CITY NOTES.

Joseph Roletta was yesterday appointed deputy constable of the Third ward of Archbald.

The Enterprise Social club will give a select May social at the Excelsior hall, Wyoming avenue, Thursday evening, May 27.

At St. Luke's church, Holy Thursday (Ascension Day), will be observed with celebrations of Holy Communion at 7 a. m. and 10 a. m.

William Shears, of Dunmore, and Sarah Dusen, of Scranton; Joseph Matthews, of Greensboro, and Electa Smith, of Greensboro, Pike county, were granted marriage licenses yesterday.

Peaton Taylor, the negro who jumped sixteen feet from a window in Alderman Howe's office Monday afternoon, was arraigned yesterday and was sent to the county jail for thirty days.

There will be an ice cream festival this evening in St. Paul's church parlors, Green Ridge, the proceeds to be given to the parish poor. It will be devoted to the St. Vincent de Paul society.

An amicable action in ejectment to establish title to a lot of land in Olyphant was yesterday begun between Mattilda Neely and D. G. Jones, assignee, as plaintiffs, and W. H. Campbell, as defendant.

A man named Igo, of Minocks, and his three mother-in-laws, who are 62, 63 and 64 years old, were sent to Philadelphia yesterday by the Scranton Associated Charities. They will be charges of the poor authorities in Philadelphia. Igo was unable to pay rent here. His few household goods were sold and he was turned out of doors.

Charles Brown, colored man, was a prisoner before Alderman Millar yesterday morning charged with following George Thompson, another colored man, with a knife. The case was in Jackson's pool "parlors" on Penn avenue Monday night. Brown and Thompson got into a game of pool and afterward into a quarrel. Thompson drew a cue and threatened to strike Brown, whereupon the latter chased him with a knife in his hand. Brown entered bail, but the case was afterward settled.

HORNEY BORROWED TWO DOLLARS.

Then He Adopted a New Method of Avoiding Payment.

George Horney, of Marshwood, was before Alderman Millar yesterday afternoon on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses and assault and battery. Mrs. Mary Thomas, also of Marshwood, was the prosecutrix. From the testimony given at the hearing it appears that last April Horney borrowed $2 from Mrs. Thomas. Last Saturday she demanded payment and it was refused.

Mrs. Thomas was angry and in leaving Horney's house she slammed the door with such right good will that a small mirror was jarred from a shelf and broken. The mirror was worth about 25 cents, but Horney fixed its value at $20, and had Mrs. Thomas arraigned before justice of the Peace Cummings on a charge of malicious mischief. She was held in $500 bail for her appearance at court.

Saturday night Mrs. Thomas went to Horney's house and offered to replace the broken glass. Horney put her out of the house and assaulted her. He was required by Alderman Millar to furnish bail on both charges for his appearance at court.

LOCAL WHEEL WHIRLS.

This weather has a chilling effect on the order of the cyclists.

Local racing men are anxiously awaiting the Wilkes-Barre races, which occur on Saturday. It will be the first "W" meet in this region.

The Green Ridge Wheelmen will hold a smoker tomorrow evening. This will be the first social event under the care of the new social committee, of which Horhart Hayden is chairman.

Scranton racineers have made many changes in their mounts this season. Coleman will ride an "Olive"; Marsh a "Steers"; Strong a "Sterling"; Gregory, Ketchum and Zoonie the "Spaulding"; while White will do his work on a home-made wheel, "The Barker."

A large crowd of enthusiasts will go down to Wilkes-Barre on the noon train Saturday to attend the cycle races.

The '77 National meet at Philadelphia will no doubt attract many wheelmen from this section on account of its proximity. In the past many wheelmen hereabouts who have been prevented from attending any of these great annual round-ups on account of the expense.

EVENTS OF THE DAY IN THE COURTS

Dispute Over Title to Sell Land in Old Forge Township.

WHAT MRS. LALLY WANTS DONE

Asks Court to Restrain Mrs. Moran from Selling the Property and Wants the Deed Reformed—The Turnpike Case—Handley Executors Allowed to Borrow—City Solicitor Torrey's Action with Reference to the Luzerne Street Damage Cases.

The case of Frank Wheeler against John and Catherine McAndrews was concluded at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and Judge Archbald then called up the case of Mary Lally against Mary Moran and her husband, Frank Moran. This case comes from Old Forge and grows out of a dispute over the ownership of a lot of land on William street, in Smithfield. The plaintiff alleges that she and Mrs. Moran bought the land jointly for $150, each paying one-half the purchase money. It was agreed that they should improve it and jointly enjoy the results.

Mrs. Lally looked after the securing of tenants and collecting of rents from 1887 the time of the purchase, until January 1, 1896, when it is alleged the defendants, by fraud and collusion, induced the tenants to pay the rent to them, and since then Mrs. Lally has received no returns from the property. She now asks court to restrain the defendants from selling the property as she alleges they contemplate and compel them to reform the deed which they hold so that it will acknowledge her one-half interest.

It was only an agent. The defendants aver that the parol agreement which Mrs. Lally alleges never took place and that the only interest she ever had in the property was as an agent to look after the rents. Attorneys C. Conroy and John H. Horner represent Mrs. Lally and Attorney E. H. Burns and M. J. Donahoe appear for the Morans.

The attorneys for the Providence and Abington Turnpike company made a motion in open court yesterday to quash the proceedings recently brought to condemn the road and free it from taxation.

ESCAPE WAS MIRACULOUS.

Arthur Saunders' Thrilling Escape in the Marvino Mine.

Arthur Saunders, employed as a laborer in the Marvino mine had an experience yesterday that he is not likely to forget for many a day. He was seated in the chamber in which he works waiting the coming of a car when a large piece of coal weighing a ton and a half fell upon him.

Workmen removed him from beneath the mass as quickly as possible and were surprised when they found he was not dead. He was removed to his home on Bright avenue, where he was examined by a physician. There was not the slightest outward trace of an injury but it is feared that Mr. Saunders is seriously hurt internally.

ONLY SEVEN APPEARED.

Democrats' Joint Session of Councils to Elect a City Solicitor Proved to Be a Sad Fizzle.

Last night was the time to which the Democratic joint session of councils of three weeks ago adjourned after it had failed to elect ex-Senator McDonald, city solicitor.

Apparently the McDonald men did not take much stock in the move for when 8 o'clock rolled around there were only seven of them there. Messrs. Gilroy, Sweeney, Neome, Nealis and Norton, of common council, and Messrs. Beemer, captain general; B. G. Uthman, prelate; Samuel Costlett, senior warden; W. J. Henwood, junior warden; A. J. Pitman, first guard; Harold P. J. Shires, Leonard Sharp, William T. Ung, Frank Henry, George Robinson, C. F. Sausenbach, Seth Waters, E. S. Warfel and Harrison Davis.

EVERYBODY ADMITS

that the Scranton is by far the best newspaper in Northeastern Pennsylvania. Why not get the best? Scranton costs a month is the price. Cheap enough isn't it?

McAndrew and McCann, of select council.

Clerk Mahon called the roll, repeating the names of the selectmen from memory as he had no roll book, and then, on motion of Mr. Nealis, adjournment was made until the first Tuesday in July, the date to which the regularly organized joint session originally adjourned.

NEIGHBORS AT WAR.

Mrs. Kellerman Says Some Caustic Things About Mrs. Kauffsky.

Mrs. Gwen Kellerman, of the South Side, was arrested Monday night by Special Officer Mink and held in $500 bail by Alderman Storr, of the Nineteenth ward, for her appearance at court, on a charge of assaulting and battering Mrs. Christine Kauffsky.

At the hearing Mrs. Kellerman related a good deal of ancient history about Mrs. Kauffsky. That woman, she said, is now living with her fifth husband, she further remarked that it had been Mrs. Kauffsky's boast that when she wants to get rid of her fifth spouse she can send him to jail as she has his predecessors.

To these charges the prosecutrix made no reply. The Kellermans and Kauffskys reside in the same house on the South Side.

Knights of Malta Have an All-Night Session for Installation.

SIXTY-THREE MEMBERS OBLIGATED

Degrees Conferred and Work Exemplified by Grand Recorder George H. Pierce, of Philadelphia—Midnight Luncheon at Mitchell's. Something About the Strength of the Order and a Brief Sketch of Its History, Aim and Purpose.

Anthraxite commandery, No. 211, Ancient and Illustrious Order Knights of Malta, conducted an installation last night at which sixty-three members were obligated. The ceremonies occurred in Finley's hall and continued from 7 o'clock in the evening until daybreak this morning, with the exception of an hour at midnight, when a recess was taken for luncheon.

George H. Pierce, of Philadelphia, grand recorder of the order in Pennsylvania, conferred the degrees. He was assisted by a staff consisting of O. S. Ridgeway, air knight commander; G. Hoffman, generalissimo; O. A.

THREE DAMAGE SUITS.

Miss Conger Asks $2,000 for a Broken Collar-Bone—Schwarz Was Called a Thief.

About three weeks ago while riding in one of the Mears buildings elevators Miss Bertha E. Conger was struck on the shoulder by a piece of wood which fell from an upper floor. She alleges that her collar bone was broken by the blow and now asks damages in the sum of $2,000 from John A. Mears, owner of the building. L. P. Wedeman is her attorney.

Through Vosburg & Dawson, Artimazia Francioni, yesterday brought suit for $1,000 damages against Peter Baldri, accusing Peter of representing himself as Giuseppe Baldri, a wealthy Italian land owner and gaining thereby the confidence and credit of the plaintiff. Before Baldri's false pretenses were discovered he was Francioni's debtor to the extent of $60 in money and many other obligations.

Philip Schwarz, a store keeper, of Old Forge, sued Andrew Gural for an even $8,000 because Gural called him a thief, which he avows he is not. Martin and Vidaver are his attorneys.

GRAND RECORDER PIERCE.

Beemer, captain general; B. G. Uthman, prelate; Samuel Costlett, senior warden; W. J. Henwood, junior warden; A. J. Pitman, first guard; Harold P. J. Shires, Leonard Sharp, William T. Ung, Frank Henry, George Robinson, C. F. Sausenbach, Seth Waters, E. S. Warfel and Harrison Davis.

TWENTY-FOUR EXAMINED.

Work Done in the Dunmore Election Contest.

Twenty-four witnesses were examined by the respondents in the Dunmore contest yesterday. The claim is made that eight votes were disqualified, but the contestants aver that after testimony will reduce this number considerably.

These eight were F. W. Chamberlain, Robert M. Mallon, L. M. Smith, Thomas Warg, Floyd Schoonover, Frank Dinga, William La France and Ernest Finch, of the Second district of the Third ward, who failed to show that they had paid taxes.

Others examined were A. M. Bingham, H. W. Chamberlain, C. W. Schultz, D. M. Collins, Frank Bingham, Marcus Bensley, William Hazen, D. J. Shires, Leonard Sharp, William T. Ung, Frank Henry, George Robinson, C. F. Sausenbach, Seth Waters, E. S. Warfel and Harrison Davis.

SOME OF THEM RETURNED.

Delegation of Scranton Templars Back from Easton Last Night.

A delegation of Scranton Knights Templar returned last night from Easton where yesterday they participated in the big Templar parade which was a feature of the ceremonies incident to the meeting of the grand commandery at that place. Bauer's band returned with those who came back last night.

The greater part of the Scranton Knights remained in Easton to participate in the ceremonies of last night and today.

DR. THROOP BETTER.

The railway committee of select council held a meeting in the city clerk's office yesterday afternoon and considered the ordinance granting the Scranton Railway company permission to extend its tracks on certain streets on the West Side and in the North End

IT'S AN OLD ORDER.

The Knights of Malta is a charitable and religious order which dates its birth in 1048 in Jerusalem and claims to be the most ancient knightly order in existence, being the direct and legitimate descendants of the illustrious religious and military order of the middle ages, the name of which it bears.

Its membership is confined to Protestants but it is by no means intolerant. It was transplanted to this country from Scotland in 1870 and in 1884 a grand commandery was organized here. Since that time its growth has been most rigorous and today it is one of the strongest and most influential secret societies in the United States.

Grand Recorder Pierce.

PYTHIAN OFFICERS CHOSEN.

Elected at a Meeting of Division 47 Last Night.

Division No. 47, Knights of Pythias, met last evening in Hulbert's hall and elected officers as follows: T. B. MacIntyre, captain; J. J. Reel, first lieutenant; J. G. Hodges, second lieutenant; J. M. Constance, recorder; and Gus Wenzel, treasurer. Colonel Martin Joyce presided.

Present at the meeting were Messrs. Hart and Nichols, of Philadelphia, who are in the city to secure hotel rates for the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, which will meet here during the third week in August.

Colonel Joyce invited the visitors to address the meeting which they did. The arrangements for the convention are rapidly being completed. The grand lodge alone, which Messrs Hart and Nichols represent, numbers over 500 men.

Besides this the uniformed rank will also be here. The election last night was of great importance as it named the men on whom the chief responsibility for the convention will rest.
