WANT A CURFEW LAW. On Monday evening the following delegation of clergymen were present in the common council chamber: Rev. Messrs, Charles Lee, T. E. Jepson, Charles L. Fitchett and G. A. Place, Ph. D. Mr. Case moved that the regular order of business be suspended in order to allow them an opportunity to state the object of their visit. Mr. Lee then made an address in the interest of the children of the city showing the danger and evil of allowing them liberty to remain on the streets until late at night. He then spoke of a law which had been enforced in many western towns called the Curfew ordinance, which compels children under fifteen years of ... re to keep off the streets after 9 o'clock in the summer and 8 in the winter, unless accompanied by the legal custodian, or on an errand for such custodian. Mr. Lee after reading extracts from the ordinance showed the importance, in the interest of the young, to keep them off the streets after certain hours. Some 150 or 200 cities in the West have the law in operation. It has proved to a greater or less extent successful. He cald that as yet no city in Pennsylvania had tried the law. It was the opinion of eminent authorities that it was legal. After Mr. Lee's remarks, Mr. Fitchett gave his experience in regard to the working of the ordinance, as he had lived west for fourteen years, and could endorse it heartily. It had been conducive to the moral and intellectual advancement of communities, where enforced. Dr. Place also expressed his hearty sympathy with the effort. Rev. Mr. Jepson expressed his view of the necessity of such a law and hoped that careful consideration would be given. All the clergy of the city approve the measure. Mr. Lee distributed copies of the ordinance and thanked the councilmen for their interest. After a general expression of opinion, and cordial approval, the subject was referred to the committee on legislation. UNION PICNIC.
