Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Binghamton, July 5 .- The cornerstone of the handsome city hall the Parlor city contemplates erecting was leader. laid this afternoon with imposing ceremonles which were in charge of the grand lodge of Masons of the State of New York. A feature of the exercises was a forceful and eloquent address by United States Senator William E. tiful Mason of Illinois, whose voice was so often heard in the senate when the Cuban resolution was under discussion re-

City officials of a number of cities of New York and Pennsylvania came here to assist the officials of Binghamton in properly celebrating the occasion. Up to this time Binghamton had not indulged in the luxury of a city building and naturally her inhabitants look upon this as a momentuous and important occasion in the history of their municipality. Among the cities that sent big delegations were Buffalo, Elmira, Albany, Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. All the cities and towns within a radius of seventy-five miles were also prominently represented at the gathering.

Natty little John Palmer, secretary of state of New York, came over from his home in Rochester to join in the festivities. Although he wore a high hat

Ing of the corner stone was con-siderably smaller than it would have been had the weather been less torrid but it was a very sightly and imposing demonstration, nevertheless. There was a liberal sprinklinig of decorations all along the line of march. The militia, fire companies and civic societies of Bingham-ton comprised the bulk of the parade. Only a few of the organizations in line came from outside of the city.

LAYING THE CORNER STONE. At 1 p. m. the exercises incident to the laying of the corner stone was opened by Mayor Green. A large chor-us of members of the New York state Music Teachers' association now holding a convention in this city, sang 'America" and Rev. James H. La Roche, rector of Trinity Memorial church of this city, offered prayer. An address on the significance of the ceremonies was delivered by William A. Southerland, Grand Master Mason, of New York state. The oration of the day was delivered by United States Senator William E. Mason, after the corner stone was laid. The first benediction was pronounced by Rev. Ward Sutherland, of Oxford, N. Y., chaplain of the Grand Lodge of that state. The following selections were sung by the Anthracite Glee club, of Scranton, while the exercises were in pro-gress: "Becker's March," "America," and "Comrades at Arms." At 4 oclock in the afternoon a banquet was served at the Hotel Bennett to the visiting city officials. Addresses were delivered by a number of those present and several selections were endered by the Anthracite Glee club. The Scranton visitors were guests of Mayor Green who left nothing undone for their comfort during the day. During the afternoon a fantastic bicycle parade created much merriment along the line of march and at 7.30

there was a concert at Court House square by the bands that participated in the parade. There were over one hundred musicians playing under one At 8,30 began the most beautiful pyrotechnic exhibition that Binghamton has ever seen. THE CITY HALL.

At a special election held on March 24, 1896, the people of Binghamton decided to build a city hall and a property on Collier street near Court street was purchased for that purpose. Across the street the foundation of the new Broome county court house is being laid to take the place of the ancient structure destroyed by fire some time ago. The proposed city hall will be of the French Renaissance style of architecture and will be five stories in Light buff Indiana lime height. stone is to be used principally in the erection of the building, which will be modern and up to date in all of its

Important Tariff Amendments Placing Stamp Tax Are Agreed to in Senate. THE MUNICIPAL BONDS EXEMPT

The Senate Makes Good Progress in Agreeing to Important Additions to the Tariff Bill Which Meet but Little Opposition---Several New tors Voted on.

Washington, July 5 .- Senator Alson, in charge of the tariff bill announced shortly before the adjournment of the senate tonight that as no agreement had been reached for a final vote on the tariff bill he would ask the senate to remain in session tomorrow night at least until the bill was reported from committee of the whole to the senate. This promises a test of endurance unless the opposition to the bill gives away. Mr. Alison's statement was made after another futile effort to have a time fixed for the vote In some respects the senate made good progress today, disposing of two important amendments, that placing a stamp tax being agreed with little or no opposition and without the formality of a vote, while the Spooner amendment proposing a tariff investigation was withdrawn after a protracted struggle. The stamp amend-ment as agreed to fixes the following rate on bonds, etc.: "Bonds, debentures or certificates of indebtedness issued after September 15, 1897, by any association, company or corporation on each hundred dollars of face vaue or fraction thereof, five cents; and on each original issue whether an organization or reorganization, certificates of stock by any such association, company or corporation, on each hundred dollars of face value or fraction thereof, five cents; and on all transfers of shares or certificates of stock in any association, com pany or corporation on each hundred dollars or face value or fraction thereof, two cents." Exemptions from the stamp tax are made in the case of the state, county and municipal bonds and the stocks and bonds of co-operative building associations. Late in the day several new amendments from individual senators was voted on. One by Mr. Mantle, Mon-tana, reducing the internal revenue tax on distilled spirits to 70 cents per gallon was defeated, 23-41. An amend ment by Mr. Mills, of Texas, proposing a tax of five per cent. on manufactured products, the proceeds to go toward reducing the bonded debt was rejected,

Also an amendment by Mr. 19-38. Mills granting 20 per cent. reduction in duties to those countries admitting gold and silver to their mints at the ratio of 16 to 1, yeas. 26; nays, 31.

In the afternoon the Connecticut River shad seining boat Hattie B., with Frederick Merchant and Cyrus Allyn, two young fishermen from East Haddam, Conn. on board, came running into the harbor. Both men were in a state of excitement, and declared that they had an encounter with a cream-colored sea snake while on their way to the island from Watch Hill, and when midway between Point Judith and Clay Head. So suddenly did it appear that Merchant had not time to shift his helm, and for for an instant he caught sight of a pair of great brown eyes glaring at him from the light-colored head of the monster. The head was as large as a man's body, was shaped much like that of a horse, and was covered with long hairs. Water was spurting from the nostrils. Just before the boat reached the serpent it dived beneath the water and came up far astern, its body making long undulations as it swam rapidly out of sight.
