THEY BROKE EVEN.

Maguire's Error Gave Buffalo the First Game---The Miners Batted Out the Second.

The Miners and the Bisons broke even in a double bill yesterday after-

Beard was hit on the left elbow by a pitched ball in the first inning of the first game and was obliged to retire. This accident made a serious break in the team's make-up and crippled its hitting, else the Miners might have bagged both games.

With two out in the third inning of the first game Grey walked and Fields | Kissinger, p 3 singled. Maguire fumbled Wise's easy grounder and on the error the game With the bases full, a single, a walk, a single and Boyd's error netted five runs which was sufficient to win the game. A second error by Maguire in the eighth permitted the Bisons to score again.

The game was void of any brilliant playing. Souder's slow ball was just the thing to puzzle the locals. They could not bunch their hits on him. Massey's base on balls and steal and Gunson's single scored one in the second. Gunson got a run in the fifth on Barry's wild throw to first and Morse's single. In the eighth Eagan hit for two bases and came in with the third and final run on Bonner's single. Score: SCRANTON.

THE SECOND GAME.

The Litting of Walters, Griffin, Massey, Eonner and Eagan was chiefly re-sponsible for the Miners' victory in the second game, though Fleids' error had much to do with the four runs in the sixth. Gray was very easily found for singles and doubles when opportunity to score was offered.

In the eighth Buffalo made five runs and the score 6-8 against them. They did this off Harper's two bases or balls and four hits for six bases, but in the last half of that inning singles by Walters and Griffin, Eagan's double and Bonner's single earned three runs and made the game safe.

The score: SCRANTON.

Corbett the Attraction.

Philadelphia, July 14.—James J. Corbett was the star attraction at the Philadelphia ball park this afternoon. A double ball between the Athletics and Richmond teams being the side show. Corbett did not appear in the first game, which resulted in an elevent lening the which resulted in an eleven-inning tie and was stopped in order to begin the second contest. The second game was a ten-inning tie. Corbett made a scratch hit and had one error. Attendance, 4,500,

DIAMOND DUST.

Ladies' Day. Doescher will be here to umpire. Gillon and Gunson will be the bat

The Miners have won four out of nir with Buffalo. Rochester begins a three-day series here this afternoon. Manager Griffin has been 8 times at bat and made five hits. He has an average of .625 and has scored 5 runs. In Maguire's four times at bat in the first game he had an opportunity to help bat in five runs but in each instance he failed.

Poor coaching in the second game made Bonner run on a fly to Wise. There was but one out and Bonner was nearly to third when Wise caught the ball and threw it to first, making a double play. Unless Gillon wins his game today

Harper will be the Miners' winning pitcher. They have won nine out of 16 games with him in the box. Gillon has won 8 and lost 7; Morse has won nine and lost nine. The Bisons probably lost nothing on Parry being declared out for not touching second. There was one out at the time and Zahner fanned. Barry had misjudged by Eagan.

reached third on a fly that was badly

The Plucky Shortstop Pays a Comp. to His Own Phiz.

"That was a wheel-starting jolt that Hughey Jennings stopped with his face in New York the other day," said Tom Brown. "Amos Rusie was the pitcher whose fast curve put Hughey out of the game a few days. But the game little short fielder is in again, and I am glad of it. I met him in Baltimore on Thursday, and referring to his face and the ball, he cracked a quip on himself: Tom,' he said, 'you will notice that the blow didn't spoil any of my good looks." "Now as Hughey has about as hand-some a face as ever ditched a freight train or fractured a Sabbath, you can see the point of his joke. But that blow from Rusie ought to teach Jennings to have more respect for the erratic and undomesticated offshoots of twirlers. Jennings can work his base on balls by sidetracking the ball with his face, head, or ribs oftener than any player since Curt Welch. I have seen Curt Welch's body freckled all over with black and blue spots, and these polka dots were painted there by pitched balls.

"When Rusle first came into the mafor league he was shy on control, and the batsmen were afraid of having their faces devilled or a rib snapped, and they overlooked many a ball that Amos sent over the plate. It may have been a scheme on Amos' part to make the batsmen afraid of him. I noticed that he managed to strike out more batsmen during his first two years in the major league than any other pitcher. That ball from Amos' wing that made an unsuccessful attempt to dislocate Hughey Jennings' face didn't have all of the steam-pushing that propelled curves of the Hoosier when he first entered fast company back in 1889,"

JIM CORBETT, BALL PLAYER.

The Ex-Pugilist Getting Good Money Out of the Game.

Jim Corbett is making a tidy bit of money this summer as a base ball attraction. He has been a base ball enthusiast for years, and while he was training for his fights with John L. Sullivan and Charley Mitchell down at Loch Arbor he used to make daily visits to the bicycle track at Asbury Park. where he would scrape together a "scrub nine" and play on the infield. It was there that he "developed" his brother Joe, who is now the star pitcher of the champion Baltimores. Jim covers first base and he has proved such a big attraction that it is very likely that he and Billy Brady will have a club of their own next summer. A little bird whispers that Jim's terms for playing in a game are $200 certainly and a clever percentage of the game receipts besides. He is getting over the depressed feeling that he had when he first came east after losing the championship. He has about given up all hope of meeting Fitzsimmons in a ring again.

MISERIES OF THE GREAT.

Bacon was avaricious, and his greed led to his disgrace. Defoe had more than one dose of Newgate and the pillory. Cervantes was poor, and constantly annoyed by his creditors.

Spenser, the poet, suffered the extremes of poverty and neglect. Cowper was all his days overshadowed by the gloom of insanity

Milton was blind in old age, and often lacked the comforts of life. Gibbon was gouty. He grew so stout he could not dress himself.

Palestrina lived in poverty most of his days, and died in great want Tasso was poor most of his days. His miseries finally drove him mad, Julius Caesar had a weak digestion and was subject to epileptic fits. Peter the Great was half crazy most of his life through drink and rage. Le Sage was poor all his life. In old age he was dependent on his son Selden was once sent to prison for his attack on the divine right of kings.

Mohammed was an epileptic, and his visions were those of a diseased mind.

Charlemagne had an ulcer in his leg which troubled him for many years.

Byron was club-footed, and the fact was a source of misery to him all his exile from the only city in which he cared to live.

Johnson was near-sighted, and his face much disfigured by scars resulting from scrofula. Coke was quarrelsome, and passed his life in almost continual warfare with his friends and associates.

AT THE PHOTOGRAPHER'S. An Effective Method of Keeping th

Young Darling Quiet. A friend of mine took her 4-year-old girl to a photographer. The child couldn't be made to sit still. He of the camera was as suave as he could be and worked every device of gentle persussion to make the little wriggler keep still. Finally he said to the despairing mother: "Madam, if you will leave the little dear alone with me for a few minutes I think I can succeed." The mother had scarcely withdrawn when she was summoned back by the triumphant photographer, who exhibited a satisfactory negative.

When they reached home the mother asked: "Nellie, what did the man say to you when I left you alone with "He thaid," lisped Nellie, "thit thtill, you little rathcall, or I'll thake you."-
