BOARD NOT IN A GENEROUS MOOD

Somewhat Restrictive on the Use of High School Building.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION THROWN DOWN

Refused Permission to Banquet in the Building .- Graduating Class May Hold a Reception in the Study Room, But the Desks | May Not Be Removed .- That Spoils a Plan for Dancing -- Mr. "Gibbons and Mr. Wormser in a Watchful State.

Last night's meeting of the board of control was characterized for its length and oratory rather than the amount of important business consid-

Mr. Langan of the high and training school committee, offered a motion that the High School Alumni association be permitted to banquet in "the high school study room. Mr. Wormser, Mr. Gibbons and a number of others offered objections and Mr. Langan changed his motion substituting "the corridor" for "the study room."

Mr. Gibbons moved to table Mr. Langan's motion indefinitely and the motion to table prevailed by the following vote of 11 to 7:

Ayes-Messrs, Shires, Carson, Devan-icy, Wormser, Welsh, Shafer, Conrad ney, Wormser, Welsh, Shafer, Conrad, Williams, Schriefer, Novz, Gibbons-11. Nays-Messrs, Francois, O'Malley, Da-vis, Casey, Walsh, Langan, Jennings-7. NO DANCING.

A motion that on the night of graduation the class be permitted to hold a reception in the study room of the high school building was adopted but with an amendment offered by Mr. Wormser which provides that no desks shall be removed from the room. The class had intended to include dancing in the reception festivities but that feature is precluded by the desk

The teachers' pay roll for May was approved and orders ordered drawn. The amounts in total were: Teachers, $14,135; substitutes, $188.65; janitors, $1,

Proposals for furnishing school desks were received from Donahue & Finberg, E. M. Tewksbury, Hill & Connell for the Grand Rapids School Furniture Co.; Thomas Kane & Co., of Racine, Wis., and the United States School Furniture Co., and were referred to the building committee along with the samples which accompanied Proposals to purchase two North End school properties were received as follows: For the old No. 23 building and lots on Mohawk street, James Gunning, $430; Patrick Moran, $455; for the lots on West Market street, James J. Grier, $300; Jordan Brothers, $500. All the bids were, on motion of Mr. Wormser, rejected and prices of $800 fixed on the No. 23 lots and $600 on the lots on West Market street. It required thirty minutes to transact this business in relation to the lots.

TEACHER GRADUATES.

Through the high and training school committee, Miss Sykes, the teacher of the training school, reported the senior graduating class as follows: Mary A. Graves, Mary Daniels, Rahel Powell, Mary Carpenter, Jane V. Fellows, Cara. B. Gibbs, Louisa B. Leader, Catharine L. Quinnan, Lila Frable and Rose I.

Both Mr. Wormser and Mr. Gibbons Maloney on two lots at the corner of Pittston avenue and Hickory street, for $10,000, and by Daniel Hughes on one lot on the West Side of Pittston avenue, near Hickory street, for $5,000. The recommendation was adopted, only Mr. Wormser and Mr. Giboons voting negatively.

The teachers' committee and buildng committee were instructed to present at the next meeting the appointments to be recommended for the beginning of the next school year.

G. R. W. RACING TEAM.

Now Possesses a Tandem and Complete Speeding Outfit. Gregory, White and Keller the racing team of the Green Ridge wheelmen, are undergoing a rigid course of training for the mid-summer meets. They have recently been supplied with a complete Spaulding outfit, including a tandem and do their hardest work after 5 o'clock each afternoon at the Driving park.

The Spalding single wheels and tandem are from Floreys. They are enameled blue and make a rather striking effect in connection with the club colors, orange and white, displayed in the Jersey togs of the riders. The trio are entered for the Binghamton meet and the Dallas races and will do their first good work at those events. Keller will do most of the short distance riding while Gregory and White will work in the miles and overs and handicaps.

Each has gained quite a local repuation in a very brief period and with the knowledge and experience gained through actual competition they are expected by many to develop one of the best bicycle racing teams that has represented Scranton.

ARRESTED FOR ABUSING A BABY.

Special Officer Levy's Story Is Contradicted by Eye-Witnesses. Henry Williams was arrested yeserday afternoon by Special Officer Levy, a man employed at the Bell clothing house on Lackawanna avenue, The charge made by Levy on the police docket was that Williams threw a little girl into the street. John Hunden, car dispatcher at the Traction company office, who witnessed the arrest, says that Williams and his wife were having a quarrel as they out of the clothing house. Williams was not creating a disturbance, and was walking along with his wife and three small children. He picked up one of the children, a girl, and was carrying her when the special appeared actually forced Williams to the child to the sidewalk. The baby's SEVENTY ACRES OF lip was cut. The special then escorted Williams to the station house and lodged the charge against him.

Williams' wife and the children ap peared at the station house later in the afternoon and had her husband released until this morning. They live in the North End.

ALL KINDS OF WARES.

lust a Pointer or Two About Some of the Goods Sold by Clemons, Ferber, O'Malley Co., One of the City's Few Importing Houses -- Here Are a Few Facts of Real, Live Interest. There is a reflex action somewhere between the course of Old Dame Nature and those skilled purveyors who minister to her children's needs. What ver is blessed with the complicated activities of existence tries to add to its attractiveness, and hence to its This may seem deeply philosophical; but it is also a commonsense reason for spring openings. From the mement that the first faint blush of the arbutus is coyly seen among the snow drifts, every other bud and blossom with buds clustering about it, for that matter, is watching for the best spring opening, and the fact suggests the bits of poesy in fabrications and economic prose in price which is to be found at the well-known establishment of Clemons, Ferber, O'Malley Co., (limited), whose capacious importing warehouse, at 422 Lackawanna avenue, is now teeming with all the fancies of the season in the newest goods which can make home beautiful, and the season mem-

Others claim to have goods of equal quality but none have the temerity to claim prices so low for the values de livered. They can not do this, for the firm is known to be the largest infporters in Northeastern Pennsylvania, and, dealing at purely first hands has no real competitor.

When one goes through the appointed bazaar which is the home of so much luxury, it is difficult to pick out what is most attractive; but one can not get through the first floor without reveling in a wealth of China which rivets every eye trained to the beautiful. Here are all the deft pro ductions of the French Kilns, Dainty Havilands, with delicate traceries of spring against their translucence which bring the wild-woods to one's own board. The Charles Field Haviland, equally artistic, R. Dellinier & and L. Sazarat & Co., equally prized by connisseurs and appreciated by those who love the beautiful and yet are not posted on makers' marks. They don't have to be in this house Nothing is sold, except the genuine, and that, during this opening, at prices which are surprising. And then come Carlsbad wares. All know what they are; but few have seen such novel shapes and fascinating conceptions. That standby, the English porcelain, the Gibraltar of the housewife and the caterer, has also new shapes, and Maddox, genuine Wedgewood, Furnival, or Powell & Bishop, have equally attractive prices attached to them for the opening. But more light on the situation,

Just look at the lamps. Jasper, of Scriptural record; onyx, gold, silver, the queer conceits in Dresden, or wrought iron-all these take up an immense floor space, and represent every line that is worth presentation. But right here is a department of prismatic brilliancy which will hold the shopper spell-bound. It is the myriad facts of unique cut glass which hypnotize, or possibly more, the prices that are made for this special opening hypnotize. Dorflinger & Sons', and stoutly opposed the building commit-tee's recommendation that the board and all the winter months the busy accept the options given by Martin grinders bent over their rapid wheels to make this consignment the best that has been turned out from their extensive works this many a day, and all at low prices for the opening.

Clarence Cook says in "House Beau-tiful" that the balance of good taste lies in the small decorations. Considered from this standpoint the display of bric-a-brac and art goods becomes most interesting. The best conceptions, Belleck, Wedgewood, Royal Worcester, Royal Bonn, Teplitz, Dresden, Severes, and Royal Vienna, all have full representation and can satisfy the most fastidious. Many of there gems of art have never been seen outside of the large cities, and none of them except as single pieces put in some small establishment with a fabulous price attached. Here they constitute a small art gallery in themselves, and the prices attached are themselves an ccular demonstration of the enormous amount of importing done by this leading house, else they could never sell so cheap.

It is rather a delicate matter to write a general description of such an emporium as this, and then suggest baby carriages to a quite mixed audience; but if you need them, they are there just the same, and such as would tempt even the most confirmed bachelortomatrimony just for the sake of getting such beauties for so little money. Then you know, the baby will have to have milk, and this must be kept cool at the least expense for ice, and the most perfect sanitation. Do you know anything better for that than one of the Jewett's Patent Churcoal-filled Refrigerators, and water-coolers? They are the cheapest because they and the best, and the best because they do not cost at this opening any more than the inferior articles that are being palmed off on the public as cheap. prettier, more sensible, more within the reach of every purse, or made in more

And now to the bed-room; what is artistic styles to meet the diversificaion of tastes than the American ware that is taking its place on everal continents. This firm has just received one of the largest and most complete lines that ever left the celebrated factories, and it is made a special price feature for the opening. If you want to get something more expensive and also more friable, there is just as large a stock of the imported to select from. It would be superfluous to say there are jardinlers, pedestals, umbrella stands and all that sort of thing in all he wares in which such articles are manufactured. Whatever constitutes full stock is represented, and the teeming floors offer to inspection a perect museum of curiosities. But the stock does not alone constitute the museum. It is the price list that will do that for any one who visits the opening during the next few days. The Clemons, Ferber, O'Malley Co. is making this special drive because it has for years persued the policy which has given It such prominence. Although for the next few days the prices are shaded down to meet the requirements of spring and summer shopping, the goods are all standard, and are all such as they always carry in stock. Anything that you buy, comes from a first-class maker, and can always be duplicated. They sell nothing which they will not guarantee to match any

WILL BEGIN OPERATIONS SOON

Prospective Operators Are John G. Gilligan, Patrick McNulty, Anthony McHale and Philip Hastings -- The Lessor Is John P. Canavan .- Shaft Sinking Will Begin July 1.

Negotiations were perfected recently for the lease of seventy acres of the Canavan coal tract in the Tenth ward of this city and the southeastern part of Dunmore and according to agreement coal colliery will be in operation there within six months' time. The breaker will be located near

Eric and Wyoming Valley railroad The capacity of the colliery can be judged by the fact that the shaft will be sunk five hundred feet; that three veins will be worked in co-operation and that one of the veins has a depth

Company B Did Not Tip-Toe Into the Crittenton Meeting, Held Last Evening.

The Crittenton meeting last night in he armory was attended by a good sized nudience. Rev. George E. Guild occupied a seat on the platform and participated in the meeting.

Mr. Crittenton spoke on "Behold, He Standeth at the Door and Knocks. The immortal passage was used to fine advantage by the speaker. He likened the conscience to the poor and the feeling of wrong that is done as the knock of Jesus. The pangs of re gret of an ill deed or an omitted ac ere also characterized.

At one time during the latter par of Mr. Crittenton's address the memers of Company B marched into the armory and interrupted the service for a few minutes. The soldiers were re urning from an outdoor drill. Mr. Crittenton was just a bit rebuking in his remark: "We'll stop the service-we do ot wish to disturb them"-meaning the soldiers who were making the clatter in the rear of the armory. The ceting was afterward continued. At the after prayer meeting a large umber responded to Mr. Crittenton's appeal. Mr. Crittenton will give a Bible read-

The last meeting in the armory will e held tonight. Tomorrow night the "farewell" will be given in Elm Park hurch.

DEADLY AFTER-DAMP.

Killed Martin Smith in the Phoenix

Colliery at Duryea. Martin Smith, a Polander, was found dead in the Old Forge Coal company's Phoenix colliery at Duryea on Saturmorning. The Wilkes-Barre News-Dealer says:

"It is impossible to tell just how the accident happened which resulted in Smith's death, though it is known that he was in the mine, and had gone into one of the old workings where he must have fired a body of gas. Men in other parts of the mine heard the explosion and in going in the direction where it occurred, found the

INDIAN BIDS CANCELLED.

New Contracts Will Be Made During the Month of July.

Washington June 14.-The bids for furnishing clothing supplies to the entire Indian service have been finally cancelled, and new bids will be called for by Comissioner of Indian Affairs Jones, to be opened in New York city, July 15 or 17. The investigation of the way in which the old specifications were framed, by which one of the bidders, it is alleged, would have secured the contract through useless technical requirements has almost been concluded. Collusion of certain employe has been charged and it is possible that several removals may result in the Indian bureau. The examination made by Mr. Jones has been very careful and thorough and has practically succeeded in placing the responsibility for the condition of affairs to several employes.

The result of the investigation will be reported very fully to Secretary Bliss. The present specifications are broad and liberal in their terms, the idea being to secure clothing goods of the best all around utility without be-Paint Varnish and Kaling restricted to peculiar brands and descriptions such as were asked for ir the former call for bids.
