The new Home for the Friendless is to have a magnificent mantel in its reception room. It will be really the only extravagant feature in the building, but will be such a handsome addition to the room that nothing else in the way of furnishings could equal it. The pleasantest part of this beautiful piece of work is to be that a well known philanthropic lady of this city will give it to the home as a memorial for loved ones dead and fondly remembered.

"Throw out the Life Line," seems to be a special favorite in the way of a musical selection sung by juvenile picnic parties going to and from the Nay Aug Falls. Just why this particular hymn should be chosen may not be very clear to the pedestrian until he takes a trolley ride over the umpty, umpty bumpty connections along the line where new tracks are being laid.

The lecture of Col. Ripple, of Scranton, at the M. E. church last evening, was a very interesting one, and held the close attention of his audience as he recited some of the stirring events of his army experience, and more particularly as to his prison life, and the horrors of it, also of his escape, his rush into the swamp, in a dark night, and his struggle with the blood-hounds that overtook him and set their fangs in his flesh, over and over, and his recapture by the rebs when they came up a few minutes later, and rescued him from the dogs, even though it was to go back to prison. MEETING NOT HELD.

Dr. James H. Andrews Says Some Caustic Things About President James P. Dickson, of Lackawanna Hospital.

Dr. James H. Andrews, in an interview with a Tribune reporter last night, made outspoken charges against James P. Dickson, president of the Lackawanna hospital board of directors. Dr. Andrews and Dr. Frederick Gilbart arrived at Scranton yesterday after traveling nearly 300 miles to attend a meting of the board of directors, which was announced for yesterday afternoon, and were disappointed in the fact that no meeting was held. Mr. Dickson himself made the announcement of the meeting by a letter to Dr. Andrews.

The reason of the visit of the two young physicians is a question of honor. Dr. Andrews, as will be remembered, was discharged from the Lackawanna hospital on July 26 by a letter from President Dickson. The letter

Scranton, Pa., July 26. Dr. J. H. McAndrew, Lackawanna Hospital, City. Dear Sir: I beg to request that you sever your conection with the Lacka-wanna hospital at once. I am sorry to be compelled to take this action, but I see no other way. It is needless for me to give reasons for this action, for you are aware of them; however, if you wish, I shall do so verbally. Yours truly, James P. Dickson, President. Upon receipt of the letter Dr. Andrews went to Mr. Dickson and demanded an explanation. He was informed that he had been away from the hospital without the authority of the president. The absence referred to was a few hours spent at Lake Ariel. Dr. Gilbart, the junior physician, was at the hospital during Dr. Andrews' absence, and as he could see it no rule had been fractured. Dr. Gilbart, the junior physician, was at the hospital during Dr. Andrew's absence. Said Dr. Andrews last night: "I contended that as the board of directors had employed me that same board should ask for my resignation or act upon any charges against me. I told Mr. Dickson this and he said: 'I have supreme authority.' I could not believe that such could possible, I thought there were other directors on the board who might 'own' themselves, and I made an effort to have the charges brought before this board. At that time it seems | pany. there was no meeting of the board, and I and my friend, Gilbart, he having resigned, left the city, asking Mr. Dickson to communicate with us as to the time of the next meeting of the board. Mr. Dickson did so. I received a letter on Aug. 9, while I was in Vermont, telling me that a meeting would be held on Aug. 13. I immediately decided to come to Scranton and confront Mr. Dickson before the board and answer any charges that might be introduced. This afternoon I went to the hospital where the meetings are held and found that nothing had been heard there of Not a single director appeared. And this in face of Mr. Dickson's announcement I consider that Mr. Dickson is dodging. He is afraid to meet me before the board.

"He does not want me to appear before the board and I consider as I did from the start that his letter to me was, in the vernacular, a bluff. He has no real charge to prefer against me; he wanted to get rid of me, and did so with his supreme authority. "We will leave Monday," concluded Dr. Andrews, "believing that President Dickson will never permit me to appear before the board to answer the charges which he knows are unfound-

FIREMEN'S RELIEF HAS BEEN FORMED

Organization Perfected at a Delegates' Meeting Last Night.

WILL DISTRIBUTE STATE FUNDS

Twenty Representatives of the City's Fire Companies Elect Officers and Form an Organization, Through Which Councils Will Direct the Payment of State Funds, According to Act of Legislature -- Officers Elected and Committees Appointed.

Delegates representing the different companies of the city met last night and perfected an organization which will bear a part in distributing he relief fund created by the Clarncy act at a recent session of the legislature. The meeting was held in the on council chamber and was attended by twenty delegates.

The Clarency act proviades for a collection by the state of 2 per cent of all fire insurance premiums paid to companies chartered outside the state. One per cent of these collections is apportioned to boroughs and cities with the unwritten understanding that it is for distribution to disabled firemen. gathers its beneficiaries from the poorwould be unconstitutional for the state to appropriate benefits to firemen of municipalities and boroughs, which would come under the head of civil pensions, consequently the citand boroughs themselves will have to make the distribution. Scranton has chosen the method suggested by Mr. Clarency—that of having a re-lief association which shall recom-mend to councils the proper distributions of the money's.

City Treasurer Boland has been notified that Scranton's share of the foreign insurance fund this year will amount to about $2,200 which will be received here during next month

Other officers were chosen as follows: Emil Bonn, of Century Hose company, recording secretary; Harvey R. Long, Crystal Hose company, vicepresident; P. F. Gordon, Excelsior Hose company, financial secretary; A. B. Holmes, Columbia Hose company, treasurer; board of trustees, J. H. Reilly, of Excelsior Hose company, and A. R. Simrell, of General Phinney Engine company, three years; George Suydam, of Nay Aug Hose company, and Joseph Hall, of Franklin Engine company, for two years; Charles Wirth, of Neptune

Engine company, for one year. COMMITTEES NAMED.

The following committee of five on by-laws and constitution was appointed: Simon Thomas, Franklin Engine company; H. R. Long, Crystal Hose company; Emil Bonn, Century Hose company; A. B. Holmes, Columbia Hose company, and Michael Mackler, Relief Engine company. A committee of three to procure a charter for the organization was appointed as follows: Joseph Hall, Franklin Engine company Ambrose Herz, Century Hose company, and J. J. O'Malley, Eagle Engine com-

The election of officers and the creation of the two important preliminary committees constituted the main feature of the meeting which concluded with quite a lengthy discussion between the constitution committee and the members generally as to whether the legislators intended to provide relief to all firemen or to only active volunteer or paid firemen. All agreed that active volunteer firemen were beneficiaries but as the delegates were not clear on that point, and as the act itself was not specific in its import it was decided to let the constitution committee begin its work without instructions and to settle the point at a further meeting.

An adjournment was made to the call of the president.

The relief association just formed will have to be recognized and constituted by councils as a regular municipal body. Its work, however, will be of a more or less independent nature and its main business with the city will be to present relief bills to the auditing committee and approve them before they are passed upon and presented to the city treasurer for payment.

CITY SOLICITOR'S OPINION,

The organization was perfected under an opinion of City Solicitor Torrey, but the adoption of the name of "Vol unteeer Firemen's" or "Firemen's Relief association," suggested by Mr. Torrey, was deferred until it is determined what class of firemen are to be includ-

A WEEK'S ENGAGEMENT.

Corse Payton Company Will Be Seen at the Academy of Music.

The preliminary Academy of Music season will begin Monday night with the appearance of the Corse Payton company, which will fill a week's engagement at popular prices. It has been Mr. Payton's aim to have the best repertoire company on the road and he has succeeded to an extent that is truly beyond the comprehension of those who have not watched his flight from the rear to the front rank n the profession.

Mr. Payton's success is due to his painstaking application and his inher-nt histrionic talent. The support given Mr. Payton by that charming, sympathetic and capable actress, Miss Etta Reed, is in itself a guarantee of a pleasing production. Miss Reed's art seems almost without limitations. She rises above the ordinary staginess and puts into her work abundant versatility. Her stage pictures are soft and maidenly and she is ever able to disguise her own personality for the benefit of art.
