PLEASANT SOCIAL.

A conundrum and shadow social was held at the Berean Baptist church Friday evening which was much enjoyed all. A large number of conundrums had been pinned up around the room and an opportunity to study them was given to all before handing in the answers. A contest was also engaged in to form the greatest number of words from the letters contained in the words "Christian Endeavor." Miss Jennie Purple won the prise, she having written 150 words. In the answers to the conundrums there was a tie between three persons. In the shadow exhibition the room was darkened and the person's profile was thrown on a cur-

Two Bone Hill Boys Have Staked a Claim at Klondike.

About two years ago a couple of Bonehill lads, William Madden and Thomas English, familiarly known as "Tom Kicker," left for the West to seek their fortunes. Letters were received from them for a time, but for nearly a year past nothing was heard from them until last Saturday, when a letter was received from Madden, by his brother, Michael Madden, corner of Van Buren avenue and Jackson streeet, announcing that he and English were in the Klondike region and had secured a claim, which they were working with great results.

They went to Alaska at about the time they ceased writing and were fortunately near at hand when the rush for the Yukon commenced. They are the kind of boys that can be relied upon to get a good slice of anything that is going and it would not be surprising if they came back some day wearing dia-

DR. ANDREWS' STATEMENT.

Editor of The Tribune: Seeing that the board of directors of the Lackawanna hospital are not ani-mated by that sense of justice which one man owes to another and that they are evidently afraid to give me a chance to state my case before them, I have decided that my only vindication now will be through the pressure of public opinion. For this reason I have decided to make known the facts regarding my removal from the institution.

Several months ugo a patient in my ward developed erysipelas, a contagious disease, and according to rule was iscdisease, and according to rule was iso-lated. Before being entirely cured, the attending physician was suddenly called out of town, leaving the case entirely to me. The very next day I discovered that the patient had been removed to the ward by the superintendent, Miss Krae-mer, without orders. I instantly de-manded that she should be taken back to the isolation room, as she was still in to the isolation room, as she was still in a condition to infect others. The super-intendent refused to send her back and she remained in the ward for two days until the attending physician returned, thus risking the lives of the patients in that ward. The staff physician on his re-turn upheld my course and demanded that the case be again isolated. This was immediately done, but from that time or trouble brewed. A few weeks ago I received a letter from James P. Dickson, president of the board of directors, the contents of which were made known in The Tribune of the 14th inst., demanding that I sever my connection with the hospital at once This I declined to do, telling Mr. Dicksor that the board that appointed me alone had the power to dismiss me. He denied this, saying "I have supreme authority, the board has nothing to do with it." He made a similar statement to one of the daily papers.

He refused to make the charges against me in writing. I then wrote to the board demanding immediate investigation. This was promised, but postponed on several occasions. I then left the city with Dr. Gilbart, who had resigned in the meantime. I wrote again, on my return home, to Mr. Dickson, demanding that the charges against me be presented in writing. I received the following from him: Dear Doctor: Your favor of the 31st July only reached me here this morning. As regards the reasons for which you were asked to leave the hospital I gave them to you verbally and can see no rea-sen for reducing them to writing as I told you I am perfectly willing for you to lay your case before the directors, but as I further told you it was impossible to get a sufficient number of the board to gether to make a quorum, and a mee getner to make a quorum, and a meet-ing without a proper number would be useless as no business could be trans-acted. Our regular monthly meeting will be on the second Friday of this month (13th inst). At this season of the year when so many are absent from town I cannot promise a meeting, but we shall Saturday afternoon the funeral of the endoavor to have one, and in case we do child of Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis, of I shall be very glad to have you present

yours, James P. Dickson, President Board of Directors, Lackawanna Hospital. trary I started to Scranton and traveled several hundred miles at considerable expense for the express purpose of meeting the directors and obtaining a fai trial. Having noticed the loop hole Mr. Dickson made in his letter, through which a very small man could crawl. I was not so very much surprised to learn that he had left town, and no meeting of the directors had been called. I then saw Mr. Eisle, the secretary of the board. He professed great surprise that I had not waited until he had no-tified me. I then told him of my let-ter from the president, and he admitted that I did right in coming, particularly when reminded of the president's "su-preme authority." In the presence of several persons Mr. Eisele admitted that he would not treat any person in his em-ploy as I had been treated, but he also said: "If I should dismiss any man and found later that I had been unjust, I should never take him back." When I teld the secretary that, in my opinio the board was afraid to give me a chance to defend himself, and that Mr. Dickson was out of town for this reason, he simply said: "Well, you must admit that Mr. Dickson is a year, and the simply said: Mr. Dickson is a very cunning man.' In slinking out of town to avoid an investigation, which, if honestly conducted, would clear a man's reputation, the board of directors have dishonored them-selves, and the Lackawanna hospital with an ignominious breach of faith. (man claims "supreme authority." colleagues then cringe before him and allow him to do as he pleases. This is the kind of an institution tax payers are supporting. An institution run by one man, and that man following the advice of a woman, who is governed by her likes or dislikes, and to whom the good of an institution is nothing when comof an institution is nothing when com-pared with a chance to gratify a petty spite or a personal ambition.

attempt by unscrupulous persons, who consider a young man's reputation nothing, when there is a possibility that their own may suffer, I will have nothing more to do with the matter, believing as I to do with the matter, believing do that any investigation now of that any investigation how would simply be a cloak to cover up their own tracks. Doubtless most of the board, as individuals, are perfectly honorable men; be this as it may, it does not remove from their shoulders the grave responsi-bility of allowing any one man to have "supreme authority" to do as he pleases in an institution which is supported by the public. J. H. Andrew, M. D. Scranton, Pa., Aug. 14.
