knights who shall attend, and other arrangements for the comfort and entertainment of the visiting Knights.

The committee have selected Laurel Hill park as the site for the camp, and no expense will be spared to make the camp and its arrangements a model one for comfort and convenience.

SOME GOOD PRIZES.

Pleasant action taken by the Pennsylvania Brigade at its last meeting in Cleveland in August, 1895, the first regular encampment of the Pennsylvania Brigade, U. S. K. P., will be held in Scranton during the week of Grand Lodge session, beginning Monday, August 16, 1897, and continuing during the week. The existing arrangements for the state tents for the accommodation of all 818 Knights who shall attend, and other arrangements for the comfort and entertainment of the visiting Knights.

One thousand ($1,000) dollars have been set aside for the committee for prizes, a list of which will be published in general orders in the near future. There will also be published from brigade headquarters complete information, in detail, concerning camp equipments, cost of tents, mattresses, etc.

The drill schedule will be distributed to companies as soon as published and in ample time, so that companies desiring to enter the drill contest will have plenty of time to make themselves proficient. Arrangements are being made to secure as low railroad rates as possible, but each company not desiring to make their own arrangements so far as possible and wherever they are unable to make such arrangements they will be taken care of by the headquarters, and the matter will be taken up.

Officers and Sir Knights of the Pennsylvania Brigade are urged to make this our first brigade encampment, a grand success. To do this requires that every officer and Sir Knight shall put his shoulder to the wheel. Let us make this our first brigade encampment, a grand success. To do this requires that every officer and Sir Knight shall put his shoulder to the wheel.

SOMEWHAT MIXED.

Case of Jerome Woodling against F. S. Godfrey to be Arbitrated.

The case of Jerome Woodling against F. S. Godfrey for work on the latter's barn was submitted to Alderman C. C. Donovan as arbitrator yesterday. Alderman De Lacy, of the Seventh ward, had previously decided the suit in favor of the plaintiff, but when Mr. Godfrey appealed it was agreed to arbitrate.

Three arbitrators were chosen, but Mr. Donovan was the only one on hand yesterday and he was agreed upon as sole arbitrator. He is also a member of the Twelfth ward and will have to pass upon the decision of his brother alderman of the Seventh. No decision was reached yesterday.
