WORK OF HIGHWAYMEN.

Held Up Joseph Durcuth on the Switch Leading to the Oxford Breaker Last Night.

A man rushed wildly into the West side police station last evening about 9 o'clock. He had no hat, his coat and vest were gone, and several scratches and a large bruise on his face indicated that he had recently met trouble. He gave his name as Joseph Durcuth and his place of residence Kelly's patch on Luzerne street. He has his full citizen's papers and has lived here about sixteen years and this is his first trouble, he says.

Joseph was going home along the Oxford breaker switch, which leads up from Scranton street. When near the weigh office, he was suddenly seized by six men. His story at this point is disconnected but he got away from the would-be highway men by slipping out of his coat.

The coat was recovered but his hat could not be found and as Joseph did not recognize any of the assailants none of the men could be located.

TAPPING BALTIMORE VEIN.

Contractor Richards, who is at present engaged in sinking the new shaft at the Bellevue mines, expects to reach the Baltimore vein in a few weeks. They have already reached a depth of 300 feet. The work so far has progressed very satisfactorily to the mine officials and contractor. This shaft will make it possible to work the Baltimore vein. Work in this vein was suspended some time ago on account of the poor ventilation and was allowed to fill with water. This water is being pumped and the vein will be ready for work as soon as the shaft is in shape.

FANEN ON THE RAMPAGE.

William Faunen is a colored man, and resides at Kelly's patch on Luzerne street. Yesterday he was intoxicated and proceeded to raise a disturbance and nearly committed murder. He broke several windows in the house and chased two men into an outhouse and attempted to hurl an axe through the door at them. Samuel Terry, colored, got Patrolman Curroll and Faunen will have his hearing today.

Thomas Jones, of Storrs avenue, was badly cut and bruised Saturday afternoon by being caught in a fall of coal. ## CIRCULAR SENT OUT.

Pertains to the Approaching National Convention of the C. T. A. U.

One of the busiest men in the city just now is J. C. Gallagher, chairman of the way and means committee that is arranging for the approaching national convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence union of America. A few days ago circulars were sent out to the societies heretofore relating to the illuminated parade to be held here on the night of Aug. 19. Yesterday copies of the following circular were sent to every society in the national union:

Scranton, Aug. 1, 1897. Gentlemen: The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America will be held here Aug. 18, 19 and 20. You know the importance of the occasion and the necessity of a large delegation will give to it. I therefore request you to urge upon the societies of your union the necessity of each sending at least one delegate to this convention. Fraternally yours, J. C. Gallagher, Chairman Ways and Means Committee. P. S.—Enclosed are hotel rates and program of exercises, etc., etc.

The ways and means committee is leaving nothing undone to make this the largest convention held in years. It will open at 9 o'clock in the morning of Aug. 18 in the Regis hall and after the reading of the delegates are received and recorded they will attend mass in St. Peter's cathedral. At the public rally Rev. E. J. Melley, spiritual director of the Scranton union, will be temporary chairman and introduce J. P. Smith to the delegates. His address and act as permanent chairman.

ONE PHASE OF SHOW LIFE.

This Fellow Was Kicked Off a Moving Train at Binghamton.

A meek-faced youth, about 20 years of age, planted himself in the door of Desk Sergeant Ridgeway's office at police headquarters last night and told his story. He wanted a job for the night. For many years past he has been a tent-puller for the Buffalo bill show.

At Binghamton he was paid his wages and he immediately fitted himself with a new suit of clothing. When the show train was moving out of Binghamton Thursday night the young man says he was kicked off by other attaches of the show. He beat his way into Scranton and this morning will start for the city.

What worries the young man is that the suit of clothes which he bought was left behind when he was kicked off the train.

LEFT THEIR CLOTHES.

Two Gay Young Men Walk Home in the Apparel of Sleeping Walkers.

York, Pa., Aug. 1.—Young men who hire teams from Libertyville, Pa., have frequently made it habit to return home with the information that they have no money and will pay for their use later. Mr. Fleming heard of this excuse and early this morning took drastic measures to put an end to the deceit. On the previous evening two young men named John Shoop and William Sander, from Libertyville, a town five miles from York, had hired a team to attend a rural festival and on the way back to town a collapse took place. The wrecked team was brought to York and within a square of the livery the horse was unshipped and started off for the station. The plan of the men was to decamp but a brawny employe of Mr. Fleming came upon them and sternly insisted upon payment being made. The men went with him to the Fleming stable and as no better compromise could be devised agreed to leave their clothes as security for payment a week hence.

Mr. Fleming and his hired man accordingly disrobed them and at 2 o'clock in the morning bareheaded and barefooted like sleep walkers, they made their way out of town with no other apparel upon them than their underclothing and a shirt.
