Men's Suits Prices Almost Cut in Two.

$6.98, $8.97, $9.98.

Thus far this season has been one of backwardness. The cool weather has affected the Clothing trade all over the country, and Summer Suits that should have long since found their way to wearers, are still on the counters. However, we can't complain, for we have suffered less than many others.

But we have too much stock-and there is too little time left to risk selling at a profit.

You will find them on the two front tables, divided into three lots at these low prices: $6.98, $8.97, $9.98.

A Glance at the window facing Lackawanna avenue will bring before you more forcibly the magnitude of the values that we are offering.

There is no other time-no other place-like now-at Samters, to buy high cost, ready-to-wear Clothing, at a mere shadow of the customary cost.

Theodore Schwarz, Chicago (ex-president American Whist league). "I should lead the four of hearts. It is a strong hand and with some assist-ance from your partner, you stand a first-class chance to make some diamonds."-George L. Bunn, St. Paul. "A first casual glance would lead on to select the trump for the opening, mak-ing the lead of the lowest. But further study reveals a better way to my think-ing. It is this: Begin with king of trumps and then lead diamond-five. Deidedly I consider this the correct and trick winning opening. It is important to find out right away whether partner can assist in the diamond suit. If he wins the trick he returns trumps (prob-ably) unless he holds only one diamond left and one or two weak trumps, when you will try him for a ruff on the third round and establish your suit. If he oses the trick, having played a high card, your suit is well nigh established; and if he loses it to a low card you will know you are not to play to bring in that suit; and you have both your low trumps to ruff clubs with it necessary. Not leading trumps at all is altogether too backward; and leading diamond-acc is weak, timid and ambitioniess,"-William S. Fenollosa, Salem. "I would develope the diamond suit, and I am one of those who advocate the ad of the fourth best from such a hold ng, consequently my lead would be the hamond-five."-P. J. Tormey, San Fran-The lead in this hand is undoubtedly the four of hearts. It would depend upor the development of the trump suit as to whether the nee or fourth best dia-mond would be led subsequently."-J. T. Mitchell, Chicago, "I think the correct opening of the hand is four of hearts."-George A, La Vie, Brooklyn. RESIST TEMPTATION.

"In my mind there is only one safe and conservative lead, the five of d.a-monds. With ace, jack, as the highest cards of your long suit there are too many chances of failing to establish it on one round to warrant the trump open-ing, tempting though it may appear."-H. M.W Wheelock, Tergus Falls. "The four of hearts."-George T. Rog-ers. Plainfield.

ers. Plainfield. "I should lead the diamond-five. It is evident that the suits are bunched and any lead might prove a winner or loser. I would find out where the strength in clubs and spades were before leading trumps."-E. Leroy Smith, Albany. "The four of hearts."-C. A. Henriques, New York. "My own view is that the hand should he opened with the diamond-five. That is the most conservative, and more liable is the most conservative, and more liable to be the best trick winning. To open a trump would be a good deal of a gam-ble. It depends a good deal on whether your partner is strong of at any rate whether the trumps are evenly dealt. If you examt your own trumps without getting out all the adversaries, you run too much risk of encountering their long suits in your short ones. The diamond-live ied would in most bases tell the five led would in most cases tell the story. I wish to say, however, that I have consulted with Mr. E. C. Fletcher, of Newton, who was on the old Newton club whist team with me, and he dis-agrees with me. He thinks he would agrees with the four of hearts. I will not give his line of reasoning, nor pur-sue mine further. I think indeed, that when one declares his opening, his line of reasoning suggests itself."-George W.

Morse, Boston. "In my opinion the five of diamonds is the only proper lead."-Arthur Reming-ton, Tacoma.

ity whose apparent second choice of "any old lead" appeals to our befogged brain as the only path to a return of peace. This case should be sufficient to convert even the most obstinate, to the necessity of a (unanimous) report from the "lost" committee on system, appointed at the last congress. We respectfully refer this mixture to the said committee, with the firm belief that if they can produce harmony out of this lot of discords, they are competent to make a report which will be satisfactory to all.
