PERSONAL.

F. E. Davis left for Buffalo yesterday afternoon on business. Miss Mary Dougherty, of Foster, is spending a few days with friends in this city. Congressman William Connell has returned after a few days' rest at Lake Henry. Inspector of Rifle Practice H. B. Cox, of the Thirteenth regiment, is in New York city. James Corcoran, of Archbald, is spending a brief time with his daughter, Mrs. William O'Connor, of Dunmore. Mrs. Josephine Whitney, of Honesdale, after a brief stay with friends in this city, left yesterday for a visit in the Wyoming Valley. Mrs. James B. Lewis returned yesterday to Kingston after a brief visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reynolds, of Hampton street. Rev. Dr. Price, formerly pastor of the Adams Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, passed through the city yesterday on his way to lecture in Binghamton. Charles S. King, Jr., and Miss Bertha Stevenson, both of this city, were married Wednesday by Rev. W. J. Ford, pastor of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church. Mayor's secretary, R. J. Beamish, who was severely injured in a bicycle breakdown last Saturday, was at his desk in the city hall for a brief time yesterday. His face and hands bear unmistakable evidences of his mishap.

OVERTURNED THE COACH.

Heap of Stones and Sand on Jefferson Avenue May Cause Trouble. At 8:30 o'clock last night Tom Bright, employed at Payne's livery, was driving a coach down Jefferson avenue, and when passing on the right side of the avenue, nearly midway in the block the horses ran squarely into a heap of stones and sand that had been allowed to stand on the street by the builders of a house at that point. The coach was overturned and Bright, the driver, thrown to the pavement. He managed to retain hold of the reins, however, and control the horses. Bright was uninjured but the coach—a new one—was badly scratched and one of the lamps smashed. There was no light on the pile and the place is darkened by shade trees, the driver says.

THREE PATROLMEN ADDED TO FORCE

Men Nominated by Mayor Bailey Confirmed by Select Council.

THE DEMOCRATS MADE OBJECTIONS

Fought Confirmation on Technical and Other Grounds—Central Pennsylvania Telephone Company Given Permission to Lay Its Wires Under Ground—Phoenix Hose House to Be Put in Sanitary Condition.

Another spectacle of Republican councilmen bolstering a Democratic administration and a handful of Democrats trying to move the wishes of the mayor they helped to elect was witnessed in select council last night, in considering the mayor's nominations of James F. Quinnan, Thomas Watkins and John J. Puester to police patrolmen. Thanks to the "royal leaven" Republicans the nominations were confirmed.

The meeting also witnessed the giving away of an underground wire franchise by Republicans and Democrats without any conditions whatever to the Central Pennsylvania Telephone company. President Sanderson and Mr. Lansing debated against this last measure and voted against it, along with Mr. Thomas and Mr. Robinson, Mr. Chittenden taking no part in either the debate or voting, as he is interested in the telephone company.

Mr. Finn, as chairman of the police committee, reported favorably the mayor's nominations. Mr. Chittenden (R.) and Mr. Manning (D.) moved that they be confirmed. Mr. Burns (D), as one of the committee, stated that it had met in "snap" session at 7 o'clock, and that he had no knowledge that anyone but Mr. Finn approved the appointments.

Mr. Roche (D) raised the question of legality, said councils had no right to confirm appointments of additional policemen even though the appropriation ordinance provided for their salaries, said a half-dozen attorneys had told him that the ordinance ordinance was defective and that confirmation was deferred to await the opinion of the city solicitor. Mr. Roche's motion was lost by the following vote: Ayes—Kearney, Clark, Roche, McCann, Burns, McAndrew (all Democrats)—4 votes. Nays—Ross (R.), Finn (R.), Thomas (R.), Williams (R.), Durr (R.), Chittenden (R.), Wagner (R.), Robinson (D.), Laney (D.), Fellows (R.), Schroeder (R.), Lansing (R.), Frable (D.), Coyne (D.), Sanderson (D)—15 votes.

CONSIDERED SEPARATELY.

The original motion to confirm was renewed and Mr. Frable raised a point of privilege and asked that the nominations be considered separately. The chair declared the point well taken and Mr. Chittenden and Mr. Manley moved that Puester's nomination be first voted upon. Mr. Roche said Puester was the third on the list and that the members were resorting to a sharp practice. The vote to consider Puester's nomination was 14 to 7 in favor. Mr. Frable (D) changing his vote to the minority. Puester was then confirmed by the same vote of 14 to 7.

Ayes and nays were called on the motion to confirm the nomination of Watkins and the vote was 15 to 6 in favor. Messrs. Kearney, Clark, Roche, McCann, Burns and McAndrew voting "nay."

Quinnan was confirmed by a viva-voce vote. Later in the meeting under the third order of business Mr. Roche called upon the third reading of the ordinance originally introduced by him giving the Central Pennsylvania Telephone company a conduit franchise. The ordinance permits the company to lay pipes or mains for the passage of wires underground, to erect poles and stretch wires "over and above" the ground, and, in fact to occupy the city's streets at will without any provision compelling the company to remove its overhead wires.

Mr. Sanderson called Mr. Williams to the chair and moved that the members go into committee of the whole to consider an amendment he had to offer. Mr. McCann asked what the amendment was. He was told by Mr. Sanderson that it proposed to offer the amendment by the fact that nowhere in the ordinance was there any provision that present wires and cables should be placed in the proposed conduits; that the ordinance simply added to the present franchise by giving the additional one of an underground system and that the company would have the right to maintain their overhead system and the city to have no recourse; that the myriad of overhead wires is already a menace to public safety in case of fires rendering it almost impossible to raise ladders or to approach some buildings as near as safety demands, and that the council had no right, with due regard to public welfare, to thus deliberately give way the last hope of control.

Mr. Sanderson further stated he had been informed it is the company's intention to place their wires in the conduits, but didn't like the idea of compulsion. His reply was that what the company intended to do, they should not object to agreeing to do, otherwise the suspicion of insincerity was justified.

Mr. Sanderson's amendment was as follows: "Amend by adding the following proviso after section 1, viz: 'And provided further that as soon as may be practicable after the conduit, duct or pipe is laid in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, all overhead wires or cables on the street, court or place, or part thereof, under which said conduit, duct or main or pipe is laid shall be removed and placed in the conduit, etc., so laid.'"

Mr. Roche remarked that Mr. Lansing had said at a previous meeting that the company had no right to maintain its wires and poles on the street and so, said Mr. Roche, it was idle to assume a position that the wires would not be put in the conduits.

WHAT HE DID SAY.

Mr. Lansing, who had previously taken no part in the debate, remarked: "The resolution from the Seventh is not correct in his statement. What I said was that the company had never been given any rights by ordinance. It seemed to be the disposition of councils—and does now—to allow the ordinance to become operative without putting the company under any obligation to make a proper use of a valuable privilege. The city's rights in the matter are entirely neglected and it is to the shame of councils not to ask even reasonable rights."

The ordinance then passed third reading. Messrs. Sanderson, Lansing, Thomas and Robinson, all voting "nay" and Mr. Chittenden not voting. Mr. Ross and Mr. Wagner had left the meeting.

The ordinance granting the Scranton Railway company the privilege of extending its lines on the West Side and in the North End, also on one reading, was then halted. It provides for the following extensions: On Luzerne street, to Twenty-fourth street, to the city line; also on Washburn street, to Grant avenue, to Brockton street, to city line; also on Bromley avenue, from Sweetland street to Lafayette street; also on Lafayette street, from Bromley avenue to Van Buren avenue; also on Sweetland street, from end of present track, to Rebecca avenue; on Pettibone street, also on West Market street, from Providence road to the city line.

Mr. Thomas offered an amendment providing for a route south on Rebecca avenue instead of north in order to have the tracks laid on wider streets and to avoid passing the school house on Sweetland street. A motion by Mr. Fellows that action be deferred until the railways committee could consult further with the company officials concerning the route was adopted along with a supplementary motion by Mr. Chittenden that the city solicitor be consulted relative to the city's rights in granting a franchise over West Market street, the thoroughfare that is mixed in the dispute with the Providence and Abington Turnpike company.

BICYCLE ORDINANCE.

A bicycle ordinance was introduced by Mr. Roche and referred for printing. It is entitled: "An Ordinance to Regulate the Propelling of Bicycles on the City Streets and Thoroughfares Without Bells and Lanterns and Imposing Penalties for Such Offenses." From and after the passage of the ordinance a fine of $2 for the first offense is provided and $5 for the second. It is to be collected before the mayor or any alderman as debts of like amount are now recovered by law. If the ordinance prevails a section provides that it shall be published in three city papers.

P. H. O'Horo was awarded the contract for building a sewer on Chestnut and Price street and Loneragan court.

The following nominations by the mayor were confirmed: J. M. Tompkins, Delaware, inspector of streets; Thirteenth ward; Henry T. Koehler, inspector of streets; permanent man, Neptune Engine company, vice John Mack, resigned. The nominations of William Dougherty, inspector of sewer work on Wyoming and Washington avenues, and Larch street, and Thomas Cosgrove, inspector of sewer work on Price and Chestnut streets, were referred to committees.

Inspector Nelson was directed to submit an estimate of cost for making the necessary repairs to the Phoenix Chemical house as suggested by the board of health.

OPENING OF OXFORD STREET.

City Engineer Phillips was directed to prepare plans and estimate of cost for a sewer on Von Storch avenue and Honesdale street, and to consult with Delaware, Lackawanna and Western officials regarding the opening of Oxford street.

The board of health was by resolution requested to report to councils on the sanitary condition of the old wooden block pavement on Spruce street, between Raymond court and Franklin avenue.

Mr. Ross' resolution that the $1,000 appropriated by ordinance for repairing the Driving park bridge over the Lackawanna river be forthwith expended for that purpose, started an argument which lasted half an hour. Some of the members were not at all certain that the bridge and street leading to it from the west were city property. The bridge was closed some time ago by the street commissioner on account of its unsafe condition, but it was held that this act with, possibly, a property belonging to some one besides the city was not necessarily an acceptance by the city.

On motion the matter was referred to the city solicitor and street commissioner, councils to await their conclusion as to the city's ownership. It is probable that the city was on the verge of repairing something it does not possess.

An ordinance introduced by Mr. Roche and providing for a sewer on Money avenue and Green's place in the Seventh ward, was referred to committee.

A SOUTH SIDE SEWER.

The select council ordinance providing for a sewer system on Birch, Beech and Elm streets, Wyoming avenue and other South Side thoroughfares, passed third reading.

Ordinance passed third reading for sidewalks on Division street, between Main and Hyde Park avenues, and for sidewalks and gutters on Lincoln avenue, between Price and Pettibone streets.

MR. AND MRS. KLINE ARRESTED.

Mrs. Malloy Charges Them with Assault and Battery. Yesterday Mrs. Bridget Malloy, of the North End, caused the arrest of James Kline and his wife Ellen Kline charging them with assault and battery. The two were taken before Alderman John T. Howe yesterday afternoon.

WHEELING ACROSS THE CONTINENT

Two New York Youths Who Are Taking a Long-Distance Bicycle Ride.

STARTED WEDNESDAY MORNING

Reached This City Last Evening and Will Leave This Morning for Binghamton—They Are Riding Purely for Pleasure and Adventure and Expect to Reach San Francisco About September 1—Carry Very Little Baggage with Them.

Two New York boys, bent on biking it across the continent, reached this city last evening and spent the night at Koon's hotel, 195 Lackawanna avenue. They are Edward Middleton and James Brown, aged respectively 19 and 20 years, who lived together with Middleton's parents at 217 East Forty-second street, New York city.

Unlike the usual long distance riders, they are neither going against time or a wager, nor advertising any "yellow kid" paper or bicycle firm. They are doing it for the pure love of adventure and the education it will give them.

They are lads of meagre means, and propose to rough it as much as their systems will allow, giving beef steak the preference to porter house steak and chopping wood when there are convenient hay mows.

They left Hoboken at 6:15 o'clock Wednesday morning and came by way of Port Jervis and Stroudsburg to Mt. Pocono, where they put up for the night. As they stopped to earn their dinner by chopping wood down at Tobyhanna, they did not reach here until the evening. They were billed to leave this morning at 6:30 o'clock for Binghamton, going by way of Pittston and along the Lehigh Valley. While they are on their way they are carrying a bag of hay which they can pack in a fourteen-inch square telescope.

STARTING OUT BADLY.

Vanderbilt Simpson Is an Exceedingly Wayward Youth. Vanderbilt Simpson, a colored boy, whose widowed mother lives in Raymond court, has been solving a large quantity of wild oats of late and is now in jail in consequence.

Vanderbilt a month ago was lodged in the police station because he was found by one of the city patrolmen sleeping in a hallway. He was discharged yesterday by Mayor Briggs and two weeks afterward he and several companions were arrested and taken before Alderman Howe for stealing lead pipe from the yard in the rear of Gunster & Forsyth's Penn avenue store. He was allowed to go on his own recognizance as the firm did not wish to prosecute the case.

Last Monday he was arrested by Detective Moir for stealing shoes from N. Wells' store on Penn avenue. Vanderbilt and his companions were fined $1.50 which their parents paid. Yesterday Alderman Howe recalled his ruling in the Gunster & Forsyth case and Simpson was committed to the county jail in default of $300 bail.

Last evening young Simpson was given another chance to reform. The boy's mother went to Messrs. Gunster and Forsyth and pleaded that Vanderbilt be released from jail. Her effort was so effective that not only was the boy released but the gentlemen withdrew the charge and paid the costs in the case.

CONTRACTOR MULLIGAN ARRESTED.

James Boland Makes a Peculiar Charge, Then Retracts It. Contractor Peter Mulligan was arrested yesterday on a charge preferred by James Boland who alleges that Mr. Mulligan defrauded him out of $3. Boland says he was the contractor and asked for work. Mulligan, it is alleged, told Boland that if he would pay $3 down he would be given work. Boland says that he did this but Mulligan refuses now to either give him work or return the money.

Last night Boland went before Alderman Miller and withdrew the charge. He said he made a mistake, that it was not Mulligan, but another man to whom he paid the money. He apologized to Mulligan for the annoyance he had caused him.

SECRETARY BRIGGS' TERM.

It Expires on the Board of Health in a Few Weeks. The term of Attorney Walter Briggs as secretary of the board of health expires on July 1. He is a Republican.

The board became Democratic when Mayor Bailey appointed Attorney Geo. S. Horn as a member to succeed Colonel E. H. Ripley whose term had expired. The board is the most conservative of the several municipal bodies of the city and it is not at all certain that a Democratic secretary will be appointed to succeed Mr. Briggs.

The three Democrats on the board are President M. J. Kelly, Mr. Horn and Henry J. Zeigler, and the two Republicans are ex-President James K. Bentley, M. D., and W. A. Paine, M. D. The Democratic members, it is said, have not had any conference in relation to the re-election of Secretary Briggs. There are several applicants for the position.

DAMS ARE COMPLETED.

Mt. Lookout Colliery Now Protected from the River Water. A series of dams in the Mount Lookout area in Exeter near Pittston designed to keep back the quicksand that two months ago found its way from the bed of the Susquehanna river into the mine, was completed yesterday. The construction of these safeguards is the matter of deep concern to coal operators with collieries along the Susquehanna. As will be remembered from reports printed in The Tribune at the time the quicksand settled into one of the workings of the mine and filled a space forty feet high. Blue mud from the bed of the river worked in on the top of the sand, and filling the aperture formed a perfect dam to any further settling. The owners of Mount Lookout colliery immediately set out to defend the mine from any further damage.

It was decided to build dams in the abandoned workings of the mine, and the series—nine in all—were completed yesterday after two months' work. The method in building the dams was to erect walls of masonry five feet in thickness from the bottom rock to the roof and bunk for several feet in both top and bottom.

In the construction of these walls 400,000 brick were used and 500 barrels of the best cement with sand and other necessary material were used.

The walls are so built that in the event of a flood from the river the working quarters of the mine will be safe.

CHARGES AGAINST WEISS.

Testimony with Reference to Him Laid Before Mayor Bailey. Special Officer S. Weiss has again come into possession of his "star." The star was returned to him this week by the mayor after having been taken from him for alleged misconduct in office. Yesterday afternoon the men who claim that they know Officer Weiss to their financial loss, went to the city hall and stated their grievances to the mayor.

The men and their stories are as follows: John Brazz and John Kotcha, false arrest and fines imposed in the sum of about $13 each; John Guerdick imposed upon to the amount of $16; another, who would or could not give his name, loses $20 and a load of coal as payment for the procuring of bail for him by Officer Weiss; Joseph Potts, told of a lack of $16.65, which was his until Weiss appeared.

The mayor seemed deeply surprised at the evidence given and said he would consider the matter.

HAVE GIVEN UP THE SEARCH.

The Late James M. Everhart's Will Cannot Be Found. If the late James M. Everhart had a will in existence at the time of his death he alone knew of its whereabouts. His family have gone through all his papers and have failed to find such a document.

Yesterday they gave up the search and took out letters of administration in Register Hopkins' office, his brother, Dr. I. F. Everhart, becoming administrator. John P. Scragg is attorney for the heirs.

The value of the estate is not generally known, but it is estimated that it is not much short of half a million. His brothers and sisters, five in number, are, according to law, his natural heirs, and the property will be equally divided among them.

SIX WOULD-BE LIEUTENANTS.

Physical Examination of West Point Candidates Last Night. Six candidates for the West Point cadetship presented themselves for the physical examination last night. It was conducted by Doctors Parke, Fulton and Keller, surgeons of the Thirteenth regiment, who gave them a general examination, and Dr. Murray, who treated them particularly as to their powers of vision and knowledge of colors.

The physical test was made at the suggestion of Congressman Connell, and was conducted mainly with a view of avoiding the possibility of a boy passing the mental test and then suffering the humiliation and great disappointment of being refused admission to the Academy on account of some physical defect. The examining board declined to make public the names of the candidates or whether or not any of them had failed to come for the reason that they were acting as the personal request of Mr. Connell, and felt they ought to make their report to him first.

The investigation into the mental capacity of the candidates will occur today in the board of control rooms. The examiners are: George Howell, superintendent of schools; Walter H. Buell, principal of the School of the Lackawanna, and J. C. Taylor, county superintendent of schools.
