THE CHIN AS AN INDEX.

Can You Tell a Person's Character by the Shape of His Lower Jaw ?

rom the St. Louis Clinique Protruding chins characterize men and women of the get-there type. Successful people usually carry their chins thrust forward, with compressed lips. This chin, if heavy, with broad rami and swelling masseters, indicates fightng blood.

A retreating chin shows lack of force, mentally, morally, and physically; usually of the yielding sort; soon discouraged; desires protection; small excutive force. The development of other faculties often makes up for this defect.

A small, well-rounded chin, with mohile and red cushion of flesh upon, indicates a pleasure-loving owner. If dimpled, all the more so, for dimpled chins belong to coquettes. People with dimples love to be petted and loved; like admiration and praise. Generally fickle. Usually this chin is healthy, recuperative and long-lived. Broad chins signify nobleness and large dignity, unless vertically thin, when, if with it there be thin lips of bloodless kind, you find cruelty. Square chins with little flesh denotes firmness and executive ability. These

Medium chins with a suggestive bi-furcation in the centre, with small mounds of flesh on either side, characterize generosity, impulsiveness, cheery natures. The same sized chins, with a dab of flesh just under the centre of the lower lip, indicate meanness, selfishness, brutality.

UNDER DIFFICULTIES.

But This Young Man's Time Had Come and Train Robbers Made No Difference.

From the Chicago Tribune. "I hope you will not accuse me of taking an unfair advantage. Miss Jarvis," began Wesley Haggintop, slipping into the unoccupied seat by the side of the young woman, "but I raw you getting on this train and I came along. I am going 25 or 30 miles, anyhow, and further still if necessary. I want to have a talk with you."

"Mr. Higgintop-" "I know what you are about to say-I am taking a liberty not warranted by our short acquaintance, and all that sort of thing. But I am not. I have been in this car nearly a quarter of an hour, Miss Jarvis, waiting for a good excuse to come and take this seat, and when I saw that loose-jointed old Algerine with the blue-black whiskers and the molasses-colored suit of clothes that got on at the last station making for this seat I felt it to be a duty to forestall him. Will you oblige me by taking a look at those whiskers, Miss Jarvis?" "I see them," Mr. Higginton." "Well, that's why I popped down here so suddenly. I am not vain, Miss Jarvis, but I took it for granted-" "Yes, you seem to have taken it for granted," she interjected. "That between a young man of at least average respectability in appearance and a seedy old hunks with dyed whiskers no young woman of taste should hesitate a moment. Hence-"

"Upon my word, sir-" "Hence I am here. Of two evils, Miss Jarvis, always choose the better-look-When I want any figs, young ing. man, I'll let you know. You will confer a favor by strolling down the aisle. I was going to say, Miss Jarvis, that there's nothing accidental about this. I am on this train in pursuance of a deliberate design. I am sitting by your side entirely on purpose. At exactly 10 o'clock last night I made up my mind I wouldn't hang on my eyelids any longer. I decided I would seize the first opportunity-

The train had been going at the rate of forty miles an hour. The sudden application of the air-brakes brought it quickly to a stop. There was a con-fused sound of voices. Rifle shots were heard. Mr. Higgintop listened a moment and resumed:

"I decided to seize the first opportunity to tell you-

"For heaven's sake, what-"To tell you that I-"No, no! I mean what is that noise about? Something dreadful is happenng! I am sure it is!" "There's some disturbance at the forward end of the train, I presume. Viola Jarvis-" "O, Mr. Higgintop, at such a time as this how can you—" "A man as far gone as I am doesn't stop to reason about things. I have

"Well, Wesley-" "You darling!" Clack! Crash! Crash! "Oh, what will become of us-"

"Viola, dear, it only rests with you to say. I don't believe in long engagements. Four weeks from this daytake your hands away from mine and I'll kiss you before all these people, you willful girl! There! now you're acting sensibly-hello, conductor, what's the matter?" "Train robbers," replied the unlormed guardian of the train, who had just entered the car. "They've looted the express car and got away with The danger's over now, though. The gang's gone. THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review

New York, Aug. 28.—The stock market made a remarkable show of strength throughout the short session today, practically the whole list tending steadily upward with scarcely a halt. There was profit-taking at intervals during the morning, but the sales to realize were absorbed at a gulp at scarcely an impression and the buying resumed and kept up steadily until the close. Sharp advances in the prices of American securities in London gave the impetus to prices at the opening. The sce-saw effect of the decline in wheat was again strikingly manifest today and the crop damage scare of last week was displaced by renewed confidence in the yield of wheat and the safety of corn. The Grangers were largely dealt in on the strength of this factor but they moved over a somewhat restricted range on account of realizing sales which affected no Wall Street Review of wheat and the safety of corn. The Grangers were largely dealt in on the strength of this factor but they moved over a somewhat restricted range on ac-count of realizing sales which affected no very marked reactions. Total sales were 452,400 shares.
