PASTOR MILL RESIGNS.

Asks That It Take Effect on August 1. Will Probably Go to St. Johnsbury, Vermont.

After a successful pastorage of over five years at St. David's Episcopal church, Rev. M. H. Mill surprised the vestry board by submitting his resignation at the meeting on Monday evening. Rev. Mr. Mill desires to have the resignation take effect Aug. 1, as he intends to accept a call extended him from St. Andrew's at St. Johnsbury, Vermont. The board will hold a special meeting next Monday evening in view of the pastor's desire.

Five years ago he came here from Lykens, Pa., and found St. David's parish in an uncertain state. From a debt of $2,000 he brought the church by hard work to a state of comfort. Many improvements have been made and the church property enhanced. It might be mentioned here that Rev. Mr. Mill came here shortly after the burning of the first church on Tenth street, the loss of which was a setback.

The parish of St. Johnsbury offers a wider field for the pastor's work, and inasmuch as he leaves the parish here in first class condition, he feels that his resignation should be accepted. St. David's Episcopal church stands at the corner of Jackson street and Bromley avenue, and is a pretty edifice. The pastor and his family reside at 1217 Jackson.

DIME SOCIAL.

There will be a dime social and entertainment conducted at the Sumner Avenue Presbyterian church next Friday evening. The affair will be in charge of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, and promises to be an exceptional event in the entertainment line. A first class program is in course of preparation. The committee on exercises is to be congratulated in securing the consent of Charles Hartley, of New York city, to appear and entertain. He is a thorough and impersonator of exceptional ability. At the close of the exercises cake, ice cream and coffee will be served by a corps of young ladies. The social will be called an orange social, and the color of decorations will be orange. The full programme will be printed later.

HARTLEY WAS THERE.

An amusing incident occurred yesterday afternoon on a crowded Washington street car. A man who apparently took things in this life as they come, was greatly worried for some time over the continual talking of some invisible person. The conversation was all addressed to him, but after answering for a while, he gave up trying to locate his unseen friend, and moved uneasily. It is not likely that he knows yet that the well-known Charles Hartley, of New York city, was aboard that same car.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Mary D. Smith occurred yesterday afternoon. The deceased was borne from her late home on Elymer street to the Jackson Street Baptist church, where the pastor, Rev. Thomas De Gruchy preached the funeral sermon. Rev. L. R. Foster, pastor of the Sumner Avenue Presbyterian church, also made a few remarks. There was a large attendance of friends of the deceased, and a ladies' society, of which Mrs. Smith was a member, were present in a body. The flowers were very beautiful. At the close of the services the deceased was taken to the Washington street cemetery and interred.

NOVEL SUIT INSTITUTED.

Frank Smith after Money on Deposit in a Bank.

Frank Smith is the plaintiff in an action brought yesterday against the Merchants' and Mechanics' bank of this city. Mr. Smith boarded with Mr. Erhardt, at the corner of the West Side, until one night some weeks ago when $400 of his hard earned savings disappeared. He had his boarding boss arrested for the theft, but was unable to produce any very substantial evidence against him.

Soon after Smith's money disappeared Walrus deposited $350 in the Merchants' and Mechanics' bank. Smith believes that it is his money Walrus deposited, and to prevent it being drawn from the bank by Mr. Erhardt yesterday's proceedings were begun. It will have the effect of tying up the money until such time as the criminal charge against Walrus is disposed of, and the ownership of the money decided.

This peculiar form of action is seldom employed, and it is probably the first suit of the kind in the history of the county. Smith is represented by Attorneys Cawley & Shean and O'Brien & Kelly.

Both were then taken to the station and after the drunk had been stowed away in a cell, the officer took Sommers before Alderman Wright where he preferred against him a charge of interfering with an officer.
