BURGLARS AT WORK.

Have Entered a Number of Buildings in This Part of the City Recently.

Burglars seem to have centered in West Scranton, Several reports have been made of recent entries into residences here. However, in the case of Professor W. W. Johns, of Storrs avenue, the needs of the would-be bur-glars and the hopes of gain, are so great that three separate and unsuccessful attempts within a week, have been made to despoil the residence. Professor Jones is a collector of state and county tax and at times has a large amount of money in his possession. It is presumed that this fact being known led to the attempts.

Early Friday morning one or more burglars entered the residence of William H. Gable, of 117 South Garfield avenue, and took the sum of $7 and two excursion tickets, overlooking a much larger sum lying in another bureau drawer below the one ransacked. Mr. Gable's family are visiting out-oftown. Mr. Gable is employed on the Delaware, Luckawanna and Western railroad as a fireman and leaves for his work at an early hour. This was thief's chance and probably knowing that Mr. Gable had been paid the previous day, went in search of the

The burglary, which was reported to have occurred at the residence of John of Eynon street, Thursday night, really happened to a neighbor, John Snyder. Mr. Snyder is working nights at the Believue shaft as engineer and his loss amounts to about six dollars. The thicf in this case, also overlooking a much larger sum in bills. Mrs. Snyder complained of drowsiness and headache in the morning and believes something was used to keep her

SMITH SHOT THE FOX.

Sir Reynard is dead. This fact may amuse some, please others, and the deepest gratification to many. His foxship will cause no more worry for chickens; no more fright to newsboys or belated travelers; no more tantalization for patrolmen aching for a shot. He met death at the hands of Louis Smith, of Price street, while lying beneath the front porch of Rossiter R. Chase, a resident of North Sumper avenue. About 7 o'clock Saturday evening Smith located him and taking a revolver made a dollar bounty tax with two shots. This fox was a former possession of Minor E. Worden, of North Hyde Park avenue, but was given by his owner to a South Scranton man. Sir Reynard refused to live at the new owner's residence and returned to his old haunts, though not to his old home. He made his lair be-neath an old barn, on the Crowder property, in the rear of Lieutenant John H. Davis' property at 121 North Sumner avenue, and spent each day there in safety.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

Twice before has Tony Maguette, of Scranton street, been charged with the scot free. But the fateful third time came and Brooks A. Bass, officer of the Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, rounded Tony up on Saturday afternoon before Alderman Johns. It was the same old charge, or rather one of a similar nature. The hearing ought to have occurred before this as the warrant has been out since July 29, but Maguotto put it off. The hearing brought the facts that Tony was driving a horse in a team, and that this poor beast was totally unfit for work. Though warned, he persisted, with the above results. Alderman Johns fined him $10 and costs. This fine is the minimum amount for such Attorney C. W. Dawson offenses. appeared for Maguotto and tried to have the case thrown into court. But the alderman's decision stood.

BOY INJURED.

Gordon Rowlands, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Rowlands, of 1213 Sadie place, narrowly escaped death Friday evening by being caught beneath some falling timber. He, with several companions, was playing on top of the pile of lumber, lying in front of a new dwelling in the course of erection on Division stret, near Decker's court. The lumber slipped down and the boy in falling, was pinned beneath. Passersby extricated him immediately and Dr. W. E. Allen, who was passing, pronounced it more frightened than hurt. No bones were broken and the boy went home.

THOUSANDS WENT AWAY

Four Excursions That Left the City Saturday Were Well Patronized by the People of This City.

Scranton was smaller in population ast Saturday than it has been for many years. Four excursions to as many resorts, near and far, drained the city to the amount of probably 7,000 persons. This is a very low es timate and the actual count including those who are away on summer sojourns would swell the number to over

It was an ideal excursion day. The factory hands dropped their bobbins and got a glimpse of heaven at Lake Ariel; the shop workers threw aside their hammers and with wives and families spent a few hours under the trees and on the bosom of Harvey's lake; at Farview the miners drilled holes in the rocks for prizes and glory, some fresh air, and a boat ride. The weather knew all about it and behaved as if he were a friend of the masses Fate was not so kind for the Poyntelle excursionists came home with one dead body-Michael Demmis, of the North End, who was drowned in the lake. An account is given in another column. Without a doubt the greatest of Saturday's big four was the factory girls' outing at Lake Ariel. The employes of the Sauquoit Silk mill were given a free excursion by the mill operators. It proved to be the best patronized undertaking that has ever originated in this city. Forty car loads of people, numbering over 3,000, were carried to the lake in four trains over the Erie and Wyoming Valley road Of this number 1,600 were employes of the factory and 400 more traveled on free tickets, distributed by the mill operators through W. H. Davis, superintendent of the Sauquoit mill. The money obtained by the sale of tickets to outside persons was used by Mr. Davis in purchasing refreshments given to the employes at the lake Over 300 checks worth 5 cents each were distributed at the park. These checks presented at the numerous stands were exchanged for ice cream, confections or lunches. Incidentally it may be said that Peter Zeidler, proprietor of Zeidler's cafe, dreamt of checks Saturday night. Mr. Zeidler was at the lake as also was Chief of Police Frank Robling and a hundred others who contributed with their money to the success of the outing. Naturally the factory girls were very anxious to secure those nickle checks and Chief Robling pointed out Mr. Zeidler as the only man in the park who had the checks. Mr. Zeidler was the centre of a swarm of petitioners. He finally escaped in a boat and across the lake to where John J. Gaffney was monarch of a little St. Helena. This was only one of many amusing incidents.

Bauer's band played for dancing during all the day and the big pavillion was too small for the crowd. The attaches of the park say that there never was a bigger and more lively crowd at the lake. The engineer of one of the small steamers at 6 o'clock was complaining that he had not had time to cat his noon-day meal. When evening came two long trains emptied the park of its humanity and the great day was

The philanthropic spirit of the mill operators found a good medium in Superintendent Davis. For weeks past he has worked night and day toward the success of the excursion. At the park he was everywhere, working for the comfort of his boys and girls. His popularity was a matter of general

Marquette council, Young Men's Institute, of the North End, went to Farview for their outing. It took 22 cars to carry the crowd. The day was very pleasantly spent, one of the features being a rock drilling contest by miners. The first prize was won by Harry Jones and William Nichols; second prize by John Baxter and David Richards. The estimated number at the park was

At Lake Poyntelle twenty-eight car loads of people under the direction of the order of True Ivorites of the North End passed a day that was marred only by the accident mentioned.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Mutual Aid association had their excursion to Harvey's lake. The train numbered 15 cars. The feature of the day was a swimming contest between Campbell, of the North End, and a man named Evans from Wilkes-Barre. The Scranton man won.
