CROPS RUINED BY A STORM.

Fruit Cut from the Trees and Grain Fields Mowed Clean.

Stroudsburg, July 11 .-- A severe eloc trical storm passed over a portion of Pike county, doing considerable damage. Farmers along the Raymondikill creek report much damage to crops, which, with fruit trees, suffered to a considerable extent, in some instances the trees being almost wholly depleted of fruit. In places the grain was cut as clean as if a mowing machine had passed through the fields, and corn was left in shreds. There was considerable hail in Dingman township. Lightning played queer pranks at Mittord and Brookside Villa, in which places respectively Augusta Brach and Miss Catharine Brodhead were stunned by electric bolts. A lightning bolt also

So extensive was his business, that thirty-five years ago he controlled the live stock markets of Eastern Penn-sylvania and New York. The railroads did not carry stock at that time and 300 head of cattle were driven in a body, from purchasing points to selling points.

CHAUTAUOUANS' OUTING.

Prominent People Leave Stroudsburg for Delaware Water Gap. Stroudsburg, July 11 -Those who at n attendance at the Normal Chautauqua enjoyed a short trip to the Delaware Water Gap yesterday. On Monday a large number are expected, and during the week the following well-known in srtuctors will be present: Miss J. W. Shoemaker, president Naional School of Education and Oratory, Philadelphia; Professor George B.

Hynson, vice-president National School f Elocution and Oratory, Philadelphia; Professor H. E. Coggswell, Mansfield, MISSING MAN HEARD FROM.

Stroudsburg, July 11 .- William Winsboro, who was widely known as the pioneer in the exportation of slate from this section of the country and who disappeared from Bangor several months ago, has been heard from. He has been residing in San Francisco, Cal., for some time, where he was engaged in selling a patent desk lamp, deing business under the name of Wil Itam Artbuil.

SCHOOL BOARD DEADLOCKED.

Stroudsburg, July 11 .- East Stroudsurg's school board is in a deadlock over the selection of a principal to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. J. J. Unger. There are 35 applicants and 35 ballots have been taken without result. Another attempt to elect will be made next Wednesday.

FOREST CITY.

The centers of the crosswalks on the orough streets are being lowered. To do his the walks have to be relaid. George Coles, jr., and George Brain are doing the work.

An excursion will be run from Fores City to Lanesboro on Friday next, July 16. The train will leave here at 8.30 a. m. and eturning, will leave Lanesboro at 6 p. m. anesboro park is situated on the Susquehanna river and the locality is a very cturesque one. There are two steamboats on the river, a tobosgan flide, good fishing and an excellent place for bathing. Altogether it is a place where most people could pass a day very comfortably -especially a day resembling one of last week's samples. The round trip fare from here is 75 cents for adults and 40 cents for children. Strang to say, the posters announcing this excursion do not state who, which or what is running the affair. But the train will probably be on time and no doubt there will be plenty of op-portanity to secure tickets.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cunningham have returned from their wedding tour and taken up their residence in Forest City. H. K. Vatgban spent last week in Wilkes-Barre, Luther Ledyard, of Pleasant Mount,

Wayne county, was the guest of his brother, George Ledyard, on Saturday. FIRE COMPANY DOINGS.

THE STRIKE'S REAL CAUSE

miner primarily depend upon the activity and prosperity of the manufacturer, since machinery is moved by steam in the production of which coal the number of mills and gives employnent to mill hands increases work for the miner, but whatever reduces the number of mills in operation shortens the number of hours or diminishes the number of operatives, is as much against the intersts of the miner as it is against the interests of the mechanic. The suspension or reduction of work in factories, business establishments of arious kinds and industries of all sorts in all parts of the country resulting from the operations of the Wilson law caused a great reduction in the demand for coal and combined with the depressing effect of importations to still further reduce the demand for the labor of the miners and the prices paid for their services. While the amount of coal actually imported is only about four million tons a year or sufficient to throw out of employment about eight thousand miners, the loss in markets to American mines by the suspension of manufacturing was much greater.

DEMOCRATS ALARMED. The present strike of the coal miners

s looked upon with great alarm by Democratic leaders here. It calls attention directly and pointedly to the fact that their legislation is beyond question responsible for the reductions of wages, all of which, according to President Ratchford, have occurred since the inception of that legislation. Not only is the Democratic party responsible for the reduction of 35 cents per ton which caused this reduction in wages, but many of the men most prominent in its councils and as its leaders urged and even demanded a removal of the entire duty on coal, placing it absolutely upon the free list, which would have doubtless still further reduced the wages of miners. William J. Bryan, whose name and theories are to be especially prominent in the approaching state campaign, was one of the most earnest and active members of the wing of his party which demanded the removal of the entire congress, January 13, 1894: "The duty on coal is indefensible. * * The duty on coal is nothing but a subsidy, which the people along the sea-coast are compelled to pay to the transpor-tation companies. • • Take the the tariff off from coal, so that the New England manufacturers can buy it for less and they can manufacture more cheaply, and then by cutting down the Scranton Traction Co 95 tariff on the products of their factories

New York, July 10 .- The day's market for stocks was devoid of interest. The two hours of trading on Saturday lack the usual degree of activity as a rule. Today was a holiday on the London ex-change, set apart to house cleaning. The usual tone imparted to the opening here by London was lacking. The heated term has deliven many active operators term has driven many active operators in the market out of town and the attendance on the exchange was small. The total shares of stocks today were 54,962.

WARDEN SUES FOR FOOD BILL.

Claims Luzerne County Owes Him $3,360 for Keeping Prisoners.

Wilkes-Barre, July 11 .- Owing to the refusal of County Controller Lloyd to pay Warden Boland his bill for feeding the county prisoners, Mr. Boland has begun action against the county, The plaintiff in his statement says the prison commissioners entered into an agreement with him, allowing him thirty cents a day for the feeding of prisoners; that he fed 123 prisoners and and 8 vagrants in April: 118 prisoners and 4 vagrants in May, and 121 prisoners and 4 vagrants in June; that the county of Luzerne became indebted to the said warden $3.360 on July 1, but refuses to pay the same.

This is the beginning of the legal contest which will decide if the prison commissioners have power to appoint and make rates with the warden.

Johns to at once secure quarters at Wilkes-Barre and has bar-gained with Michael Krantz to convey the hose wagon to that place the day be-fore the convention. A committee wag appointed to meet with the borough council and ascertain whither or not they would be willing to provide suitable quarters for a team in case one was purchased.

and if they would employ the team in do-ing such borough work as required the use of horses. The company's hose cart is very heavy and therefore inconvenient and somewhat slow. With the aid of a team the new wagon could be used, enabling the firemen to reach the scene of action much quicker and with a less expenditure of strength. It is altogether probable the council will favor the comparty, as they have always aided and encouraged the Enterprise boys in a man-ner that has been generally commended and that is much to their credit. At present the council is about to secure a fifty-foot extension ladder for the use of the company. An invitation has been received from Vandling Hose company asking the Enterprise boys to attend their picule to be be held in the grove at that place on Saturday next, and also to join in a parade to be held Saturday afterncon. The evitation was accepted.

pont Morgan will shortly assume the real management of the Lehigh Valley rail-road gives him, says a New York dis-patch, control of more lines of transportation than any other man in the world. His word alone is law as involving the spending and operation of millions of capital. He controls the New York Central and Hudson River railroad; the West Shore railroad; the Harlem road; the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg road; the Reading road; the Erie road; and now the Lehigh Valley road, as is told below. He therefore controls all but two of the great roads that lead from this city to the great West. He controls a huge percentage of the commerce car-rying ferries of the metropolis; his mines delve into the black depths of the earth for coal, and it is this man who sud-denly looms up as the most gigantic figure on the financial horizon. He was a power several years ago, when he ne-gotisted the notorious bond deal, but to-day, controlling these great railroad corporations as he does, and even reach-ing out for the absolute control of the St. Lawrence river traffic from Clayton to Montreal, he stands alone and unique among the money powers of this land.

Says the New York Sun: The condi-ditions of the present great strike of bituminous coal miners are very easily understood, and there has never been more graphle illustration than that af-forded by them of standard economic truths which are often misunderstood and which it is the fashion of demagogues to misrepresent and assall. Seventy-five thousand coal diggers have stopped work-ing because, as they say, they cannot get a living wage for their labor. There is no doubt that, as a general proposi-tion, their statement is true. There is just as little doul' that at the price at which bituminous coas is now supplied to consumers, the coal mine owners can-not pay higher wages than the present scale. Cut-throat competition applied to a productive industry in which the nor-mal supply is far greater than the normal domand has worked its natural and inevitable result The coal mine owners have recklessly underbid each other. This spring, for instance, contracts were made in this city for bituminous coal to be de-livered from Ohio mines at far polots on Lake Superior for 12 per ton, a price which barely covered the cost of the production and transportation of the coal, if, indeed, it did not actually fall below it. The bituminous mines are breedy it. The bituminous mines are largely owned by railroads, and these railroads as the result of this war, are on the verge of bankruptcy, or already in the hands of receivers. The situation will probably be relieved by some agreement between the coal mine operators to charge consumers a higher price for coal, or such price at least as will afford some human motive for continuing to mine human motive for continuing to mine and sell the product. Such an agreement, it is well known, has been found necessisary in the anthracite coal business in the East, and if such an agreement is not applied to the bituminous coal busi-ness, the bituminous coal business will have to stop. And when that agreement is applied, and the men go back to work at higher wages, the newspapers that have been howling about the wretched pay that the plutocrats have been giving their miners will scream themselves black in the face over the increased price of coal to consumers."
