Swift, of the Presbyterian church, who named a number of good points in Methodism. Rev. R. M. Roderick, of the Baptist church, complimented the church on having cancelled a large debt. Homer Greene, esq., spoke of the church home and of the value of the Honesdale churches to this whole community. Presiding Elder Thorpe, in his closing remarks, spoke with much feeling of the many citizens, regardless of denomination, who aided them so nobly PENNSYLVANIA in clearing their beautiful church from debt. They start out on their twentysixth year, he said, with the largest membership in the history of the church. A large choir furnished special music. It was truly a happy an-

ONE WIDOW'S THOUGHTFUL COW

Every Night She Brings Home on Her Horns Enough Fuel to Last the dreaming. Next Day .- Singular Tastes of a South Gibson Pony and Other Vera-cious Chroniclings from the Northeastern County.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, July 6 .- A cow is the property of a poor widow in Jackson, who supports herself by taking in washing. Every night in the winter when the cow comes home to be milked she brings enough wood and brush on her horns to keep her mistress in fuel for the next day. If her pasture ground is needed for bleaching purposes the cow goes into a neighboring cowfield to eat. She always rests under a tree during the noon hour, and starts to eat again at 1 o'clock precisely. The cow is of a sky-blue color, dappled with yellow.

A resident of South Gibson has a pony which, besides feeding as horses usually do, will satisfy carnivorous tastes if he gets a chance. He has been known to devour very young chickens straying within his reach, and the sudden disappearance from the stable of litter of kittens, while their unsuspecting mother had gone away for few moments' change and rest, from HEARD ON THE BOULEVARD. Over 1,300 Susquehannars on Monday sizzled and fried on the streets of Binghamton, witnessing the parade and corner store laying.

Hon, W. W. Mumford has been appointed postmaster at Starrucca. The Erie shops were closed on Monday and Susquehanna people celebrat-ed "the 5th" away from home.

Rev. E. F. Allen, for some years past in charge of the church in Wellsburg, N. Y., has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Susqueharna Baptist church. A delegation of Susquehanna and vicinity people is preparing to take in the great Epworth league gathering in Toronto. Several Susquehanna people received invitations to attend Tammany Hall's celebration of the Fourth of July. MONTROSE'S LATEST FREAK.

Our stately friend, the Montrose Republican, seldom permits a sensational story or a joke to appear in its columns, hence when the following was found on its local page on Saturday, some of the older readers fled to the mountains: "About two weeks ago a three-legged chicken was hatched on the farm of George C. Campbell, of Chicago (formerly the Passmore farm, n Bridgewater township). Mr. Campbell is going to send it on to a Chicago museum." The Republican is "kett!ng there" with neatness and dispatch. RAILROAD MENTIONETTES. Traffic on the Jefferson branch was partially suspended on Monday. The presence of a man and a theodolite serves to revive the antiquated rumor that the Delaware and Hudson company is preparing to build a branch of its own between Lanesboro and Carondale.

There is a heavy run of coal on the Jefferson branch. There are rumors of increased workng hours on the Erie in the various

> The cost of the Starrucca viaduct, at Lanesboro, built in cheap times, was about $325,000. It was built in two and one-half years.

The original cost of the old Cascade oridge, four miles east of Susquehanna, was about $160,000, and, to fill up the entire space beneath it, some years ater, cost $275,000, and consumed ten years' time.

The Erie has discovered that some ody has been counterfeiting its 1,000mile books.

The Brooks Locomotive works, of Dunkirk, is shipping locomotives to China and Japan. Several passed over the Erie last week.

Nearly all of the locomotives on the Delaware and Hudson road on, Saturday were decorated with flags.

REASON FOR PSALMUEL'S FAITH. Brer Psalmuel More, the sage of the Great Bend Plain-Dealer, in commenting on the alleged finding of terra cotta and coal at Steam Hollow, Great Bend township, says: "We have had great faith in the final success of this enterprise ever since Mr. Hollenback informed us years ago that a fortune-teller in New York who knew nothing of the mining interests here had predicted that there was mineral wealth to be discovered in Steam Hollow, Besides this he had dreamed of such success. We are a believer in dreams when they come to pass, and as a resuit we are not surprised that there is terra cotta clay in Steam Hollow."

A NEW REMEDY.

Peregrinating Brer Ross, of the Honesdale Independent, comes to the front with a new remedy for the whooping cough. The three-year-old child of a Ledgedale family had the whooping cough in a severe form. An old lady happened along and told the father to go to the brook, catch a trout, mark he place where he caught it and bring it alive to the house. He did so, and woman took the trout out of the pail, shook the water from it and held t so that three drops of water fell from the mouth of the fish into that of the child. She replaced the trout in the pail and directed the man to put it back where he caught it, remarking: "The boy is cured of the whooping cough, but the fish will die of it." The child recovered. There is no record of the death of the fish.

Society of Bloodthirsty Poles Unearthed in Pennsylvania.

Wilkes-Barre, July 6.—The Polish Avenging association has been unearthed and its alleged leader jailed. The police blame many recent outrages on the society. Peter Shorenski incurred the enmity of members of the society and was notified to leave the country, but refused. An attempt was made to fire his house and he was set upon a month ago and badly beaten and left for dead in the road. He hovered between life and death for a week. He said that one of his assailants was Mike Riddle.

Martin Renshanus, a friend of Shorenski's, had Riddle arrested for feloni ous wounding. Three times a hearing was set by Alderman Donohue and each time Renshanus failed to appear Riddle was again arrested, and this time Shorenski was the prosecutor. Renshanus was present and was asked by the alderman why he had not ap-peared. He said his life had been threatened by the avengers if he appeared against Riddle.
