HORSE AND BICYCLE RACES BEGIN TODAY

Bids Fair to Be Scranton's Biggest and Best Meeting.

LIVELY SCENE AT THE TRACK

Stabling Capacity Taxed to Its Utmost and Horses Worked to the Finest Kind of Edge—Purses of $2,400 for Eight Horse Events and Diamonds for the Bicycle Riders. Today's List of Entries.

This afternoon will witness the opening of the four-day horse and bicycle race meet at the Driving Park. All indications point toward the best entertainment and the biggest attendance that has ever accompanied a similar meeting in this city.

As many as 144 horses are entered for the eight races on the programme and for which $2,400 in purses of from $250 to $500 are hung up. While the track has a big stabling capacity, it has required good management to provide stabling for the new and local flyers.

Yesterday the course was a hive of activity. The weather was almost ideal for the working-out process, and the horses had the advantage of it. All the horses were on edge, and an evidence of condition was shown in Hal Pointer's last quarter of a mile in 31 seconds. Etta T. Moonstone, Raven, Veta and Bert Sheldon are doing gold medals and fourteen at the track and waiting for the free-for-all event on Thursday.

Never was the course faster or in better shape. There were two small bad spots on the turns during the June meeting, but these have been dug out and clayed, and the track is said to be possibly two seconds faster than ever before. That is saying a good deal when it is considered that the distance is 68 feet over the mile, and that the pacing record is 2:15, held by Raven, and the trotting record 2:16, held by Bert Sheldon.

BICYCLE EVENTS.

Each afternoon's sport will begin with bicycle races at 1:30 o'clock. There will be two of these each day, tomorrow excepted, when only one bicycle event will be decided. For the seven races there are 74 entries. The three gold medals and fourteen diamond prizes that will be awarded are on exhibition in the show window of Weichel's jewelry store, on Spruce street. The races are sanctioned by the national racing board of the League of American Wheelmen and will be refereed by Howard E. Davis, an appointee of Chairman Albert Mott.

Music will be furnished throughout the meet by the Lawrence band. The gate admission price will be 25 cents and the same amount will be charged for a grandstand seat.

Following is a list of the events for each day:

Tuesday—Bicycle: 2-mile handicap, 14 entries; half-mile open, 13 entries. Horse: 2:25 trot, $250, 23 entries; 2:17 trot or pace, $400, 18 entries.

Wednesday—Bicycle: 2-mile lap race, 11 entries. Horse: 2:25 pace, $250, 12 entries; 2:25 trot or pace, $200, 12 entries.

Thursday—Bicycle: Northeastern Pennsylvania championship, 11 entries; 2-mile open, 13 entries. Horse: 2:25 trot, $300, 22 entries; 2:15 trot or pace, 12 entries.

Friday—Bicycle: 5-mile handicap, 12 entries. Horse: 2:50 trot, $300, 15 entries; 2:24 pace, $300, 21 entries.

company's tracks on Lackawanna avenue yesterday morning. The car attached and the crew were unable to lift the wagon from the tracks, and it was necessary to call the wrecking car. The West Side division was held up for a half hour.

ELECTION OF STATE DELEGATES.

Democrats Will Hold a Convention for That Purpose.

Tomorrow evening the Democratic standing committee of the Fourth legislative district will hold a meeting in Fadden's hall, Priceburg, to name a time and place for holding a convention to elect delegates to the state convention to be held in Reading August 31.

This is the first call of the kind issued, and is in accordance with the new county rules of the Democratic party. Many members of the four legislative standing committees of Lackawanna county object to calling a convention for the purpose of electing state delegates. They claim it is the business of the legislative standing committee to do it, and that the county convention has the power to take the privilege away from them, or in fact to make laws of any kind for the legislative districts.

The Fourth district call is signed by M. J. McAndrew, of Archbald, the chairman, and F. J. McCaffery, of Jermy, secretary.

DID BUFFALO BILL'S POSTERS DO IT?

Five Small Boys Left Town Since the Wild West Ads. Began.

This city seems to be decreasing in its juvenile population. Within two weeks five small boys have run away from home. John Costello, aged 14 years, left his home in Dunmore last Wednesday. His whereabouts are still unknown, at least the police have not been informed of the boy's discovery.

Two weeks ago Michael Campbell, in company with Albert Hagen, left their homes on Capouse avenue. The Hagen boy returned a few days ago and told Mrs. Campbell that her son and he had left Syracuse for home at the same time. It was thought that Campbell was home before him. Mrs. Campbell does not believe the story and the police are trying to locate the boy.

THE DID NOT KNOW.

"On the night of the Wild West show 12 years old, of 715 Henock street, he left home last Thursday.

The fourth case is that of Herbert Knight, aged 10 years, who has been missing since last Sunday. The police were notified yesterday.

Some time ago O. D. Phillips purchased the property on a contract from the estate. The price agreed upon was $1,040. Afterwards the contract was assigned to Savella L. Stone. There still remains an unpaid balance of $788.45 on the property, and to compel the payment of it action in ejectment is brought.

THAT TEST SUIT OF ATTORNEY VIDAVER

General Manager Silliman Defines the Attitude of His Company.

WHAT THE LAW REQUIRES OF IT

Cannot Be Expected to Work Miracles or Do Impossible Things. Every Effort is Used to Get Passengers to Their Destination—If Mr. Vidaver Had Been Patient He Would Have Been Carried to Whatever Point He Desired to Go to.

In view of the recent stalling of loaded trolly cars on Carbon street during the rain that flooded that thoroughfare and in consequence of Attorney Vidaver's suit to recover fares paid to the Traction company, it may be interesting to know what General Manager Silliman has to say on the matter. There are a good many positive things in Mr. Silliman's make-up, and one is his aversion to being quoted in a newspaper, but he talked freely with a Tribune reporter last night in reference to the Carbon street episode in particular, and said something in a general way about a trolley company's obligations in transportation.

"If one of our conductors," Mr. Silliman remarked, "accepts fare from a passenger we are obliged to carry the latter to his destination. The acceptance of the passenger's fare makes a contract. When the trouble was would not be released, as I understand it, from the obligation even though the overhead wire was swept away by storm, the tracks submerged by water or the roadbed swallowed in a mine cave, we would not be expected, however, and we would not be obliged under such circumstances to transport a passenger in any particular car nor within any specified time or manner. Our obligation would be to use the best means within our power and within reason.
