CARNIVAL OF BURGLARS.

Five More Places in the Vicinity of Wilker-Barre, July 26.-Says the Times: Five burglaries were committed on the West Side within the last three nights, four being saloons. At 2.30 Saturday morning the saloon of John Altuczinas, in Edwardsville, was entered by masked burglars. The window in the rear of the kitchen was family who rents rooms from Mr. Altuczinas. It happened that the wife was sitting up with a sick baby and when the masked burglar entered the woman became speechless with fright and was unable to give an alarm. The burglar, undaunted, went down cellar and, with his companions, pried off the cellar door and they helped themselves to the contents of several kegs of

Saturday night burglars entered Alexander Maslowski's saloon on West Main street, Plymouth, by cutting a pane of glass out of a side window. In the morning when the saloon was opened everything was found in confusion. A search revealed the fact that $3 in money and several bottles of whiskey had been stolen. There is no clue to the robbers. The saloon of Stanley Szakalum on Main street, directly opposite the Eley house, was entered by thieves some time during last night. At this place the burglars made a considerable haul, taking away with them between forty and fifty dollars, several bottles of whiskey and a thousand cigars.

OTHER ATTEMPTS.

An attempt was made to enter the store of Charles Shupp at Plymouth, on Saturday night about 11 o'clock. One of the clerks who sleeps in the store heard a noise in the alley in the rear and peering through the shutters discovered three men attempting to enter. Procuring the services of Constable John John, he went into the alley, and with the aid of the constable succeeded in arresting one of the men. When taken before Squire Walters he gave his name as Joseph H. Smith, and stated that he was from New York city. The 'squire committed him to jail for

A mysterious robbery was committed in the saloon of Mrs. Bridget Rooney on Main street, Plymouth, some time Saturday night. Several bottles of whiskey were stolen, also a jug of whiskey and several boxes of cigars.

On Saturday night some unknown person entered the shifting shanty at the Avondale colliery and carried off a good suit of clothes belonging to the fire boss, W. C. Noyle. In the pockets was a chain valued at $12 and $1.98 in

This free and easy robbing is becom ing a thing of such frequent occurrence that patience has ceased to be a virtue and a business men's league is in contemplation for the employment of a private detective to break up this gang of midnight depredators.

SNAKE TORTURED FOR YEARS.

X-Ray Revealed the Reptile in Woman's Abdomen.

Snamokin, July 26.-Mrs. W. H. Moyer, of No. 311 West Chestnut street, for the first time in eleven years slept soundly Saturday night. A snake had ceased terturing her. She weighed almost 180 pounds when the reptile found lodgement in her stomach, Now she weighs somewhere about 110. She is the mother of eight children, most of whom romped about the house in a joyful manner today, while the husband's face beamed with pleasure. It was the first real day of happiness in the Moyer household for many years.

Eleven years ago the Moyers resided in Kalmia, near Tower City, Schuylkill county. There was an overflowing well near the homestead. One night at 9 o'clock Mrs. Mover took a drink from the well. As the contents flowed down her throat, she felt a tickling, scratching sensation. She was sure she had swallowed a lizard. However, she could not eject whatever it was, and for ten months tried to force the mysterious occupant from her stomach without avail. Physicians told her that she was likely troubled with a tape worm or something else. She took various medicines, but nothing relieved her. During the past year her agony was greater than ever.

Three weeks ago Mrs. Moyer and he daughter, Katle visited Robert X. Gler ing, at a local hotel. He had an Xray machine, and when the light was turned on a slim, lengthy dark object was seen twisting about the abdomer at an alarming rate, as if the light had frightened it.

Dr. F. A. Clarke administered a pow erful medicine to kill whatever living object was within her. Aweek ago the medicine began taking effect, and it aroused the unknown occupant to great activity. Finally it subsided, and yesterday she was relieved of the

This is the season of the year when the huckleberry picker has his innings, This is the season of the year when the huckleberry picker has his innings, and at no time, even in the memory of the "oldest inhabitant," has the crop been larger or of better quality. On the Wayne county range of mountains east of Forest City, the ground is literally blue for miles with the luscious fruit, and almost every day hundreds of pickers are at work. It is safe to estimate that from five hundred to a thousand quants have been brought from the mountain by way of Forest City every day for a week of more past, and yet there is no perceptible lessening of the supply. Loads of people come from miles around "huckleberrying," and all depart with as many as they have time to pick or care to carry. The berries are now retailing here for five cents a quart.
