RECEPTION LAST NIGHT.

Rendered By the Sons of America to the Brethren.

The reception featured by Camp 178, Sons of America, to Bald Mount camp, No. 528, and Taylor camp, No. 492, in Red Men's hall last evening, was a decided success. Both of the visiting camps were well represented and heartily enjoyed the entertainment provided for them. District President D. W. Phillips made the welcome address to the brethren. Recitations were given by J. Archie Jones and the Tennis quartette sang several selections. Arthur Reese played a violin solo and Ernest Scott and Fred Ginder played a duet on the harmonica and banjo.

Hugh A. Howell read an original poem and Mr. Jenkins gave an organ solo. Short addresses were made by Oscar Van Buskirk, of Bald Mount camp; President Haupt, of Taylor camp; H. C. Hinman, of 178, and several others. The principal feature of the program was then introduced. A set of gloves were produced and a great deal of fun was crowded into a few moments. Refreshments consisting of cake, fruit and lemonade were served and cigars passed.

JUNIORS ENTERTAIN.

The Junior Epworth Leaguers gave their friends a very pleasant entertainment in the church parlors of the Simpson church last evening. Despite the threatening weather there was a large attendance. The exercises of the evening were opened with a song by the League followed by a song from Miss Margery Utt. Miss Elliot acted recited in an engaging manner. Two little negroes then appeared and sang a duet which was decidedly unique. Their names are Miss Aionzonia Smith and Miss Annie Stackhouse. Miss Florence Crawford recited and Miss Edith Morgan sang. The recitations by the Misses Reba M. Sweet and Marion Hall were followed by a double quartette by four misses no four masters. Then the catchy part of the exercises came in the form of a dumb bell drill given by sixteen girls. Much care in training them had been taken by their instructor, Miss S. A. Jones. Miss Mattie M. Hughes entertained with a recitation and the Misses Annie and Elizabeth Williams sang a duet. Miss Hughes recited again and the program was brought to a close by a solo from Miss Lavina Esterle. Those present were then served with ice cream and cake by the young lady members of the league.

LAND OF GOLD AND DIAMONDS.

"The Land of Gold and Diamonds" is the subject of a lecture that will be delivered on the evening of June 8 at the First Welsh Baptist church by the Rev. James Hughes, of Kimberley, South Africa. The reverend gentleman, for the first time in this country, occupied the pulpit of this church on Sunday last, and his two sermons were most scriptural discourses. His eloquence, learning and charming simplicity greatly impressed his hearers. In his lecture he will dwell upon the resources of the "Land of Gold and Diamonds;" the climate and conditions

MIDSUMMER SUIT TALK.

The woolen fabrics of early spring have now given place to the cool, dressy linen and cotton weaves that come with each succeeding summer. This season's productions are marked chiefly by a common sense study of comfort and thrift, which will prove most gratifying to thoughtful women. Yet appearance and effect have not been lost sight of for one moment, and the swellest of well women will find enough style in the suits we are now showing to satisfy their utmost longings.

As a Matter of Economy

It is to the interest of every woman to see these suits. You couldn't begin to have them made for the money we are asking for perfectly finished, ready to wear gowns, nor could you improve on the making or styles, no matter what price you are willing to pay. We ought to know what we're talking about when we make such an assertion. We do know, and it's because of this fact that we almost insist on your coming in to look over our

Not a few styles are shown in exquisite braided effects, while some have the light, airy looking full cut sailor collar that is always suggestive of sea breezes and the ocean's beach.

Duck Suits
In pure white will also be worn by young ladies, simple in their leading characteristic and the distinctness of their get-up is simply charming.

Linen Suits
Are much lighter in weight and being of a dull, smooth finish possess a beauty all their own. Women of quite refined tastes are sure to like them, and as the styles are especially adapted to materials, the happiest results imaginable have been realized.

THE BLIND REFORMERS.

A first-class entertainment was given last evening by John F. McKay and his sister, Miss Mary McKay. Both entertainers are blind. They were to have appeared in Mears hall, but probably owing to several other affairs being held this same evening the attendance did not warrant the carrying out of the programme. The members of the Young Men's Institute came to their assistance and tendered the use of their hall and in addition gave them their services, so that what might have been a disappointment was happily averted. Mr. McKay and his sister entertained with a lengthy two part programme. They both have very fine voices, Miss McKay's being a soprano and Mr. McKay's a rich baritone and the majority of their vocal selections were chosen from classical composers. The instrumental selections, both singly and together, were enthusiastically received by the audience. Mr. McKay is an impersonator of no mean order and his delineation of the "Old Hollicker," the "Dandy" and the "Bashful Man" were very clever.

IVORITES HAVE A GOOD TIME.

Robert Morris Lodge, True Ivorites, held a social session last evening in their parlors on South Main avenue. Edwards, were served. Songs and short addresses were given by several members.

NEW CLUB HOUSE.

R. W. Tague, furniture dealer, has purchased the old Post homestead at 1124 Jackson street from Mrs. Margaret K. Post. The transfer was but recently made and Mr. Tague has now leased it to the new West Side Bicycle club. The club will hold its first meeting at the new quarters this evening. The building is a two-story brick structure, containing nine rooms. Its adaptability to the uses of the club's is unquestioned and when a few necessary alterations are completed it will be just the place for the "boys."

At the hearing before Alderman Roberts last evening a judgment for the above amount was procured against the father of the boy.
The funeral of Mrs. Thomas McCormick took place yesterday morning from her late home on Oak street. The remains were conveyed to the Holy Rosary church, where a high mass of requiem was celebrated. ## HIS AND THAT.

Mrs. W. B. Duggan, the agent for the Board of Associated Charities, had an experience Tuesday which shows that the alkali is always with us. On that day a deputy sheriff went to Mrs. Duggan's residence on the West Side. He had been over there to serve a summons and found that the man he wanted had left town. The deputy sheriff in walking over to the central city met a baker's wagon.
The deputy sheriff was saddened by the way he saw before him and gave all the loose change he had in the pocket of his overcoat, which he received with heartfelt thanks and thanks. More than this, the deputy sheriff in walking over to the central city met a baker's wagon.
"I'm Deputy Sheriff So and So," he said to the driver, "I want you to take all the loose change I have in my pocket and leave them at—" he gave the location of the house. Then the deputy sheriff turned and walked back to the central city met a baker's wagon.
Mrs. Duggan and Miss Keisel, the board's nurse, went to the house with the intention of being charitable. The former knocked at a window and there was a suspicious commotion inside, and finally the door was opened by a woman who asked if she was a pair of trousers hanging over the end of the bed in the room. The woman of the house was sitting in a corner walling and wearing a wonderful face, and the six children surrounded the two visitors.
"Here's your husband," she asked.
"None and left me six months ago," said the woman.
Again Mrs. Duggan looked around and saw a pair of well-worn, bare feet sticking out from under the bed. She said nothing but placed her chair near the feet and began to talk. She sympathized with the woman and said, "It's a shame," and to emphasize the remark brought down her foot on the bare feet of the woman, and said, "It's a shame," (another bump) and said, "It must be a worthless fellow," continued the jocular agent with another thump. "It's to be expected," she was forced to say. The conversation was continued for five or ten minutes, Mrs. Duggan punctuating her remarks with soulful thumps at the unfortunate woman.
At times she heard an encouraging groan from under the bed and a sigh when she arose to go. Before reaching the door Mrs. Duggan turned and asked the woman if she could look through the house. The permission was not granted. Mrs. Duggan then told her hostess that she might call her husband from under the bed that his presence in his disagreeable hiding place was known all along. A good stiff lecture was addressed to the woman and she was advised to give up her practice of imposing on the charitable. The kind-hearted deputy sheriff now objects to any reference to his recent charity.

DUNMORE.

On Thursday, June 10, the Dunmore council will make their customary annual tour through the borough streets for the purpose of ascertaining what progress has been made during the past year. The benefits derived from these excursions remain yet to be discovered. The Republican members made a bitter fight against this non-sense, claiming it to be a useless expenditure of borough money. At a session of the council held a few weeks ago Mr. Medway (Rep.) condemned the tour in a rather severe manner for proposing such a scheme which he only would be the gainers. The street commissioner was elected for the purpose of keeping in repair the streets, and he thought that several much needed improvements could be made which would cost very little money every year in this manner. Mr. Medway is evidently a person who means what he says, and the words uttered by him at the last council meeting seemed to have sent a shaft straight home, judging from the item published in yesterday's Dunmore column of the Times. The members of the Democratic members of the council, but they really do wish that Messrs. Ward, Walsh, Wentzel and McAllister would inform them of any good that has been accomplished in the past by these annual excursions.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Frank, of Jefferson avenue, will leave in a few days for an extended tour through the northern states and Canada.

The entertainment for the day will consist of races and games of every description. Foot races, swimming matches, boat races, etc. will be indulged in. A first class orchestra will be in attendance.
D. J. Williams, the renowned anti-user, will deliver an address before the members of the Loyal Legion this evening.
A slight blaze occurred in the house occupied by M. Moran, on Monroe avenue, yesterday. The fire started under the ceiling in the kitchen caused by a defective flue. An alarm was turned in from box 41 to which the fire companies responded. More damage was done with the water than by fire. The loss will probably reach $50.
