West Side and City Suburban

BOARD OF TRADE MEETS.

Number of Very Important Matters Were Taken Up for Consideration Last Night.

The West Side board of trade met last evening in the West Side bank, second floor. There was a good attendance of the members and much business of importance was transacted.

President A. B. Holmes occupied the chair and the session was opened with funds necessary for the city to conthe reading of the minutes by Secretary Joseph Oliver. These were approved and adopted. The streets and bridges committee reported, through Chairman A. M. Morse, upon the proposed Hyde Park avenue pave and tory purposes. The board then ad-street car tracks on Swetland street. journed to meet again the second Tues-In reference to the pave Chairman

Morse stated that satisfactory progress was being made though affairs were moving more slowly than was desired. The phicing before the Traction company officials of the matter of placing their Swelland street car tracks to one side of the street had met with little

The manufacturers committee reported nothing particular but Chairman W. R. Williams stated that every opportunity of getting industries to locute on the West Side was being agitated. President Holmes made a statement in regard to the procuring of a site for a shirt factory. He said that he had approached Hon, John H. Fellows upon the matter and that Mr. Fellows had promised to procure two acre site upon the Wellington addition upon Luzerne street. A location near the Central mines could be had if it was desirous of utilizing the culm for fuel. The proposed factory would employ about 400 hands and all the company asked was that bonds for half the cost of erecting a building be subscribed for by local capitalists. The amount needed would be $30,000 and $15,000 must be taken pp by the capitalists here. Furthermore Secretary Atherton of the central board had assured him that everything possible would be done to bring the factory to Chairman William Farrell, of the park's committee, reported no new parks or any to be just at present. However, any suggestions would be looked after. B. F. Laudig stated that he had been given to understand that the Tripp's Farm Land company were reserving a part of their park plot with a view of selling it to the city. Mr. Farrell offered a report from the treasurer which was accepted. The report indicated splendid financial committee comprising William Farrell, H. D. Jones and E. M. Clarke were chosen to evolve some means of placing the board before the outside public. The committee was instructed to procure proper stationery and literature for the board's use in the future for its correspondence. Some discussion in reference to the board's attitude in regard to proposed street car extensions on this side brought out the fol-

Resolved, That the West Side board of trade endorses the entire route proposed for street car extensions on the West Side with the exception of about forty (40) feet on the narrow section of La-fayette street, and they desire to have the tracks moved to one side of the narrow section of Swetland street.

The proposed South Main avenue sewer, an ordinance for which is now pending action in councils was discussed. The councilmen present gave it as their opinion that the ordinance would be lost owing to the lack of struct the main sewer on Luzerne street The secretary was instructed to communicate with the Tripp Farm Land company to ascertain what available sites they might have to grant for facday in August.

CONSTABLE'S GOOD WORK. Henry Burschell is the constable of the Fifteenth ward, and is credited with many unique doings. He probably outdid himself yesterday afternoon at a constable's sale, D. D. Evans had issued a landlord's warrant for rent, owed him by a tenant, Joseph E. Hoopes. "Chief" Burschell sold the goods and chattels of Hoopes and succeeded in pleasing both the landlord and tenant. To the landlord he gave the amount of rent due, and to the tenant he handed $35.

JOHN COLEMAN INJURED. John Coleman, of 128 South Van Bun avenue, met with painful injuries yesterday afternoon in the Central mines. Mr. Coleman is employed upon the night shift which goes in about 2 o'clock. About an hour after being at work a fall of roof occurred and he was caught beneath it. His left hand was badly cut and crushed and his left side and back painfully bruised. The injured man was removed to his home and his wounds were dressed by Dr.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS.

f Money Is Not Provided the Fish in the State Hatcheries Will Be Turned Into the Streams.

The oversight of the legislature by which it failed to provide the $40,000 necessary to pay the expenses of the returned home after a short visit with State Fish Commission during the next two years is likely to be followed by scrious results unless money is proided from some source or another.

In the fish hatcheries at Eric and Alentown alone there are now 69,000 preeding fish, including 30,000 fine trout, valued at over $10,000. All these must e turned into the streams unless some neans of raising money can be found, and the operations of the commission will practically close for two years. In 1895-1896 over 60,000,000 fish fr were distributed in the streams of the state, and in 1896-1897 over 162,000,000 were sent out. Owing to the new hatchery at Corry it was expected to do much better this year. Now all the hatcheries must be closed. There is no money to buy food, and the commission is in debt $1,000.

This means that the new bill pro viding for a chief fish warden and subordinates at $15,000 a year will also go down, because no provision has been made in the general appropriation bill for the expense. But it makes little difference about the appropriation because the bill was so crude in most of its provisions that it is said the governor would have vetoed it on general principles. It also makes it al most a necessity that the new fish bill will fail, but this is not regarded as a misfortune, because it was looked upon by fish protectionists as even worse than the present law. If no other means of raising money to pre-serve the breed trout is to be found, it is possible that the commission may call upon the Fish Protective organizations, of which there are about seventy-five in the state, to contribute the necessary amount with which to provide food and pay the caretakers. if these fish are turned into the stream it is said that it will require five years to get up the stock again.

The fish commissioners are hopeful that some plan will be devised whereby they can get enough of money to keep the fish in the hatcheries. A consultation of the state treasurer, auditor general and commissioners is soon to be held, at which the situation will be considered in all of its phases. It is not at all likely that enough of money can be provided to carry on the work of the commission as it has been in the past, and it is probable that for the next two years the work of stacking the streams of the state with fish will lag.
