ONE OF TWO WAS.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble of some sort. The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need a medicine you should have the best. At drugists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention The Tribune and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

NON-SUIT WAS GRANTED.

The county commissioners yesterday approved the bond of Louis Schroeder, collector of state and county taxes, in the Eleventh ward. It was in the sum of $7,200, and had Michael Miller and John L. Schroeder as sureties.

When a man feels mean, was a case of buttons and the street car conductor wouldn't have it. He felt meaner and smaller than any other man within a radius of 128 miles of Chicago. He knew that it was not his fault, but if he could have slipped down through the floor of the street car he would have gladly taken all chances of being run over. He knew positively that he was an honest man, but if there ever was a pickpocket who felt as bad as he did at that moment the chances are that the pickpocket committed suicide. He was rather a large and dignified man, and he disliked to pose as the point of a joke for twenty or thirty people, while he felt the scornful gaze of the conductor penetrating him like an X ray. When the suspender button came off he had caught with a jolting of tripping time and again he had come home with a button off, and in answer to his wife's inquiries had been obliged to admit that he had not the faintest idea what had become of the button. And each time he lost a button thereafter he indignantly recalled his wife's remarks on the preceding occasion and wished that he could find the button. "You must think I am made of buttons," she had said once, as she hunted through her button box for something that would take the place of the one he had lost. "No," he had answered, as he thought of some of the intricacies of the feminine toilet; "not entirely." But this time he had actually caught the button just in the act of slipping from him, and his felt proud of himself. Then he slipped it into the change pocket of his overcoat. That was the trouble. The conductor held it up so that all could see it, and then handed it back with the suggestion that he had better get a new "die," as the old one was evidently worn out. Then it was that he looked to see if the flooring of the car was laid loose enough so that he could slip out between the boards, and cursed his luck when he found that it was not.

Advertisement for Globe Warehouse MIDSUMMER SUIT TALK. The woolen fabrics of early spring have now given place to the cool, dressy linen and cotton weaves that come with each succeeding summer. This season's productions are marked chiefly by a common sense study of comfort and thrift, which will prove most gratifying to thoughtful women. Yet appearance and effect have not been lost sight of for one moment, and the swiftest of well women will find enough style in the suits we are now showing to satisfy their utmost longings. As a Matter of Economy It is to the interest of every woman to see these suits. You couldn't begin to have them made for the money we are asking for perfectly finished, ready to wear gowns, nor could you improve on the making or styles, no matter what price you are willing to pay. We ought to know what we're talking about when we make such an assertion. We do know, and it's because of this fact that we almost insist on your coming in to look over our Midsummer Suit Novelties. Crash Suits. Come in Linen grounds, Cadet Blues, Pale Sea Greens, Shot Reds, etc. Some have blazer jackets, severely plain in finish, yet as carefully tailored as if they were made of the most expensive fabric procurable. Others are rich in application embroideries with harmonious insertings. Not a few styles are shown in exquisite braided effects, while some have the light, airy looking full cut sailor collar that is always suggestive of sea breezes and the ocean's beach. Duck Suits. In pure white will also be worn by young ladies. Simplicity is their leading characteristic and the daintiness of their get-up is simply charming. Separate Skirts. Can be had if you want them, but our advice is to buy suits if you contemplate wearing any of the fabrics we have named. Silk Waists. Some late season's novelties have just come to hand in black and white, blue and white, green and white small checks, also some high colored plaids of more than ordinary elegance. Some are lined, others unlined, for hot weather comfort. Ask to see them. Linen Suits. Are much lighter in weight and being of a dull, smooth finish possess a beauty all their own. Women of quite refined tastes are sure to like them, and as the styles are especially adapted to materials, the happiest results imaginable have been realized. RENEW LOST VIGOR. When in doubt what to use for Nervous Debility, Loss of Power, Impotency, Atrophy, Varicose and other weaknesses, from any cause, use Serravallo's Tonic. Drains checked, Shen, shortstop; Phillips, centre field; Dickin, second base; Flannery, left field; Ruddy, first base; McDonough, catcher; McHugh, right field.
