WEDDED LAST EVENING.

Pretty Ceremony at the Home of Mrs. Martha Hitchings.

Miss Martha, daughter of Mrs. Martha Hitchings, of 232 Decker's court, was united in marriage to David D. Davis at the residence of the bride's mother last evening. The ceremony occurred in the parlor at 8:45, and was performed by Rev. Thomas DeGruchy, pastor of the Jackson Street Baptist church. The parlor was prettily decorated with potted plants, flowers and ferns.

The couple were attended by Miss Sarah Davis, sister of the groom, and William Hitchings, a brother of the bride. Misses Lizzie Evans and Vada Jones were flower girls.

The bride was attired in cream wedding cloth with chiffon trimmings, and carried white carnations. The bridesmaid was attired in figured organdie over blue silk, and carried pink carnations. The flower girls wore costumes in white.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Davis tendered their guests a reception, and then all enjoyed a wedding repast. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will reside with Mrs. Hitchings. They were the recipients of many wedding presents. The guests were: Mrs. Martha Hitchings, Mr. and Mrs. David J. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Davis, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Cass Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Griffiths, Mr. and Mrs. David Pritchard, Mr. and Mrs. Eliazor Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hitchings, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Jones, Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Clark, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Harris, Mrs. J. B. Powers, Rev. Thomas DeGruchy, Misses Annie Jones, Emma Roderick, Lizzie and Marguerite Morgan, Norma and Helen Harris, C. Davis, May Thomas, Anna Williams, Jessie Young, Edith Daniel, Sarah Davis, Messrs. Roy Williams, William L. Davis, Reese Lewis, Robert Owens, Eddie Watkins, Thomas J. Watkins, William G. Thomas, John C. Richards, Charles Holly, Elmer Davis, George Nichols, William J. Davis, Milton Griffiths, Evan Williams and Harry Evans, William Hitchings.

ACCIDENTAL FUNDS PICNIC.

Instead of conducting an excursion, as is their yearly custom, the Dodge Mine Accidental fund held a picnic in the Sloan park. The event occurred yesterday and continued far into the evening. There were all kinds and conditions of amusements. A large dance platform had been erected and from an elevated stand Lawrence's band discoursed music to listen to and music to dance to. Nearly every one caught the spirit and as many as could get on the dance floor did so. Refreshments of every kind were provided upon the picnic grounds. It was pay day and there is little doubt the fund realized a large addition to its treasury, as nearly 800 persons were present during the day.

FUNERAL OF JOHN FLYNN.

The funeral of the late John Flynn occurred yesterday morning at 9 o'clock from the residence on North Ninth street. In St. Patrick's church a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. P. P. McNally, who also preached the sermon and touched in a loving way upon the many sterling qualities of the deceased. At the close of the services, the remains, accompanied by a large number of friends was borne to the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery, where interment was made. The pallbearers were: Charles Canavan, William May, Thomas Larkin, William Gilroy, Michael McManis, and Austin Duffy. Flower bearers, George Myer and Fred Hartnell.

A FORMER SCRANTONIAN.

William Price, sr., of South Main avenue, has returned from a visit at Wilkes-Barre. He is entertaining a distinguished guest, Anurin Jones, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Jones resided in West Scranton for several years in the early seventies. At present he is enjoying a large business as an architect in Brooklyn, and has taken several prizes in competition for designs for public buildings at Washington. To Mr. Jones belongs the credit of designing and construction of a fan which is famed. The fan is in use at Deimonico's restaurant. He also submitted designs for the Lackawanna county court house. Mr. Jones enjoys another distinction other than his business ability, namely, that of being one of the few great literators of his day and a critic of unquestioned ability, in the Welsh language. A leading Welsh text book is prefaced by him and this article would alone honor its author. Many poems have appeared in several of the leading periodicals from his prolific pen. He is pleased with the remarkable progress shown by the city since his last visit several years ago.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. William Lever, of Lafayette street, is in Sunbury called there by a summons. Mr. Jones enjoys another distinction other than his business ability, namely, that of being one of the few great literators of his day and a critic of unquestioned ability, in the Welsh language. A leading Welsh text book is prefaced by him and this article would alone honor its author. Many poems have appeared in several of the leading periodicals from his prolific pen. He is pleased with the remarkable progress shown by the city since his last visit several years ago.

The funeral of the late John Burke will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home on Pike street. The remains will be interred in Hyde Park cemetery.

William Rudge and James Kearney were engaged in a prize fight on Amelia avenue, near the Palentine hotel, last evening, when Patrolman Perry made his appearance. He found a large crowd surrounding the men and urging the combatants to keep at it. Two rounds had been fought and they were getting ready for the third when the officer placed them under arrest. Both men were given a hearing last evening by Alderman Roberts, who fined Rudge $4 and Kearney $5.

Michael Cullin was granted a warrant to arrest yesterday for the charge of committing an aggravated assault and battery upon him. Foy was arraigned before Alderman Roberts and was held in $500 bail for his appearance at court.

When Dominick Lavinsky approached George Kenosky for an answer to a small board bill, he gave as an answer a lunge for Lavinsky and struck him in the face. For this Kenosky was arrested and arraigned before Alderman Pfliger last evening, who held him in $500 bail. Kenosky retailed by having Lavinsky arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses and committing perjury. Lavinsky entered bail in the sum of $500 to answer the charges.

At Farview, Aug. 14, Marquette council, Young Men's Institute, of North Scranton, will hold an excursion, and among the features scheduled is a contest by the rocksmen of Northeastern Pennsylvania. It is expected that many miners will be found in the race for the prizes of $25, $15 and $10.

OBITUARY.

Cancer yesterday morning caused the death of Patrick Jordan at his home, 408 Linden street. He has suffered much from it for several years, and about two months ago underwent an operation which he was thought might prolong his life. Medical skill, however, could not keep alive the vital spark, and yesterday morning he died. Mr. Jordan was born in Ireland in February, 1828, and came to this country when thirteen years of age. He settled in Olyphant, and after a time engaged in business there. He was a man of magnificent physique, who would command attention anywhere. His mental equipment was no less vigorous and robust than his physical, and, as may be supposed, he soon achieved success in business and became a leader of the people among whom he lived. At that time the valley north of Scranton was not carved into boroughs as it is today. Blakely township comprised the territory between this city and Carbondale, and for years no man wielded a greater influence in that great township than did Mr. Jordan. He served two terms as its supervisor, and when the borough of Olyphant was created he was one of the members of its first borough council. In 1885 he came to this city and for a time conducted the City Hotel on Penn avenue. Later he became proprietor of the St. Cloud hotel, Wyoming avenue, of which he remained proprietor until a few years ago, when he retired from active business life. Since then it has been conducted by his son, J. P. Jordan. Mr. Jordan was a prominent member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of America, and for years has been its county treasurer. He was also a member of the Improved Order of Heptasophis. Personally he was a pleasant, companionable man, and an interesting conversationalist. He is survived by a wife and small child, and the following grown up children: Rev. J. F. Jordan, pastor St. Lawrence church, of Bendham; T. J. Jordan, of Alderman Miller's court; P. P. Jordan, proprietor of the St. Cloud hotel, and John B. Jordan, who is a student in the law department of the University of Pennsylvania. The funeral will take place Saturday forenoon, at 9:30 o'clock in St. Peter's cathedral at which Rev. James P. Jordan will be celebrant. Rev. J. B. P. Jordan will be officiating. Rev. J. P. Loftus, master of ceremonies. Rev. J. W. Malone will preach the funeral sermon. Burial will be in the Olyphant Catholic cemetery.

UNDERTAKER WAS NOT TO BLAME.

The coroner's jury in the Yopp's Case.

The coroner's jury named to investigate the causes of the death of Edward Adam Yopp, the 17-months-old child, who died Saturday at Throop from drinking embalming fluid, met last night at Coroner Longstreet's office. Undertaker John Sweeney was freed from all blame.

Testimony was heard from Undertaker Sweeney, John Yopp, father of the dead child, and Dr. Baker, of Jermy. Mr. Yopp, the father, did not blame the undertaker. In a letter signed by Mr. Yopp, which was read at the inquest, the father entirely exonerates Mr. Sweeney. The jury returned this verdict:

From the testimony heard we are convinced that no blame for the death can be attached to Undertaker John Sweeney, and furthermore that he was thoroughly cautioned the parents of the dead child against the poison.

The jurors were: Patrick Cosgrove, James Frable, George W. Evans, Stephen McDonald, Martin J. Gallagher and Patrick Cusick.

CONDUCTOR POUST HURT.

White Standing on His Car He Was Struck by Another.

J. P. Poust, a conductor on the Pittston line of the Scranton Railway company, met with a peculiar accident Tuesday night near Moosic. His car was passing another car on a switch and Poust was walking along the step of his car, an open one, on the side nearest the other car.

In stepping up he misjudged the space and his body was struck by the passing car. The blow was a severe one, as the two cars were in motion at the time. Poust quickly recovered from the effects of the concussion and did not stop work. Wednesday night, however, he became violently ill and complained of pains in the head.

He was compelled to leave his work and was brought to the central city in a semi-unconscious condition Wednesday night. Poust lay at the point of death at his home, 128 North Garfield avenue. Yesterday his condition was improved somewhat, but it will be several days before he can resume work.
