CITY NOTES.

The board of control will meet tonight. Bishop O'Hara confirmed a class of 150 children at St. John's church, Pittston yesterday.

Tuesday evening councils will hold another joint session and endeavor to select a city solicitor.

Peter Groff, who gave his age as 55 and his place of residence, Scranton, was overcome by the heat in New York Saturday.

John McDonald was arrested by Special Officer Durkin Saturday for jumping on Lehigh, Lackawanna and Western trains. Alderman Millar committed McDonald to the county jail.

The Penn Avenue Baptist church will have a picnic at Lake Ariel tomorrow. The train will leave the Erie and Wyoming station on Washington avenue at 8.30 o'clock. Tickets for adults will be 50 cents and for children 25 cents.

James Collier was before Alderman Millar Saturday on a charge of larceny, preferred by a Mrs. Potter. The theft of a necktie, a pair of shoes and the defrauding of a board bill were his alleged offenses. He was committed to jail for his appearance at court.

John Carroll and Thomas Lyman, who were arrested Saturday night on suspicion that they had stolen a package containing shirts, collars and cuffs from a man who sat down on the curb stone, on Ridge row and went to sleep, were discharged yesterday morning in police court.

Jennie Betts, of No. 23 Lackawanna avenue, was arrested Saturday and taken before Alderman John T. Howe, where she entered bail for her appearance at court. The warrant for her arrest was sworn out by Gertrude Cornell, who says that Madame Betts is obtaining a trunk belonging to the prosecutor, "Miss Cornell" recently, when they quarreled. Then Gertrude left, afterward sending for her trunk. Madame Betts refused to surrender it, saying that money was due her by "Miss Cornell" for board.

BOOTBLACKS AT WAR.

Firm of Greenburg & Newman Did Not Last Long.

Henry Greenburg and Max Newman are bootblacks, and last week they formed a partnership. Newman provided the capital, a box, and Greenburg furnished the labor. The money was to be divided equally by the two. Greenburg did not divide and Newman swore out a warrant, charging larceny by baillee.

The case came up before Alderman Millar Saturday and Greenburg was discharged, with the advice to have nothing more to do with Newman.

HEAVEN'S GATES WHO SHALL ENTER

Rev. Dr. Dixon's Last Sermon Before His Summer Vacation.

UNBELIEVER IS NOT RESTRICTED

One's Unbelief, Dr. Dixon Contended, Is Not an Unfavorable Sign as It Makes the Doorway of Heaven Open—Christ the Main Gateway. Only the Blasphemous and the Deified Are Barred Out—Christ Said That He Was the Way.

The last sermon of Rev. Dr. Joseph K. Dixon before his summer vacation was preached to his congregation last night in the First Baptist church. His topic was "Heaven's Open Gates—Who Shall Enter." His texts were Rev. xxi:25 and 27, "And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day." "And there shall in nowise enter into it anything that defileth," Dr. Dixon said.

On the barrenest island of the Aegean sea a young man had his eyes turned toward heaven. There were raptures of vision to reward him and floods of glory to pour in upon him. Listen to the music of that speech that John listened to: "God shall wipe all tears from their eyes—a land without tears—that is your open gate. You are sorry for sin, that is your open gate. You are tired of the useless sort of life you have been living, that is your open gate.

The lesson is plain. Whatever may be your ideas of Christ, however you conceive him—begin right there to tread your way in and at last the glorious sun of righteousness will burst in upon your soul.

When I ask you to accept the Lord Jesus as your only Saviour, does it seem to you a wrong thing? Is it a thing that you consider to be a hindrance? Is it a matter that would merit the displeasure of your intelligence? I think not. It is a thing that you should be glad to do. It is a thing that you should be glad to do. It is a thing that you should be glad to do.

Who may enter? If I leave no other thought with you this hour, let me impress you with this fact that the teaching here set forth is not my own. It is not for any man to say who shall go in through the gates into the city. Christ said, "I have been on this earth, he had suffered death at the hands of the mocking generation whom he came to serve—he had come forth a victor from the darkness of the grave. He had climbed the heavenly steps and he is the speaker in the vision before John.

GATES ARE ALWAYS OPEN. "And there shall in no wise enter into it anything that defileth." These gates are open—always open—never in the refuse of the way. The gates are open—always open—never in the refuse of the way. The gates are open—always open—never in the refuse of the way.

HOPE ABANDONED. The press of our time lavishes great praise upon a contemporary French sculptor by the name of Auguste Rodin. Little time ago, Rodin, then minister of state, gave Rodin a commission to make gates of bronze such as Ghiberti made for the baptistery of Florence. These gates were to adorn a museum of decorative art, which is not yet built. The subject was to be a synthesis of art and genius. Then if you go back into the little times of Christ, you will find Rodin in his studio a magnificent ruin. The architectural beauty, the bronze doors of the baptistery in Florence will forever stand forth as noble specimens of art and genius.

their gates, or stay out of heaven. Let me help you to step in some of the gates through which you may enter heaven. I should say to you, some of the "Christ-gates, for it is of Him I wish to speak. He said to His disciples, "I am the way." He said again: "I am the door, by Me, if any man enter in, he shall be saved. Now let your thought travel out to the vision of the gates. The open doors, and the lesson may be applied to the emptiness of the entrance to heaven. He is a deliverer who is not alone the way, but He is all ways. Ask a score of people in this audience what Christ is to them, and their answers will be as varied as would be their description of a summer sunset. To some heart He is a tender friend—to another he has come as a healer of a broken heart—to another He is a deliverer from sin. In short we look upon Christ through the necessities of our life. As one who forgives, as one who heals, as one who comforts as one who brings joy—this is your open gateway—enter in and be saved.

THE GATEWAYS TO HEAVEN. There are twelve gates to the eternal city—three of which are open to all of us will have the same experience that has been the lot of some other man. There is only one name given under heaven whereby we must be saved, mark you, it does not say only one way, Christ is the way, and his gateways are as many as the needs of the race.

ANOTHER JUDGE WILL BE CALLED IN

Cornelius Smith Applied to Court for a Change of Venue.

THAT REQUEST WAS REFUSED

Judge Archbald After a Short Consultation with the Other Judges Handed Down an Order Setting Forth That When the Case is at Issue for a Trial It Will Be Certified to the Judge of Some Adjoining District.

Cornelius Smith made another effort Saturday to secure a change of venue for the case of Fellows against Smith. He again failed but was given the satisfaction of knowing that when the case comes up for trial an outside judge will be called to preside in it. When court opened Saturday morning, with Judges Archbald and Edwards on the bench, Mr. Smith walked in and after writing his name in the motion book sat down within the bar enclosure to await his turn.

The list of attorneys who had, by writing their names in the register, signified their desire to make a motion, was called over but Mr. Smith's name was not called and an examination of the register afterwards showed that Judge Archbald had not been called, however, and when the attorneys had concluded, he approached the bench and announced that he desired as one of the parties in the case, to make a motion in the Fellows-Smith suit. Judge Archbald told him to proceed, whereupon he presented the following:

To the Honorable Judges of Said Court: The petitioner, Cornelius Smith, one of the above named defendants, on behalf of the defendant, respectfully represents that a trial according to the process of law means a trial before an impartial, unprejudiced and independent judge.

UNFAVORABLE BETWEEN THEM. That owing to long standing and still existing trouble of a serious nature between the petitioner and Hon. R. W. Archbald, Hon. F. W. Gunster and Hon. H. M. Edwards, the judges who by law are required to try this suit, the petitioner has strong reasons for believing and does firmly believe that the said judges are strongly prejudiced against him and against his interests involved in the issue in this case.

THE PETITION AMENDED. The petition was handed back to Mr. Smith and he was told he would have to strike out the clause in which it was stated that "as far as the petitioner could understand anything presented to the said judges by the petitioner would not be received." The offensive clause was struck out by Mr. Smith and then the judges told him he would be heard on the motion.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES. A divorce was granted Saturday in the case of Ridgway vs. Ridgway. Court's summer recess began Saturday at noon and continues until Aug. 14. The executors of the late Dr. B. H.

Throp on Saturday issued a $1,500 execution against Frank Ambrey. Joseph Pawlewski and Frank Medea were discharged from the county jail Saturday under the insolvency law. Michael McDonald, treasurer of the Carbondale school district, filed his bond on Saturday with Prothonotary Pryor. It was in the sum of $1,000 and has as sureties John Gordon, Michael Kelly and F. H. Cummings.

TWO BICYCLE ACCIDENTS.

Mrs. Charles Conrad and George Goodrich Slightly Injured. Mrs. Charles Conrad, of Green Ridge, narrowly escaped death or serious injury Friday evening by being struck by a street car. Mrs. Conrad was riding on her wheel along North Washington avenue toward Green Ridge street and a Suburban car was coming along in the same direction. The cyclist attempted to cross the track and was struck by the fender. The wheel went beneath the car and was completely wrecked but the rider was fortunately thrown into the fender. Beyond the shock and several bruises, Mrs. Conrad appeared none the worse for her exciting experience.

Assault and Battery Charged. Charles Getts had Joseph Rossar arrested and brought before Alderman O. B. Wright, Saturday. Getts charges Rossar with assault and battery. The alderman held Rossar in $300 bail for court. Both men are residents of the South Side.
