NEW KIND OF BOILER.

Important Improvements Being Made

at the William A. Colliery. Several important improvements says the Pittston Gazette are in progress at the William A. colliery of the Connell Coal company, near Duryea. Chief among them is the establishment of a fine new auxiliary steam-producing plant of novel design. The plant is located at the rear of the old boiler house, and consists of a vertical water tube boiler known as the "Porcupine" and manufactured by the Hazleton Boiler company of New York city. The most peculiar feature of the plant is that the boiler stands on end. The boiler proper is twenty-seven feet high, but a hood and stack erected on top of the boiler tower seventy-one feet into the air. The boiler has the appearance of a cylinder boiler fortyone inches in diameter standing up right, in which 918 holes are bored for the reception of four-inch tubes which will project outward thirty-three inches, thus giving the name "Porcupine" to the boiler.

"A circular wall of fire brick will surround the tubes and the brick will be incased in iron. The boiler will have a capacity of 250 porse power, and the waste heat from nine cylinder boilers adjoining will be used to generate steam in the new boiler, though it is fitted with fire place to be used when necessary. The supply pipe will run from the top of the boiler and the boiler will be fed by a No. 11 Sellers injector and pump. There are but few boilers of this style in this section, and the one now being erected has improvements which are not features of the others. There is one at Dorranceton, one at Plymouth, and several at Hazleton. William Hart, of New York, has charge of the work of erecting the plant, and we are indebted to him for courtesies.

The William A. breaker suspended work Friday for the remainder of the month. Meantime, the breaker will be fitted with Zeigler patent slate pickers which will be used to clean the stove coal. These pickers are now in opera-tion in the Connell company's Lawrence breaker, and are giving excellent satisfaction. Superintendent Samuel T. Jones hopes that the work on the boiler plant and in the breaker will be completed in time to resume work on July 1. The Connell company takes pride in fitting the William A. colliery, inside and outside, with the very latest improvements, and it is one of the finest plants in the region.

The old school board met last Monday evening for the last time, and settled up their accounts to present to the borough auditors and the newlyelected board of directors was organized with W. J. Watkins as secretary. Our citizens will be pleased to learn that Keystone band is reorganized again, and once more furnishes us with their excellent music. Unfortunately for the band, quite a few of the leading members were called out of town and in consequence were obliged (last fall) to disband. Thanks to the untiring efforts of some of the members, they are again trying to pull them-selves together and maintain their past reputation which has been A 1 for several years. We most heartily wish the boys success, and trust the citizens will aid them generously in their cause.

Wall Street Review.

New York, June 11.—The prices of securities today scored a further step in the progress towards a higher plane which has continued the deminant tendency of the market now for over two weeks. The list of transactions also shows many additional stocks awakened from a dormant state into active trading. Reports from exchanges in other cities of Reports from exchanges in other cities of revived interest and activity in specula-tion helped to sustain the market. Sugtion helped to sustain the macket. The advance in the anthracite coalers was accelerated by the difficulties of the short interest whose needs were aggravated by the increase of the loan rates on the stocks of this group. The stocks of the iron commandes were notably strong on fron commanies were notably strong on the trade outlook, but the net gains were for the most part fractional.
