THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE-WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 16, 1897.

NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

Early Sunday morning burglars broke into the Shannon & Newman dry goods store and R. T. Friedman's clothing store at Athens. A few cents in change was all that was reported missing.

The police of Sayre and Waverly combined on Saturday night and Sunday morning in making a raid on the tramps that infest the railroad yards. An even 20 was arrested, among whom the police think they have men who are wanted for various robberies.

Fire from an unknown origin com pletely distroyed the house in Kingtown, East Stroudsburg, formerly occupied by Henry Van Buskirk, the man alleged to have been shot by Rouck several weeks ago The flames were noticed about 2 o'clock on Sunday morning and although several members of the Acme Hose company pulled the hose carlage to the place, it was of no service, as the house was in ruins. It was unoccupied at the time of burning. The fire is thought to have been of incendiary origin. There was a slight insurance on the property.

WYOMING.

Children's day was observed on Sunday morning in the Methodist and Presbyterian churches. The usual programmes on such occasions were rendered by the members of the Sunday schools to large audiences in both churches. The churches were very again last Monday. Mr. Watkins is prettily decorated with flowers.

The Mount Lookout colliery was idle yesterday but resumed work for the week this morning. There is some indication of better time being made at this colliery the coming month. Mr. Ross, the outside foreman, who has been ill for some time, is about again. Work has been begun to erect a cage over the air shaft which will be used to bring coal from the second vein which they will soon begin to operate. The town council has ordered the placing of two more are lights on Wyoming avenue at the corner of Second and Fifth streets.

Charles Crouse has received the appointment of postmaster of this town and will probably assume charge of the office in a short time. There were a number of applications put in for the office. There is quite a desire on the part of the West Side people to have the office removed from its present location to a more central place as it was before the former postoffice building was ruined by the cave-in.

Mr. and Mrs. Tiffany, of Wayne county, are the guest of their daughter, Mrs. Charles Kisbaugh, of Shoemaker avenue.

Miss Esther Davies is very ill with the measies. There are a number of other cases about the town. Rev. Wilson Trieble was called away on Saturday to Sayre to attend the funeral of a friend.

A very interesting service was held in the Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday evening which was addressed by Mrs. Palmer, of Wilkes-Barre, on her B. I. A. work. She told how she was led to do this work and spoke very impressively of our making use of every opportunity to do good. Two members of the B. I. A. accompanied her and sang two selections.

Dr. Charles P. Knapp went to Danville vesterday and visited the asylum. On Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock byterian churches on Sunday morn The churches were beautifully ing. decorated with ferns, flowers and pot ted plants. The Sunday schools ren dered a programme appropriate to the occasion, and the annual missionary offering was taken. Delmer D. Douglass, of Binghamton, s visiting his aunt, Mrs. E. Sands. Gus Sliker on Saturday caught i monster carp in a net in Harmony creek. Its weight was nine pounds and t is on exhibition at Mitchell's bank. Mrs. Stephens, of Scranton, has been visiting Mrs. Addle Maynard. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Carl Brown, of Montrose, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Brown.

FACTORYVILLE.

Dr. C. A. Ziller is a visitor this week n Philadelphia.

Tonight the second degree team and other members of Red Jacket lodge No. 524, I. O. O. F., visit Brooklyn lodge and work the second degree. Miss Carrie Simrell, of Wilkes-Barre, is spending her vacation with her mother and brother at this place. Miss his lines. Day break on Monday found Simrell has many warm friends here who will be pleased to welcome her home again.

Dr. Paul Wilson is working in a dental office in New York city.

Miss Lizzle Wrigley was shopping in Scranton last Monday. Fred Wright, who recently fell and broke his shoulder and injured himself otherwise seriously, is still in a critical condition, and his recovery is very doubtful. The many friends of E. L. Watkins were pleased to see him on our midway

The burglars, who have been making frequent nocturnal visits among the residents of our town, are laying very low at present. The patrol officers, however, are on the alert and another attempt to effect an entrance in houses may result in their capture. This, at least, is the hope.

HALLSTEAD.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lawrence have returned from Binghamton, where they attended the wedding of a relative. Miss Ida Carr, of Afton, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. John Davis. Professor E. W. Pease has been re-elected principal of the Hallstead graded school for another year. Several noticeable improvements have recently been made in the grounds about the Presbyterian church. The lawn in front has been graded and sodded and a stone walk has been laid from the street to each entrance.

AVOCA.

One of the most brilliant events of the season was the marriage of Miss B. O'Brien, the hannsome and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. O'Brien, of this place, to James Hartnett, a prominent young man of Scran-ton. At 7 o'clock a. m. the bridal party, accompanied by Miss B. O'Brien, of man, and A. C. Curran, P. H. Durkin,

The alter was beautifully decorated and Miss Lizzie Murphy, previous to the nuptial mass, which was afterward celebrated by Rev. M. F. Crane, rendered an appropriate musical selection. The mass was sung by Mrs. E. J. Gilroy, who at the offertory beautifully sang the "Ave Marie." The gowns worn by the bride and her attendant were mouselaine desole over white satin and were artistically designed. Both carried white prayer books. The groom, attendant, and ushers wore the conventional black After the ceremony a reception was tenfered their many friends at the restlence of the bride's parents. Mr and Mrs. Hartnett left at 1 o'clock on the Central train for Philadelphia and Washington where they will remain several weeks, after which they will reside in Scranton, where a handsomely furnished home awalts them. The presents received were handsome and costly and embraced nearly all the requisites for housekeeping. The following guests were present at the reception: P. H. Durkin, D. J. Roche, J. J. Padden, Dennis Hartnett, Peter Gerrity, A. P. Curran, Mary Hartnett, Nellie Curran, Sadie Gerrity, Marie Curran, of Scranton; Thomas O'Brien and family, of Jermyn; Mr. and Mrs. M. THE ETHIOPIAN CHANGING HIS SKIN Sam Jackson, a gentleman of color, who has for some years been residing over near Lake Poyntelle, is gradually changing color. Three months since, while standing under an oak tree, during a storm, the lightning played tag around the branches and Sam received a shock. He was picked up for dead, but in a few days he recovered the use of his limbs and speech. But since that day he has been undergoing : transformation. His skin, naturally sort of crow color, changed to a rich brown, but for a month it has under gone a whitening process, and Sam will no longer be a "colored gentleman." The kinks in his hair are also straightening out, and he is gradually drop ping some of the customs peculiar to carefully watched by noted physicians and scientists.
