CITY NOTES.

The Dickson regimental rifle range will be closed on Saturday.

Frank Carlucci, of this city, has received the contract for the cut stone work on the new Wilkes-Barre hotel.

The Scranton Chemical and Hose company will hold a special meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the city hall. It will be a meeting of great importance.

An overflow of hot refuse matter on a cinder car at the blast furnace Wednesday morning slightly injured Fred Markle, of Bellevue. He was taken to his home.

Vanderbilt Sampson was sent to jail by Alderman Millar yesterday in default of $300 bail for stealing a zinc stove from Council's hardware store Wednesday.

The Teachers' Mutual Benefit association will meet for regular business at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning in the board of control rooms. All members are urged to be present.

The funeral of Mrs. A. D. David, wife of Rev. A. D. David, of this city, will take place at 1 o'clock this afternoon from Thompson instead of from Pekville as heretofore announced.

The street commissioner has decided to begin work on the Abington turnpike within a few weeks. He will repair it with stone and gravel, which will be thoroughly rolled down.

Street Commissioner Dunning yesterday made a contract with the Green Ridge Lumber company for the repairing of the Drury park bridge. The improvements will be completed before the races begin June 26.

It is expected that the Mountain home at Cresco for invalids and tired mothers who are unable to take a vacation will be opened July 4. It is maintained by the Men's and Women's guilds of St. Luke's Episcopal church.

The funeral of William Jordan, of Washington avenue, who died Wednesday will be held tomorrow morning. A requiem mass will be celebrated in St. Paul's church, after which burial will be made in the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

Joseph Dunford and Agnes Williams, of Winton; Louis W. Andrews and Kate A. Berger, of Scranton; William A. Archibald and Julia Moore, of Scranton; John A. Hill and Mary Darlin, of Scranton, were yesterday granted marriage licenses.

Alderman Millar's jury empaneled to investigate the death of Henry O'Hara met yesterday afternoon in the office of the eighth ward magistrate and rendered the following verdict: "We find that deceased came to his death by his own hand."

A strawberry social will be held at the Young Women's Christian association rooms Friday, June 25, from 7 to 10 o'clock. A new kind of strawberry shortcake will be for sale and all patrons will receive the recipe. Come and enjoy the refreshments and music.

A. E. Goss went before Alderman O. B. Wright yesterday and withdrew a charge which he made against Patrick White. White never was arrested on the charge and soon after the warrant was issued Goss left the city. He returned yesterday and withdrew the charge against White, who is now in jail.

The coroner's jury in the case of Patrick Lynn, who fell down the Pine Brook shaft last Friday, decided at a meeting in Coroner Longstreet's office last night that Lynn's death was accidental and "we find," says the verdict, "that the company was in no way to blame for the accident." The jurors were: Charles L. Teeter, Charles R. Crier, John A. Nicks, August Rompe, H. A. Highfield and E. D. Owen.

Mrs. Mary Hodge, of Franklin avenue, is a boarding house keeper and one George Walters once upon a time boarded at her house. Yesterday Mrs. Hodge went before Alderman Millar and had a warrant issued for Walters' arrest, charging him with jumping his board bill. The facts of the case are that Walters is to be married and Mrs. Hodge looked upon this as the opening of a big breach between she and her board money. Walters was arrested and the bill was paid.

The Home for the Friendless excursions are always the most delightful outings of the season. This year a very popular destination has been selected in Harvey's lake and it is hoped that the patronage will be the largest ever recorded in the history of the Home. Never before were its needs so great and the friends who have so faithfully supported this noble institution in the past will be asked to come to its aid at this time. Caterer William Hanley will accompany the excursion and serve refreshments.

Harold Johnson, manager of the dramatic company which will present "A Trip to the Moon" the coming season, was in town last evening to hear the Chinese quartette, composed of the following voices: First tenor, Sanford Engle; second tenor, Fred Williams; baritone, Charles Lanaine; and bass, Mooney. Mr. Johnson was pleased with their work and billed them for the season of '97 and '98. The quartette recently added a song and dance artist to their number. He is Mr. Mooney, formerly with the Emerald minstrels.

You and your friends are cordially invited to attend an old fashioned Long Island clam bake tonight at the Cosmopolitan hotel, 608 West Lackawanna avenue. Good music. James F. Doyle.

WEST SIDE PEOPLE ENTER A PROTEST

Swoop Down in a Body on the City Fathers.

MR. THOMAS, HE SAYS SOME THINGS

Both Branches of Councils in Session Last Night—A. B. Dunning, Jr., Street Commissioner and M. J. Kelly, of the Board of Health, Re-appointed—After the Dilatory Asphalt Companies—The Commoners Pass the Telephone Ordinance on Final Reading.

Both councils met last night, the select in regular and the common in adjourned session. The upper branch had a visit from a large delegation of West Siders who came to make protest against laying street car tracks on Lafayette street and a lively discussion of the question was the result. Some further fun ensued from Mayor Butler's failure to designate which A. B. Dunning he would have as street commissioner, but this was finally straightened out by telephone and Dunning, Jr. was duly confirmed for the office. Common council passed the telephone ordinance on third reading with probably no opposition and besides transacted a good deal of routine business.

When the ordinance granting the Traction company privileges to extend its lines on the West Side and along West Market street came from the railway committee and Mr. Thomas saw that no mention was made of the amendment he had proposed by which Rebecca avenue was to be substituted for Bromley in getting from Swetland to Lafayette to be proceeded to make a big howl and demanded of the committee to know why it had sidetracked his amendment.

Messrs. McAndrew, Williams and Manley all protested that no such amendment had been passed, that it had been proposed but voted down and that a compromise had been effected whereby the Traction company should have the privilege of using Bromley avenue, the objection that it topped the narrow portion of Lafayette street having been removed by the company agreeing to pave from curb to curb as much of Lafayette street as it intended to occupy.

Mr. Thomas denied with much vehemence the intimation that he had been a party to such a compromise. He had simply said nothing at all when he saw that the committee was unanimously against him, but he by no means acquiesced. He was opposed to it then, still was opposed to it and would continue to oppose it as long as it was not acceptable to his constituents. "They are here," Mr. Thomas said pointing to the rear of the chamber, "to speak for themselves and I move that they be given the privilege of the floor."

WHAT MR. MORSE SAID.

This being granted, A. M. Morse, representing the West Side board of trade, took the floor. The Traction company, he said, agreed at his conference with the board of trade last summer, to keep off the narrow portion of Lafayette street and move its tracks to one side of Swetland street. It had failed in the agreement in the latter respect and he had agreed at his conference with the board of trade, all of which he considered as faithlessness and a great injustice to the property holders.

Councilman Thomas in a red hot speech opposed the policy of giving the street company the exclusive use of a street, as was done on Swetland street and is now proposed on Lafayette, and wound up with a caustic arraignment of the councils, saying they should be public servants and not the tools of a corporation. He had a yes been a free agent himself and he proposed to continue to be such. Applause from Mr. Thomas' constituents was only slightly abated by President Sanderson had splintered the gavel rapping for order.

Mr. Williams belittled the cause of war, saying that only twenty-five feet of the narrow portion of the street was to be occupied and if the matter was put to a vote of the residents of the thoroughfare it would be favored by a large majority.

"That is not so," declared Mr. Thomas. "There is more of the street than that to be occupied and the people are not in favor of the tracks, as their presence here testifies." Mr. Thomas' motion to refer to committee was killed by an almost unanimous vote.

AMENDMENT KILLED.

Mr. Fellows suggested an amendment that Summer avenue, which laps the wide portion of Lafayette street, be substituted for Bromley, but when Mr. Manley explained that the committee had considered this plan and voted it down because the tracks would pass on both sides of the school, council killed the amendment.

The amendments recommended by the committee were then passed, together with one by Mr. Lansing, specifying a concrete base for the pavement on Lafayette street. The ordinance then passed on second reading.

The flag end of the Kinsley term as street commissioner, which Mr. Dunning was serving out expired yesterday. In re-nominating Mr. Dunning for the office, Mayor Bailey simply designated "A. B. Dunning" as his nominee. Council proceeded to consider the nomination forthwith, but Mr. Roche called a halt by inquiring if council knew which A. B. Dunning was meant. The "old gentleman," he explained, was a resident of the Thirtieth ward, and is "A. B. Dunning." The son is A. B. Dunning, Jr. Council had no right to presume, he contended, that the mayor wished to appoint anybody but "A. B. Dunning," as his commissioner, indicated, and unless it was desired to confirm the father, the matter should go over for investigation.

President Sanderson ruled the point well taken and the nomination went to the streets and bridges committee. Mr. Crittendon, chairman of the committee, called up the mayor by telephone and explaining the situation of affairs received authority for Assistant City Clerk Morris to add "Jr." after the name, and towards the latter part of the meeting the notified nomination was submitted and duly confirmed.

A resolution directing the street commissioner to make a trip to St. Louis to inspect the city's plant and plans for repairing asphalt pavements was opposed by Mr. Roche on the ground that the information desired could be secured by mail, and the matter went to committee.

AFTER PAVING COMPANIES.

Colonel Sanderson introduced a resolution directing the city solicitor to notify the Columbia Construction company to begin work on Mulberry street within ten days, and if it fails to then submit to council a communication outlining the necessary steps to compel the company to comply with its contract. He also introduced a resolution calling on the street commissioner to inform council what steps he had taken to have the Barber Asphalt company repair the pavements it has contracted to keep in repair, and why he has failed to make them comply with their contract. Both resolutions received unanimous approval.

THE LOWER BRANCH.

The sewers and drains committee reported favorably upon the appointments of William Dougherty as inspector of the Wyoming avenue sewer, and Thomas Cosgrove as inspector of the new sewer in the Fourteenth ward, and the appointments were confirmed. The re-appointment of M. J. Kelly as member of the board of health for a term of five years, and the appointment of M. J. Ruane as permanent man at the Eagle House home, and Charles P. Beecher, removed, were received from the mayor and forthwith confirmed unanimously.

The old ordinance compelling the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company to lay sidewalks on Betts street was reintroduced by Mr. Robinson. The ordinance providing for the remodeling of the Center street station house passed first and second readings. Adjournment was made until next Thursday night.

In the common branch matters went very smoothly. Quite a volume of old business was resurrected and finally disposed of or hurried on its passage and not much time was lost in debate.

CONDUIT ORDINANCE.

The Central Pennsylvania telephone and telegraph conduit ordinance was called up on third reading by Mr. Gordon. Mr. Gilroy offered a motion seconded by Mr. Gordon that it be passed. Mr. Keller and Mr. Oliver alone voted "no." They and Captain Moir, who voted "yes," explained their votes during roll call.

Mr. Keller and Mr. Oliver said they were willing to undergo the wires but could not support an ordinance which the city did not control. There was no clause in the ordinance, they said, compelling the company to put the wires under ground; councils had declined to include an amendment to that effect, and in consequence they would have to vote negatively. Captain Moir regretted the refusal of councils to insist upon the compulsion amendment, but he believed the company intended to act in good faith and so he would vote "yes."

The ordinance providing for the increase in the city debt for the purpose of increasing Nay Aug park and submitting the question to a city vote was reported favorably by the judiciary committee and referred for printing. The ordinance provides for an issue of bonds in the sum of $90,000.

The Muldoon and Bowie contractors' claim for $2,000 for extra masonry work on the Spruce and Linden street bridges was referred to a special financial committee. It was passed on first and second readings.

PASSED THIRD READING.

The common council ordinance appropriating $1,000 in addition to the $1,000 in the general appropriation ordinance for repairing the old Centre street station house and advertising for bids on the work was passed on third reading and hurried over to the select branch.

Mr. Nealis introduced a resolution, which was adopted, directing the City Engineer to make plans for a lateral sewer to drain all that territory north of West Linden street to Mt. Pleasant street, or that territory now sewer served in that part of the Thirteenth district.

Ordinances passed third reading as follows: Providing for a lateral sewer on Prescott avenue between Pine and Ash streets; providing for a lateral sewer on Farber court between Olive and Ash streets.

The special committee appointed to act in connection with a similar committee from the select branch in arranging for providing for a lateral sewer to participate in the laying of the corner-stone of that city's municipal building, reported progress. The committee was instructed to arrange if possible for a special train to convey the workmen and other city officials to Binghamton, to negotiate with Bauer's band and to provide special badges for the Scranton party. A poll was taken and revealed that but one member could not go, while four were recorded as doubtful.

TENANT BY SUFFRAGE.

Isaac Reichardt, William Conyngham, William Love and Major Fish gave evidence to show that Currington Von Storch was a tenant by suffrage on William's property and that William always controlled and supervised the place. Fred Von Storch, of Yorkers, identified the signature of Mrs. Ellen Sawyer and others of the heirs of Ferdinand on the paper, in which they declared they had no equitable or other title in the disputed land. Mrs. Sawyer on a previous occasion repudiated the paper and refused to acknowledge the signature purporting to be her's to be genuine.

There is a possibility that the case may be finished this week, but it is only a possibility. In all likelihood it will go over into next week.

A rule for a new trial was refused by Judge Edwards in the case of Pasquale Gellotti and A. Gellotti against Ferdinando Arigoni.

FLOWERS, BIRDS AND CHILDREN.

Entertainment given at the Penn Avenue Baptist Church.

One of the prettiest church entertainments ever given in this city was that which delighted a large audience at the Penn Avenue church last night. The entertainment was participated in by the members of the primary department of the Sunday school, Miss Krigbaum being in charge.

Chief among the pleasant adjuncts was the scenic presentation. The entertainment was given in the church lecture room. This had been carefully and generously decorated. The window sills held pots of daisies and laurels with ferns, nicely arranged. In front of a large platform the children sat in tiers. The little folks were dressed in white and the effect was contrasted by a background of red cloth on which circled strings of laurels.

The entertainment was called on the programme: "Flowers, Birds and Children—a Midsummer entertainment." The programme as rendered consisted of thirty-six numbers, songs, stories, recitations, etc., etc. Mrs. Frank P. Brundage assisted with several solos. The effect reflected the highest credit upon the work of the teacher, Miss Krigbaum.

MR. REPOOLE IS NOT SATISFIED

Intends to Apply for a New Trial Today—Two New Suits Called for Trial Yesterday—Von Storch Case Makes But Slow Progress and the End Is By No Means in Sight as Yet—Trying to Get in Luzerne Court Record Testimony.

The jury in the Repogle-Frothingham case after being out nearly five hours returned a verdict yesterday afternoon in favor of the plaintiff. While it agreed with Mr. Repogle that he had been injured it did not exactly agree with his estimate of the damages done. Their difference of opinion is $9,225. Mr. Repogle claiming $10,000 and the jury allowing $75.

Mr. Repogle is not at all satisfied with the finding and will to-day proceed to secure a new trial. Mr. Frothingham on the other hand, is tickled beyond measure over the result. After the verdict was known Mr. Frothingham approached Mr. Repogle and said: "You can take that seventy-five out of the one hundred and twenty-five you owe me and I'll agree to spend the other fifty in a blow out for the court jury, lawyers and newspapermen." Mr. Repogle made no reply.

The cause of Mr. Frothingham's high spirits is found in the fact that had the verdict been for $100 or more he could have been imprisoned for sixty days in case he failed to settle. As it is now he can declare himself insolvent and tell Mr. Repogle to whistle for his award.

In the case of Mrs. Ellen O'Donnell against Charles du Pont Brock the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, which is the full amount of the claim with interest. A new trial was forthwith applied for by Mr. Conneys, attorney for the defendant.

JONES AGAINST MACKEY.

Two new cases were called for trial yesterday morning. Before Judge Edwards in the main court room John W. Jones is seeking to recover $866 from his sisters-in-law, Lillie M. and Lizzie E. Mackey for services rendered in the construction of a building for them. S. B. Price represents the plaintiff. Hon. W. W. Watson and George Mackey of Slatington, appear for the defense.

Before Judge Searle was heard the case of Edward Thayne, against the Scranton Traction company. He claims $5,000 for injuries received in a collision between his car and the power house on the Providence line, Jan. 5, 1895. Thayne was standing on the rear platform when the accident occurred. The force of the collision threw him against a projecting handle bar and, he says, he is now afflicted with a lame back and permanent bladder trouble.

The company's defense was that there was plenty of room inside the car and by taking the extra risk of riding on the platform Thayne was guilty of contributory negligence. The case went to the jury at adjournment time. O'Brien and Kelly represented the plaintiff and Horace E. Hand and I. H. Burns the defendant.

A good part of the time in the Von Storch case yesterday was consumed in wrangling over the admission of records of the Luzerne courts. They were finally ruled out and Prothonotary Llewellyn and Deputy Register of Willis Roderick had their journey for naught.

HOPKINS-WERT NUPTIALS.

Ceremony Performed at the Bride's Home at Dunmore.

Miss Elizabeth Wert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Wert, of Blakely street, Dunmore, was married last evening to Sudler Hopkins, of Dunmore, at the residence of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock by Rev. W. F. Gibbons, assisted by Rev. C. H. Hayes.

The house decorations were of daisies and laurels artistically arranged throughout the residence. Miss Ruby Wert played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the party entered the parlor. The bridal dress was of ivory white antique moire with trimmings of pearl lace. The effect was heightened by a bouquet of bridal roses. Miss Edith Wert, sister of the bride, and Miss Lettie McCullough, of Philadelphia, were bridesmaids. Each lady wore gowns of pink organdie and carried bouquets of pink and white Sweet peas.

The maid of honor was Miss Jessa Wert, who carried a bouquet of white Sweet peas. The bridesmaids were Miss Lettie McCullough, of Philadelphia, who was bridesmaid, and Miss Lettie McCullough, of Philadelphia, who was bridesmaid. REV. DR. BIRD'S LECTURE.

The Dean of Columbia on the Only Way to Have Good Times.

Rev. Dr. Levi Bird, of the local Prohibition church, lectured before a small audience last night in Lucas' hall on East Market street, Green Ridge. His subject was "The Dream of Columbia, or the Only Way to Have Good Times." The dream, or nightmare, which he makes Columbia have is that Prohibition and Free Silver are enthroned side by side in Washington. He argued that the restoration of silver to its proper relative value of 16 to 1 and the suppression of the liquor traffic would bring peace and prosperity to the land and once more there would be good times and plenty of money.

He believed with Gladstone that it is useless to try to effect a successful international bimetallic agreement. Twice has the scheme failed and in the Rev. Doctor's opinion the present attempt will also prove a failure.

The address wound up with a scathing arraignment of gold and gold-bugger. A vote of thanks was tendered the lecturer by the audience and an invitation was extended him to give a Prohibition lecture in the same place in the near future.

DIAMOND EARRINGS PRESENTED.

Leiderkrantz's Pleasant Surprise to Prof. and Mrs. Schilling.

In Music Hall last evening the Leiderkrantz tendered a farewell party to their musical conductor, Prof. W. P. Schilling and his wife, who leave Wednesday for a three months' visit in Germany.

During the progress of the festivities Frank Leutner, president of the Leiderkrantz, sprung a pleasant surprise on Prof. and Mrs. Schilling by presenting the latter with a pair of valuable diamond earrings as a token of the society's appreciation of her services. A response to the speech of presentation was made by Prof. Schilling in behalf of his wife.
