THE ECRANTON TRIBUNE-TUESDAY MORNING. JUNE 22, 1897.

ELECTRIC HAULAGE SYSTEM.

It Has Proved a Great Success in the Bellevue Mine.

So successful has the operation of the electrical haulage system in the Bellevue mines of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company proved that increased means of operating will be placed in the mines. The present system has been in operation for nearly a year and has proved safe, economical and highly useful. Motors of large capacity have arrived, to take the place of the ones now in use upon the electric locomotive and a new and larger locomotive has been ordered.

Electrician Culbertson has hung wire for the transmission of the power which is the largest size of wire in use in trolley systems. Additional lights will probably be placed and increased safety to life and purer air will result.

A SOCIAL SESSION.

In addition to the regular business meeting, Hyde Park lodge, F and A. M., had an interesting social time last night. Rev. James Hughes of Kimberly, South Africa, a Mark Master of a Masonic lodge at that place, gave a delightful address upon the position Masonry occupies in that far-off place. His remarks were very instructive and were greeted with hearty applause, Rev. J. B. Sweet, pastor of the Simpson Methodist church, also addressed the brethren and was heard with interest. On behalf of Hyde Park lodge David J. Davis spoke in a pleasing strain in reference to the presence of such distinguished visitors. The lodge glee club sang several selections. There was a large attendance of members and many visitors from other lodges of the Masonic order.

Durkin, of Luzerne street. was given a hearing before Alderman Moses of the Fifteenth ward last evening at the instance of Miss Kate Bell, of Robinson street, who charges Durkin with being responsible for her present condition. The Columbias and Eagles promptly responded, but their services were not reuired, as the fire had meanwhile been put out. The fire occurred in a bedroom of a residence in Aswell court occupied by a family named O'Neil. It was caused by a vest taking fire and setting a bureau and some curtains on fire. It's Holiday Time Now

The butter-fly has long been flitting about in holiday attire, but threatening skies and uncertain temperature have made thoughtful mortals a little more cautious.

This was only prudent; it was commendable, although we'll admit that we would have had no objections if things had gone differently. There's no use, however, in crying over spilt milk, and if we're left with more warm weather wash goods on hand than we ought to have at this season, there's but one way to undo the mischief, and that is to
