KEOGH WINS THE FIRST NIGHT'S PLAY

World's Pool Championship Begins in the Academy of Music.

CLEARWATER 79 POINTS BEHIND

Net Score Was Keogh 209, Clearwater 130, When Play Ended at 12.25 O'clock—The Scranton Expert's Playing Was Clearly the More Brilliant—He Made the Only Run of Fifteen.

Jerome Keogh, of this city, last night won from W. H. Clearwater, of Pittsburgh, the first series of a three-night match for the world's pool championship, a side bet of $150 each and the door receipts. The net score in the 23 full frames played was Keogh 209, Clearwater 130.

The match is being played in the Academy of Music. About 400 spectators were present last night. Keogh is the present champion and won the title from Eby, of Springfield, O., two months ago in New York city. Clearwater's challenge was accepted by Keogh a month ago and the latter chose Scranton for the meeting as was his privilege.

J. H. Spangler, of Philadelphia, a representative of the Brunswick-Balke-Clendenen Co., donors of the championship trophy, the referee, Edgar Myers, of this city, is the marker. With Clearwater as his backer, Charles Allum and John Krebs, of Pittsburgh, Clearwater reached here yesterday noon and the first practice he had late in the day was of but slight benefit to him. As is usually the case with a visiting player, he may be expected to improve with each night's play.

Last night Keogh showed himself the master in all departments of the game. His position, safety and difficult shots were clearly superior to those of Clearwater and the Scranton expert won 17 of the 23 frames. Only one run of 15 was made and that was by Keogh. Clearwater won the bank and the first break was by Keogh. In the following details of the playing the break is indicated by a dash (-), safety by the letter "S" and scratch by an asterisk (*):

Table with columns for player and score. Rows include Keogh and Clearwater with various scores and symbols like dashes and asterisks.

CAUTION AND SAFETY.

Early in the night and toward the close the playing was featured by extreme caution and frequent safeties by both experts. Keogh's playing during these two periods was the better of the two. He was the less cautious and gained his big lead in taking chances where Clearwater would not. The safety playing, however, accounted for an absence of brilliant work from about the sixth to the nineteenth frame inclusive. In these frames both players evoked frequent applause by many clever shots.

Keogh's breaking was exceptionally clever. Rarely did he miss bringing his cue ball to within two inches of the end or side cushion at the upper end of the table and the object balls were nearly always so well gathered that Clearwater was able to pocket a ball after but 6 of Keogh's 15 breaks. Clearwater broke 5 o'clock and following the breaks Keogh made successful shots in 5 frames. This is shown in the detailed tally and indicates that the Scrantonian was clearly superior in this department of the game.

If Clearwater excelled in anything it was in only his combination shots. He resorted to them a number of times and was nearly always successful. The star shot of the evening was on the fifth ball in Keogh's run of twelve in the eighteenth frame. His only available shot was on two frozen balls, one of which was against the cushion and about sixteen inches from the corner pocket. He played the ball nearest him and kissed it off the cushioned ball into the pocket. It was a brilliant and nervy piece of work and earned for him a thunder of applause. Following the shot he pocketed the six balls remaining on the table.

Keogh and Clearwater both expressed themselves as satisfied with the table and all the arrangements for the match. The table was sent here by the Brunswick-Balke-Clendenen company and the match and under Referee Spangler's direction was set up and leveled on a platform next to the stage. It is one of the latest and best products of the "finest" ever used in a championship pool match. This sensitiveness was shown in the cushions and in the "fiddling" of balls sent to the jaws of the pockets with even the slightest inaccuracy.

THE BETTING ODDS.

At the close of last night's play the betting was 10-7 that Keogh would win the match. The betting was at even odds tonight and tomorrow night, separately considered.

HOTEL AT MOUNTAIN LAKE.

Casey Brothers, of This City, Are to Erect. Casey Brothers have secured an option on Mountain lake and the surrounding land and propose to make it a summer resort. They will erect a metropolitan hotel on the bank of the picturesque lake. The advantage of having the pleasure of the seashore at our very doors in these boiling summer days will be glad news to many. The assurance that men of the business standing and enterprise of the Casey brothers are interested in the undertaking is sufficient guarantee of success.

Preliminary drawings for the hotel are being made by a metropolitan architect who has been in this city during the week in consultation with the firm.

NEW ENGLAND COTTON MILLS.

Only Short Shut Down, if Any, During the Summer Months. Boston, July 14.—The New England cotton mill owners have decided that there will be no united curtailment of output. Business may be poor, but it is not bad enough for any such move as that. If a mill finds that it is without orders it will shut down for a time.

The Oriental mills, at Providence, began running on two-thirds time. The mills of the United States Cotton company, at Pawtucket, will not close at all, contrary to published reports, and those of the Albion company, at Providence, will not shut down for more than a week during the summer. The Essex-Lepan mill, at Lowell, Mass., started up today after a shut-down of a week for repairs. None of the mills at Fall River is even thinking of closing for more than a week.

Monterey, Cal., July 14.—Henrique Laidley, Portuguese vice-consul at San Francisco, has arrived here to investigate the incident of the tearing down and burning of the flag of Portugal, which Manuel Ortis, a Portuguese grocer, had hoisted over his place of business on Fourth of July.

Consul Laidley says that if the trouble cannot be satisfactorily explained Portugal will demand an apology from the United States. The crowd which had torn down and burned the Portuguese emblem was composed of young men.

The thickest near the Cascade in the Bois de Boulogne, the scene of the last bomb outrage, was surrounded by detectives.

More than 150 others, mounted on bicycles, were ready at various points to carry out instructions and to pursue Anarchists in case any emergency should arise.

ARE IN FAVOR OF A LATE CONVENTION

Democratic Aspirants Want to Wait Until Republican Nominations Are Made.

GOLD DEMOCRATS NEED NOT APPLY

Those Who Are in Command Locally Believe in Disciplining the Men Who Boasted the Democratic Platform Last Fall—Their County Convention Is Not Likely to Be Held Until the First or Second Week in September.

As the summer advances the men who are seeking nominations on the Republican and Democratic tickets redouble their efforts to line up enough of delegates to secure for their coveted nominations. It is not probable that either party will hold a very early convention. The Democratic convention will certainly be held after the Republican nominations have been made. This policy of defensive fighting has been pursued by the Democrats for several years. They held their conventions after the Republicans for the purpose of taking advantage of any mistake that may be made by their political opponents. It is not probable that the Democratic county convention, when held yesterday, was held in the belief that the convention would be held. He thought, however, that a ticket would not be nominated early, as it seemed to be the opinion of the candidates that two months is long enough for a campaign.

While none of the local Democratic leaders will openly admit the fact, it is generally understood that the men who were sound in their views last fall need not look for office this year. They are going to be disciplined even if it results in driving many of them out of the party. It is the intention of the men who are now steering the local Democratic ship to put a firm silver plank in the resolutions that will be adopted by the coming county convention. It is not at all improbable that the name of W. J. Bryan will be injected into them as Lackawanna's choice for national standard bearer three years hence.

THEY WANT IT LATE.

Not a few of the men who are looking for Democratic nominations have pronounced in favor of a late convention and at this time the indications are that the convention will not be held until the first or second week of September. The candidates are insisting that the convention be not held until the local Democratic ship to put a firm silver plank in the resolutions that will be adopted by the coming county convention. It is not at all improbable that the name of W. J. Bryan will be injected into them as Lackawanna's choice for national standard bearer three years hence.

London, July 14.—The Earl of Elgin, Viceroy of India, telegraphs from the west coast that the monsoon did away on June 25, and that the weather throughout the country has been fine. Burma is still receiving a good supply of rain and rain is now falling again on the west coast and in Southern Bombay.
