FOREST CITY.

H. W. Williams, of Windsor, N. Y. will be the orator of the day at the Fourth of July celebration to take place under the management of the Young Men's Christian association. Mr. Williams is said by those who have heard him to be an eloquent and forceful speaker. The instrumental music for the occasion will be furnished by the Forest City Citizens' band, and the vocal music will be in charge of Prof. John L. Mcrgan. The executive committee has in view a multiplicity of attractions and is working with method to have the celebration of the day eclipse any previous effort put forth here in that direction.

Four hundred and twenty-six tickets were sold for the fifteen round contest that took place Tuesday night John Chambers and "Reddy" Conley. A large delegation of sports were present from Carbondale, Vandling and Richmondale each furnishing its

There was paid out in teachers' salaries the sum of $3,628.50; interest on bonds, $275; text books and supplies, $637.76; coal and carting, 449. 64; janitor's salary, $80; treasurer's commisson, $115,27; insurance, $67.50. Minor bills, including cleaning school house, advertising and printing, water rent, repairs and material, freight bills, auditors' bill, interest on orders, etc., $245.48, making a total expenditure of $5,919.15. This leaves a cash balance in the hands of the treasurer amounting to $2,280,38, which will go into a sinking fund maintained to pay the school building bonds as fast as they fall due. But the financial part is not all the directors deserve credit for. In the past two years by carefully studying school matters and by the judicious selection of instructors they have built up an institution of learning which the town may well be proud of and this year directors and parents had the satisfaction of witnessing the first graduation exercises of the Forest City graded school. Four pupils were given diplomas and no doubt the class of '98 will be much larger. Such excellent work in every department has been done that it seems entirely fitting to especially com-mend those whose efforts have brought about a state of affairs so satisfactory.

At a meeting of the Epworth league held Tuesday evening in the Methodist church, the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing six months: President, Miss Rena Pentecost; first-vice president, D. Stanley Evans; second vice-president, Miss Eunice Dunn; third vice-president, Mrs. W. J. Maxey; fourth vice-president, Miss Ethel Alexander; secretary, Oliver F. Peasnoll; treasurer, Miss Jessie Stone.

Thomas Jones, who met with an accident at the Clinton mines in Vandling Tuesday, sustained more severe injuries than at first supposed. In addition to the loss of the toes of his left foot, the radius, or smaller bone of the left forearm was broken and he received many painful injuries.

The commissioners of Wayne county, the supervisor of Clinton township, Frank Hollenback, of Carbondale, and the superintendent of the Erie's Jefferson division were here Tuesday. The county officials were looking for the best site for a bridge over the Lackawanna, to take the place of the one that recently collapsed. The logical site would have been at a point be-tween Forest City and the Ontario and

Western railway depot, as the people of western Wayne find Forest City the most convenient market for their pro duce and also the nearest and best place to purchase what they need. At the point named a bridge would make a continuous and direct thoroughfare from Montrose to Honesdale. The commissioners, however, in their inscrutable wisdom, decided to build the bridge near the site of the old D. & H. mill, about half a mile below here, and consequently their constituents in the western part of the county will have to travel a couple of miles extra in coming and returning from market. How will the constit-

GRABLIC SENTENCED.

Pleaded Guilty to Manslaughter and

Got Seven Years. Wilkes-Barre, June 23.-In criminal court this morning, Judge Woodward on the bench, John Grablic, of Pittson, charged with the killing of his half-brother, Michael Grablic, was called for trial. On the advice of his atorneys, Felix Ansart and Frank Donnelly, Grablic entered a plea of guilty of manslaughter. The plea was accepted by the court, and Judge Woodward at once sentenced Grablic to pay a fine of $500, the costs of his case, and to undergo imprisonment for seven years in the Eastern penitentiary.

The crime for which Grablic was senenced was committed on Thursday night, Feb. 11, 1897. Grablic, the murdered man, kept a saloon on North Main street, Pittston, near the St. James hotel. The proprietor went away on the Thursday night in question, leaving his boarders and the prisoner, John Grablic, in charge of the saloon. John, it seems, imbibed too and was intoxicated when Michael, the proprietor, returned home. The proprietor tried to take his brother to bed, when the latter drew a knife and ran the blade into Michael's shoulder, causing a wound from which he died a few days later. The murderer escaped at the time, but was captured friend's home in Sturmerville,

Wilkes-Barre's New Theater Will Be

Called " The Nesbitt." Wilkes-Barre, June 25.-The Record says: The stockholders of the new theater held a meeting yesterday after-noon at Mr. Gunster's office in Coal Exchange building and elected Hon. Charles A. Miner vice president. A very important part of the meeting was the selection of a name by which the new theater would be known. A dozen or more suitable names were suggested by the different directors present, whereupon Hon. Charles A. Miner sug-gested the name "Nesbitt," in honor of Abram Nesbitt, one of the stockholders, which was accepted unanimously It was also decided that all contracts for the erection of the Nesbitt would be awarded on Thursday of this week, the work to be commenced next Monday morning, and pushed forward as rapidly as possible. It is expected that by the first of October the doors will be opened to the public. It will be the prettiest and most modern of the upto-date theaters in Pennsylvania.

TO REVOLUTIONIZE MINING.

Compressed Air to Be Used for Drilling in the Mines.

Hazleton, June 23 .- Says the Standard: A scheme that promises to revolutionize the now laborious task of coal mining by reducing the slavery in connection therewith will be shortly introduced in some of the small hard veins of the South Side mines where the ablest and most industrious workmen find it difficult to make a living owing to the solidity of the coal. This new method proposes to utilize air for drilling coal or rock instead of human power. A machine much the same shape as an air compressor will do the business. One machine will be capable of drilling as much as a dozen miners and can be operated by one man.

The cost of such an arrangement for a large mine such as the Audenried would be from sixteen to eighteen hundred dollars, and not only could the elastic fluid be used for coal cutting purposes, but to ventilate the mine as well. The idea has been advanced by a Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre official.

NO MORE MULES.

Air Power to Handle Cars in a Tunnel at Drifton Colliery.

Hazleton, June 23.-An innovation in the handling of mine cars is about to be introduced by Coxe Bros. & Co. in No. 2 colliery, Drifton. One of the tunnels pitches from five to six degrees and at preent it requires about thirty mules to handle the cars. The services of these much abused animals are to be done away with and the cars are to be moved by an air motor,

On the exterior of the mine a number of air compressors are being placed in position. These compressors will furnish air through tubings and operate an air motor on the interior of the mine. The handling of cars in this manner is something new, and Drifton will be the first colliery to use the new device. If this system of handling cars proves satisfactory it will be introduced at other collieries operated by this firm.

TOO MANA OPERAS.

Composers Have to Pay to Get 'Em Put On.

The fact, says the Sun, that a composer in this city is to furnish the sum of $4,000 to pay for one performance of his opera is an indication of the difficulty which every composer of a serious opera is compelled to struggle against whenever he tries to find an opening for his work. The only opshortly afterward in the garret of a portenity for the production of such works is found in the apparances of the two opera companies that have sung here this year, and with the occasions so few there is practically no way whatever of securing the performance of a new work except by undertaking to guarantee the management against loss.

Even then the experiment is difficult, as the production of a work by the best of the Metropolitan singers would be an undertaking too expensive for any but the wealthiest composer. The comic opera can cost quite as much in its way was shown last year when a young composer is said to have lost about $30,000 on performances of an opera by him that was heard for less than a month.

GERMANY'S CROWN PRINCE. He is Little But He Already Feels His Importance.

On his return to the palace, although he must have known that a flogging awaited him, he received a message summoning him to his father's study, and with perfect composure and with head erect, marched into the emperor's presence.

Pike County Judge Who Ordered s

From the New York Sun. The comment in the Sun of last Sun day on the action of Judge Hopper, Paterson, N. J., in banishing from th state a person convicted of crime for the term of two years, in lieu of sentencing him to state prison, calls t mind a still more peculiar sentence in posed on a negro who was convicted of petit larceny in Pike county, Pa., near ly fifty years ago. The judge wa Daniel W. Dingman, the grandson Andrew Dingman, who came from Duchess county, N. Y., and was the first setler at Dingman Ferry, Pa building a log cabin there in 1737. Judg Dingman was the first judge of Pik county, and continued in office from 1814 for twenty-six years. He frequent ly appeared in court in his shirt sleeve and barefooted.
