

West Side and City Suburban

REVIEW OF THE WORK.

Alfred Twining, Late Secretary of the Board of Trade, Makes an Excellent Report.

Alfred Twining, whom Joseph E. Oliver succeeded as secretary of the West Side board of trade, had prepared the customary review by the secretary of the work of the board during his term of office, which was to have been read at the last meeting of the board. Circumstances, however, interfered and the report was not given. The review has been placed at the disposal of The Tribune.

It is quite lengthy yet certainly interesting. After speaking of the work of the board in a general way and mentioning the Linden street bridge as the foremost achievement, Mr. Twining refers in a complimentary way of the work of A. M. Morse, who is chiefly responsible for paving of Robinson and streets adjoining.

The bettering of the Traction company's street car service is also mentioned. The West Side hospital, another immeasurably beneficial addition, and the work of bringing it about calls for some attention.

In concluding his report, Mr. Twining pays a highly eulogistic and deserved tribute to the memory of D. M. Jones, who was one of the most honored members of the board. The report shows that the West Side board of trade is a factor for great good to the people of the West Side. The regular monthly meeting of the board will be held this evening in ex-Alderman Blair's office.

CONDITION OF THE INJURED.

The West Side residents, who were so badly shaken up and injured in the street car collision of Sunday afternoon on Prescott avenue, are doing fairly well, with one exception. The exception is Mrs. William M. Howells, of Price street, whose condition still remains somewhat serious. Mrs. Howells had been ill for some time with pleuro-pneumonia and had only recovered sufficiently to go out during the previous week. In her naturally weakened state of health the personal fright, her anxiety for her baby, and the jar she received in being thrown from the car, these things combined as a set-back. A thorough diagnosis of her condition is at present impossible, but proper care and quietness will no doubt produce good results. The others will soon entirely recover.

AT THE STATION HOUSE.

Three occupants of the West Side station house were committed to the county jail yesterday afternoon after a hearing before Alderman Owen D. John. They were Constantine Manu-ka, of North Hyde Park avenue; Frank Woshenski, of Division street, and Mike Grancha, of Dodgetown. Manuka was arrested for beating his wife and not being able to pay a fine of $5 was sent up for twenty days. Woshenski is the man who so brutally cut his boarding house keeper, Mrs. Hutchelk on Sunday. He was committed for

FORTUNE FAVORED THEM.

Casper Edland, of 1938 Price street, narrowly escaped death in the Briggs mines yesterday morning by being caught under a heavy fall of top coal. As it was he was severely injured, having his hands terribly lacerated. His scalp was cut and his body bruised. He was conveyed to his home and Dr. George B. Reynolds called to attend him. Mr. Edland's laborer escaped without anything more serious than a fright. Both men owe their deliverance from being crushed to the fact that they were standing near two cars which had been run into the chamber for loading. The cars wobbled the fall and the men were saved.

WEST SIDE ACCIDENTS.

Mrs. Sabina Harrison, of Cameron avenue, is suffering from a broken wrist. The injury was the result of the handle of the windlass slipping from her grasp and striking the wrist. She was hoisting a pail of water from the well at the time.

By the premature explosion of a charged "hole," Henry Sammon, of Twenty-first street, was badly injured on Saturday. The explosion was due to a defective squib and occurred before the miner could reach a place of safety. Mr. Sammon, who is employed at the Central mines, was attended by Dr. J. J. Carroll and is now resting easily.

PERSONAL MENTION.

William Pulaskus was arrested yesterday by Constable Seth Smith on a charge of aggravated assault and battery. The accused was given a hearing last evening before Alderman Fidler. From the testimony given by Burgoes it appears that he was fortunate that Pulaskus did not behave him with an ax, as was his evident intention. Persons who saw the assault intercepted the blow. As it was Burgoes sustained a badly battered head and a bruised face. Pulaskus was held in $500 bail for his appearance at court, and in default was committed.

For the past four months the Chinese laundryman at the corners has been greatly annoyed and often abused by a crowd of young toughs who gather nightly outside of his shop door and make the miserable man's life a torment. One of the pranks played by the boys was to blow out the lights in the shop and then smear up the clean linen with mud. Yesterday the boys were unusually boisterous. Kim Sing caught them for their audacious letter and intended to make an example of him. He was given a hearing before Squire Cooney last night. Owing to lack of evidence the case was adjourned until next Monday evening.

OBITUARY.

Dr. E. J. Longshore died yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at his home, 327 North Washington avenue. The direct cause of death was the injuries Dr. Longshore sustained by a fall on the ice pavers on Lackawanna avenue last December. He suffered contusion on the head and back from which he never sufficiently recovered to resume active practice. About a week ago his condition became serious and he was taken to the hospital. The treatment of Drs. Blanchard, Murray and Kellar, during Sunday the patient failed alarmingly and during the night the physicians were constantly at his bedside. Dr. Longshore was born in England, 1841. He came to Scranton fourteen years ago and has been a well known physician since. The deceased is survived by five children: Mrs. C. D. Yost, Mrs. Bertha Hughes, and Miss Jennie Longshore, of this city; Dr. E. Longshore and Eugene A. Longshore, of Hazleton. He also leaves a wife. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon from the family residence, 327 Washington avenue.

Truman Whipple, an old and respected resident of Carbondale, a veteran of the late war and a member of William H. Davies' post, No. 187, passed away yesterday. Mr. Whipple was a member of Companies 43, One Hundred and Forty-third Pennsylvania volunteers. He entered the service in 1864, and was engaged in many of the battles of Grant's campaign. He assisted in removing Major Cunningham, of Wilkes-Barre, from the field after he had been wounded in the Battle of the Wilderness. The One Hundred and Forty-third volunteers was called the Luzerne regiment, having been recruited entirely in this section under Colonel Dana D. Williams. Mr. Whipple will attend the funeral of their late comrade in uniform tomorrow afternoon at his late residence at 3 o'clock. Rev. T. E. Jepson, of the Carbondale Baptist church, will officiate.

Rhodes, of Lake Sheridan, who is well known here. Funeral services will be held at the Arch school house Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Rev. H. H. Wilbur will conduct the services and Funeral Director George W. Stach will have charge. Mrs. Rhodes was 76 years old and a life-long resident of Wyoming county.

WHAT BECAME OF JACKSON.

Arrested and Brought to This City, but Cannot Be Found.

George Jackson, of Dunmore, was making anxious inquiries about the city tonight for his son, Joseph Jackson. Mr. Jackson owns a farm at Wimmers, which is worked by his son. Last night about 6 o'clock the son and a stranger man drove up to the father's house at Dunmore, and Joseph said that he was under arrest and the stranger man was a constable.

"Why didn't you have a hearing at Wimmers?" asked the father.

"He wouldn't let me," replied the son pointing to the constable who was sitting right in the buggy with him and came along.

Then the impatient officer put the whip to the horse and before the astonished Mr. Jackson realized what had happened the constable was driving down the road in a cloud of dust.

He went to one of his neighbors and told him the story and together they came to this city. They made the rounds of the aldermen's offices, but the constable and his son were nowhere to be found, nor was anything known about him at the county jail or central police station. Officer and prisoner had disappeared as effectually as if they had sunk into the earth.

At 11 o'clock last night Mr. Jackson, sr., gave up the search and returned weary and dejected to his home.

BEER WAGON BLOCKED THE TRACK.

Traction Company Prosecutes Driver Lydner Before Alderman Millar.

John Lydner, a driver of a beer wagon for the E. Robinson's Sons brewery, was arraigned before Alderman Millar yesterday afternoon charged with willfully blocking traffic on the lines of the Scranton Railway company. Lydner, last Friday, refused to remove his wagon from the car track on Scranton street. The gate was delayed fifteen and one-half minutes and witnesses were present yesterday to tes-
