GOVERNOR SIGNS HAMILTON BILL

The Holly-Contested Road Measure Becomes a Law.

LOSCH BILL PASSES IN THE SENATE

The Delaware Dam Bill, After Hanging Fire All the Session, Falls on Final Reading—Business Rushed in the House—Mr. Smith Puts the Bills Through at the Rate of One a Minute.

Harrisburg, June 24.—The hot weather that has struck Harrisburg has had the effect of hastening legislation. The senate today passed a resolution providing that after today no bills except revenue and appropriation measures shall be placed on the calendar save by unanimous consent.

The Losch bill abolishing the office of the poor director in counties having a population of 150,000 and over passed finally. In the place of the directors the courts are authorized to appoint trustees to manage the almshouses.

After hanging fire all session the Delaware dam bill, on final passage by a vote of 25 to 15.

HAMILTON ROAD BILL.

Governor Hastings sent word to the house this morning that he had signed the Hamilton road bill. The morning session was given up almost entirely to the consideration of appropriation bills on first and second readings.

Mr. Smith, of Philadelphia, was in the chair and put the bills through at the rate of one a minute. Half of the 120 bills considered today will be taken up tomorrow for third reading and final passage. The other half will be read the second time.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Muehlbroner, of Allegheny, recalling from the governor the amended compulsory education bill for amendment. The Pittsburg charter and classification bills were reported from committee. The latter is better known as the "ripper." The bills have been brought out of committee too late to be put through this session.

A resolution reported from the rules committee this afternoon fixing two sessions for Saturday. One will be held from 9 to 12 in the morning and the other in the afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock. Speaker Boyer informed the house that the first time will be up for third reading and final passage Saturday.

The report was unanimously adopted. Chairman Marshall, reported out another batch of bills from the appropriation committee. Among the bills were the following, the first column representing the amounts granted and the second the amounts asked for.

Table with 3 columns: Description, Amount Granted, Amount Asked. Includes items like Coplanter, Indian School, Warren, American Hospital, etc.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

The report of the conference committee of three on the reform bills to carry out the pledges of the state Republican platform in the campaigns of 1896 and 1897 were taken up at the afternoon session. Mr. Kunkel, of Dauphin, who had the measure in charge, called up the report on the bill to prohibit the payment of occupation or poll tax assessed for state or county purposes of any elector by any person other than the elector against whom such tax is assessed, except upon written and signed order of such elector.

The committee's report on the non-assessment bill was next called up. This measure is intended to prohibit assessments and demands for contributions from officers and employees of the state, or any county or city. Mr. Kunkel, Philadelphia, said he proposed to vote against the bill because it was not in the form in which it had been endorsed by the last two Republican state conventions. The bill has been deprived of its most important features and does not carry out the Republican pledges of reform.

Mr. Kunkel replied that while the bill was not in the shape the most radical reformers desired, it was a step in the right direction. If this measure is defeated it will be the end of reform in this direction for at least two years. If the people cannot get all they want in the way of reform they are willing to take half.

CALLED A FAKE AND FRAUD.

Mr. Crothers, of Philadelphia, said he self-respecting member could afford to vote for the bill. It was a fake and a fraud and the members should not lend themselves to such legislation. By eliminating the words "suggest or solicit contributions" from the bill the conference committee robbed it of its most vital parts.

Mr. Kunkel denied that the bill was a fraud and a fake and challenged Mr.

Crothers to prove his assertion. Mr. Kunkel said the proposition might not be just as the most extreme reformers in Philadelphia desire, but it was a step in the direction of the reform which the people of the state demand.

Mr. Crothers replied he did not pose as a reformer, but as a man who does his duty. He repeated that the bill had been so emasculated as to make it a fraud and a fake. Mr. Crothers then asked Mr. Kunkel why the words "suggest or solicit" were stricken out. Mr. Kunkel replied that this was done by the senate and not by the conference committee.

Mr. Crothers desired to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin further, but Speaker Boyer refused to allow him and directed the clerk to proceed with the roll call. While the clerk was calling the roll Mr. Crothers insisted upon his right to be heard. The speaker ruled that he had spoken twice and was out of order. But Mr. Crothers was persistent and claimed his right to be heard. Finally Mr. Boyer ordered the clerk to stop calling the roll and recognized Mr. Crothers. Mr. Crothers came to the speaker's relief by refusing to be interrogated, whereupon the roll call was continued and the report was adopted by a vote of 108 to 22.

THE WORD "UNDULY."

Mr. Crothers also made a winning fight against the report on the bill to protect the free exercise of the right of suffrage at elections and to prohibit the interference by firemen and policemen with the right to vote. He said this bill was even a bigger fraud than the other and by the insertion of the word "unduly" before the words "solicit or influence any voter" so qualified it as to render the proposition absolutely worthless and inoperative, the clear intention being to legalize rather than prevent interference at the polls.

Mr. Kunkel replied that the word "unduly" was an adjective or qualification frequently used in law and that the bill was all right and ought to be passed. Mr. Maust, of Lancaster, said he was too good a Republican to lend himself to such a farcical proceeding. He challenged Mr. Kunkel to state a single case where the word "unduly" appeared in a penal or criminal statute. The insertion of this word was for the purpose of defeating the alleged object of the bill.

Mr. Maust's speech was received with hearty applause, after which the report of the committee was rejected by a vote of 89 to 10, less than a majority voting. The bill now goes to the senate.

If that body refuses to recede from its amendments the measure falls. The house adjourned at 5:30 until 8 o'clock this evening. The report of the conference committee on the fish bill was called up by Mr. Peoples, of Lancaster, and adopted. The bill now goes to the governor. The evening session was given up almost entirely to the consideration of senate amendments to house bills, none of which are of general interest. The house refused to concur in the state amendments to the fire alarm bill and subsequently reconsidered its action on motion of Mr. Wenk, of Forest. A motion to postpone further consideration of the amendments was adopted. This leaves the bill in the shape in which it originally passed the house.

While the matter was under consideration a resolution was received from the senate that that body had receded from its amendments. The bill goes to the executive. The house adjourned at 10 o'clock until 10 tomorrow morning.

PROTEST OF AGENTS.

The Insurance Men Are Given a Hearing Before the Senate Finance Committee.

Harrisburg, June 24.—The senate finance committee gave a hearing to a delegation of Philadelphia insurance men this afternoon on the bill taxing insurance companies from 9 mills to 8 cents on premiums received in Pennsylvania. The following statement was filed by the delegation:

This bill is suicidal, inasmuch as in order to raise $223,586 revenue, taxes same upon companies foreign to this state, thereby causing its own companies to lose $580,566 into the coffers of other states as retaliatory taxes, and not content with this, going some further, in order to raise not over $1,270 from companies operated from abroad, imposes a 1 per cent. tax on one or possibly two American companies of the state of New York operated from Europe, resulting in the additional penalizing of Pennsylvania companies a further sum of $116,113 to outside states, a total of $223,136 raised to the state at the expense of $996,679 taken out of the pockets of Pennsylvanians. If this is not financial suicide of a distinction without a difference.

The proposed bill is unconstitutional because it taxes Pennsylvania insurance companies, 9 per cent. of whose stock is owned in Europe, the same rate as that on the stock of one per cent. and taxes one, 51 per cent. of whose stock is owned in Europe, or whose business is carried on for the benefit of a European company, for the same rights and privileges to transact in this state as those enjoyed by a corporation doing business within this state, four per cent. In other words these two corporations, each a citizen of this state, are to pay grossly unequal rates of taxation because of the location of their stockholders has complexion of their stockholders has changed one per cent. either way.

The constitution of Pennsylvania, article IX, section 1, provides "all taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax." It is unconstitutional to tax an European company four per cent. and an American company three per cent. for the same privileges because as to this state both are equally foreign, and for the further reason that the right to regulate international relations is vested exclusively in the federal government by means of treaties and federal statutes.

The committee promised to defer further action on the bill in the senate until Monday night, Colonel Beatty, Messrs. Kramer, Tenny, Fryer, Creighton and other Philadelphia insurance men spoke in opposition to the proposed system of taxation.

TRIAL OF MOORHEAD.

Charged with Mal-Practice in the Case of Letitia Adams.

Kittanning, June 24.—The trial of Dr. Moorehead and Jennie O'Dell, of Punxsutawney, was begun here today. The defendants are charged with malpractice, resulting in the death of Letitia Adams, at Parker, May 15. A motion to quash the indictment was made and refused. The trial will probably consume the balance of the week.

SAENGERFEST PICNIC.

Fifty Thousand Persons Participate in the Enjoyments at Washington Park.

Philadelphia, June 24.—Fully 50,000 persons participated in the Saengerfest picnic at Washington park this afternoon and evening. At 6 o'clock this evening President Lenz, of the Saengerbund, announced to the vast assemblage the successful contestants for the prizes.

The prizes for the singing contests of the Northeastern Saengerbund were awarded tonight as follows: City federations—First class societies; won by United Singers of Brooklyn (only one prize in this class); second class societies, United Singers, Hudson county, N. J., first; United Singers, of Trenton, second, Individual societies of first class: First Prize, won by Arion, of Newark; second, Harmonists, of Newark; third, Orpheus, of Buffalo.

Individual societies second class—First prize, Maennerchor, of New York; second, Elchenkranz, of New York; third, Franz Schubert Maennerchor, of New York. Maennerchorverein Liberty, of Newark, and Arion, of Jersey City tied for fourth prize. Individual societies third class—First prize, Delaware Saengerbund, of Wilmington; second, Verneberger Verein, of New York; third, Cecelia, of Brooklyn.

FAMILY OF FIGHTERS.

Father, Mother and Son Make Charges of Assault Against Each Other at Butler, This State.

Butler, June 24.—In Justice Gilchrist's court here this morning, Eickart Kalb, a court-armed veteran, his wife and son James, were held for trial on charges of assault and battery made by each other. Mrs. Kalb made information against her husband and son for aggravated assault and battery, alleging that they pulled her hair, struck her with their fists and kicked her, causing serious illness.

James Kalb, the son, 18 years old, who resides with his father, brought an action against his mother for assaulting him with a strap with a buckle on the end, which inflicted severe wounds. The old soldier did not deny the assault on his wife, but claimed that she was made in self-defense. He said his wife assumed herself by chasing him and his children out of the house with an axe and then to strike them with a double-barrel shotgun. He claimed the children frequently were driven from the house at night by the mother and had to sleep in the barn.

NEWSPAPER MEN BANQUET.

Biennial Gathering of Legislative Correspondents' Association.

Harrisburg, June 24.—The biennial banquet of the Legislative Correspondents' association was held tonight at the Commonwealth hotel. For the first time in its history the banquet was confined exclusively to active newspaper workers, twenty-five of whom sat at the flower-laden tables. The menu cards were in the form of a senate bill, and contained besides the bill of fare, an original poem by Walter Bolger, of the Philadelphia Record, Colonel George Nox McCain, of the Philadelphia Press, governor of the association, was toastmaster. Speeches by A. K. Pedrick, of Philadelphia, the oldest legislative correspondent in active service; by George M. Wanbaugh, of the Associated Press; Colonel Henry Hall, Washington correspondent Pittsburgh Times; George Barton, of the Philadelphia Inquirer; Walter J. Christy, lieutenant governor of the association, of the Pittsburgh Commercial-Gazette; James Israel, of the Pittsburgh Dispatch; Leon D. Bancroft, of the Philadelphia Times; "Colonel" Sam Hudson, of the Item, and Thomas M. Jones, of the Harrisburg Telegraph, with songs by Peter J. Hoban, of the Philadelphia Ledger; Edward S. Holliday, of the Pittsburgh Press, and Harry S. Calvert, of the Pittsburgh Leader, and recitals by James A. Sweeney, of the Philadelphia Record, completed the programme of the evening.

Hon. John H. Fow, of the Philadelphia Star and bar, John A. McKenna, of the Philadelphia Ledger; Joseph Rodgers, managing editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer; Morgan E. Gable, managing editor of the Pittsburgh Times; W. A. Connor, manager Associated Press, Philadelphia, and Senator W. C. Spruill, of the State Times, were the guests of honor.

STATE LUTHER LEAGUE.

Convention Held at Altoona Lutheran Church.

Altoona, June 24.—The fourth annual meeting of the State Luther League convened at the Altoona Lutheran church here today and will remain in session till tomorrow evening. Two hundred and ten delegates are present. The state president, Dr. H. Louis Baugher, of Gettysburg, is presiding. Reports of officers and greetings were heard this morning. This afternoon L. Trautman, esq., of Pittsburg, talked on the dangers of the league, and Rev. G. Drach, of Philadelphia, on its safeguards.

This evening Dr. M. W. Haman, of Altoona, delivered an address of welcome which was responded to by President Baugher. The president also submitted his report. "Our Young People's Society" will be the topic for discussion tomorrow morning. The elections of officers will take place in the afternoon. It is most likely that the old officers will be re-elected.

DROWNED WITH A STONE IN HIS NECK.

Lancaster, June 24.—The body of a drowned man was found in the canal at Marietta today. About the neck was tied a rope and to the other end a large stone was tied. At the inquest held by the coroner witnesses identified the body as that of a tramp who has been in the neighborhood begging for several days. The body had apparently been in the water about four days, and the coroner's jury considered it a case of suicide.

Pension for a Soldier's Daughter.

Penfield, June 24.—The widow of Captain Moses W. Lucore, living near here, was receiving $17 per month pension when she married again and the pension ceased. Now her daughter, Ada, who is crippled, has been granted $1,900 of arrears, the $17 per month and $2 additional from June, 1890, and hereafter.

Killed in an Almshouse.

Ebensburg, June 24.—A young man, inmate of the Cambria county almshouse, while coming down stairs, fell and died instantly from the effect of her injuries. She was from Wilmore and was aged 40 years.

BASE BALL UNIFORM CONTEST.

This will be the last day for voting to decide which amateur club shall receive the Tribune's prizes. At 9 o'clock tonight the vote will close and the result will be announced in tomorrow morning's issue. Following is the standing of the clubs:

Table with 2 columns: Club Name, Score. Includes West Side Browns, South Side Grays, High School, etc.

AMATEUR BASE BALL.

Lackawanna Were Victorious by a Score of 10 to 5.

The strongest amateur team, the Lackawanna, defeated the St. Thomas College team at Athletic park yesterday afternoon by a score of 10 to 5.

Griffin did some very clever twirling for the college boys but was a trifle wild at times and at the times when he was sending men to base on balls he was also hit hard. The last three innings were the most disastrous for him.

The features of the game were the heavy hitting of Gaughan of the Lackawanna, who made six hits in six times at bat, and the infield work of Morris of the Lackawanna and Mr. Laughlin of the college team. Cavley pitched a good steady game for the Lackawanna.
