TRIBUTE TO JOHN R. JONES.

Lackawanna's District Attorney Is Honored by Business Men.

On Saturday night last a carriage drove up to the home of District Attorney John R. Jones, in Blakely, and four prominent business men alighted. They presented him with the following

Whereas, John R. Jones, esq., our learned and courteous district attorney, is a candidate for renomination to that is a candidate for renomination to that responsible office, subject to the will of the approaching Republican county convention. He was nominated for district attorney of Lackawanna county by the memorable Republican convention, assembled in the court house Sept. 4, 1894, after one of the most remarkable campaigns in the political history of our county. He then made a pledge to the voters. We will quote his own words: "If the majority of the electors of Lackawanna county shall see fit to cast their "If the majority of the electors of Lack-rewanna county shall see fit to cast their ballots for me for the office of district attorney. I will perform the duties of the office faithfully, impartially and to the best of my ability."

From persons in all the walks of life all over this county, he has received let-ters of commendation, urging him to permit his name to be presented to the Republican county convention for the dis-trict attorneyship, as a recognition of his faithful public service; therefore be

He has done his utmost to protect society from crime and criminals. In every case the burglar, the highway robber and the murderer has received just retribution.

That the same faithfulness to duty characterized his official career as presi-dent of Blakely school board and as director of the poor of Blakely poor dis-trict. Mr. Jones has always guarded the interests of the poor, and his name is a household word throughout this valley. His nomination means his triumphant election. That like his good father, the late Edward Jones, of Blakely, his char-acter for honesty and integrity is beyond

HIGH SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS.

Preliminary Questions Were Submitted to Prospective Pupils. Professor Phillips and a corps of achers were busy all day yesterday with applicants at the preliminary examinations for admission to the High school. More than sixty children, who did not possess superintendent's certificates, took the examination, which included arithmetic, grammar, spelling, geography and United States history, for the applicants for the first year.

The questions were practical and contained no points which a child expecting to enter the High school should not be prepared to answer. The result of the examination will not be announced until next week.

The engineer did not want much; he wasn't looking for free office rent in the board of trade building or a house and lot on the hill, gratis. All he asked was for information as to a good residence part of the city and a place where he could conspicuously display his shingle. He'd do the rest. "They've got to come," continued the man who fits his position like the main spring of a great watch. "We get scores of such letters every week and the public seldom hears anything about it. Every once in a while a fellow

ELUDED THE OFFICER.

Colored Woman Was Arrested, but Escaped and Now Her Husband Is in Jail.

Special Officer Frederick Mink, of Allerman Wright's court, came home from Cresco, Monroe county, yesterday afternoon, but he was minus a prismer who had actuated his mission last Saturday. Mink had an experience which convinces him of the deep-dyed character of Mrs. Frank Hemminger, colored. The woman was wanted for "larceny by bailee," J. W. Guernsey, of this city, preferring the charge. Mr. Guer-ency averred that Mrs. Hemminger leased a plano from him and afterward sold the instrument. For this reason the arrest of the woman was intrusted

He left for Cresco Saturday and drove out into the country for a numreach the Hemminger nomestead. He reached there all right and had no difficulty in makithe arrest. Mrs. Hemminger asked cial favor-to go upstairs and get her Su day dress. "I don't want to appear in town in this old Mother Hubbard," she said, beaming a smile. Her husband went upstairs with her and Mink sat in a chair and looked at the pictures of plantatic; life hung upon the wall. He became tired of this and cast his eyes upon the figures of the wall paper. Weary of this and as a last resort he went to the door and looked out upon the smiling Monroe county harvest lands. Tiring of this he looked about for his prisoner.

Mrs. Hemminger had flown away, Officer Mink made for the woods near the house, but he was not familiar with the circling paths and he eventually gave up the hunt and returned to the louse. The woman was not there. Mink went before Justice Lewis, of hat locality, and had a warrant issued for the arrest of the husband, charging him with interfering with an offieer and alding a prisoner to escape. Hemminger was placed under $300 bail and in default was committed to the Stroudsburg jail, Officer Mink taking him there. He afterward returned to Cresco and continued his search for the yoman. The whole neighborhood eemed to be her friends. Mink spent Saturday afternoon, Sunlay, Monday and yesterday morning ooking for the woman and then he came home with empty handcuffs. The warrant was left with officers at Cresco. WAS HE KIDNAPPED?

A friend of the family says that toward 9 o'clock he saw the boy in com-pary with a one-armed man going toward the North End. The parents fear that the little fellow has been kidnapped.

The one-armed man is described as being about five feet six inches in height, wore grey clothings and brown felt hat. The boy was dressed in a blue jeans waist and wore a small cap. The North End police are on the watch for the pair.

He Writes a Letter Announcing That He Is Out of the Race for the Shrievalty -- Annual Meeting and Elections of the Juntor Republican Club-Ninth Ward Club Selects Delegates to the Williamsport Convention .- Scranton Democrats Who Were Honored in Rending.

Mr. Griffin, the Democratic nominee for clerk of the courts, publishes the following formal letter of declination:

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 31, 1897. When I sought the nomination for clerk of the courts, I did it when the pros-pects of Democratic victory were not as bright as when I was nominated. I en-tered into the contest with a determination to win. My cause was so strongly advocated by my many friends in every section of the county that my nomination and election were assured. I have no less hopes of the election of the gen-tleman whom the committee in their judgment will select to fill my place on the ticket.

Had I the selection of a whole county ticket, I could not name a stronger ticket than that named by the convention. It has every element of strength that appeared in sight within the county, I was prepared to pay my legitimate cam-paign expenses out of my own earnings. I intend to take the stump this fall in the interest of the whole Democratic ticket, and to appeal to my friends to support the candidates as carnestly as if I were a candidate myself. All of which goes to show that I did not decline the honor on account of lack of friends or fear of results. My reasons are of a private and personal nature, and my only regret is that I will not be a partner in the Democratic victory of next November that I will do all in my power to bring about

At present I am not in politics.
M. H. Griffin.

The other candidates have arranged a meeting for next Monday night to choose some one to fill the vacancy. The choice of the candidates will be submitted to the new county committee, which is to be announced on that day. The committee will meet soon thereafter and of course adopt the suggestion of the candidates.

Who the choice will be is not known as yet, even by the candidates, or at least they so declare. Hon, Frank R. Coyne, of Old Forge; John F. Flynn and Thomas Law, of Archbald, are the only ones publicly mentioned for the place. Flynn or Law would take it, but there is some question of Coyne accepting. He announced once that he had been persuaded to change his mind.

Superintendent George W. Beemer, of the Hillside Home, sent the following letter to The Tribune last night:

To my Republican friends in Lacka wanna county who have so ably assisted me in my canvas for delegates for the office of sheriff:

After mature deliberation and because of circumstances over which I have no control, I have decided to withdraw from the field as a candidate for sheriff at the coming Republican convention. I take this opportunity to thank all my friends for the kindness shown me in this preninary campaign. George W. Beemer.

The Junior Republican club held a well-attended meeting in the rooms of the Central Republican club, Price building. Last evening, at which the building. Last evening, at which the annual election of officers took place. The following were elected: President, George W. Marshall, jr.; treasurer, Joseph Boles; secretary, P. Silas Walter; assistant secretary. John M. Edwards. This is the second year of the club's organization, and the interest manifested at last night's meeting plainly showed that it will continue to grow not only in membership, but in political strength. The club is now a per-manent organization and will undoubtedly prove a strong factor in the coming campaign. It will be represented at the coming convention of the State League of Republican clubs by eight or ten members.

The Ninth ward Republican club last night elected Attorney M. W. Lowry and Captain George B. Thompson as delegates to next week's Williamsport

The members of the Bellevue Republican club gathered at Jones' hall last evening and held an enthusiastic meeting. President Herbert Kimble was in the chair. Several timely speeches were made, and plans discussed in regard to the coming campaign. The club numbers about seventy-five members from the Third district of the Sixth ward. A special meeting will be held at the hall on Friday evening next, at 7.30 o'clock.

Women's Kecley League Convention.

Editor of The Tribune. Dear Sir: A more earnest body of women never met in convention, to report the good work done in the past year, and to consider the best way to help suffering humanity, than that noble body, the National Woman's Keeley league, which met in Minneapolis on August 24-26. Delegates from east, west, north and south were heard from and all with encouraging reports of the good work done. Fraternal delegates were present with greetings from the National Women's Christian Temperance union, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Catholic Total Ab-stinence union, Woman's council and oth-

The former gave a delightful address of welcome and the latter a free carriage ride about their teautiful city, and a trol-

The governor of the home called the soldiers together, and Mrs. Lake gave a talk to them as only she can give. Colonel Reed also gave a short talk. The governor welcomed us and thanked the speakers in the name of the old soldiers.

We were also given a reception in the public library by the Woman's council of Minnesota, and a rare treat to see the private art gallery of T. B. Walker. On uesday and Wednesday evenings at the yoeum theater we had the pleasure of listening to Governor Glough, of Minnesota; Bishop Shanley, of North Dakota; Mrs. Leonora Lake, of St. Louis; Mrs. Ida B. Cole, West Chicago; ex-Mayor Eustis, of Minneapolis; Mr. Mawbary, Philadelphia; Mrs. Dutcher, Stillwater, Minn., president of the National Women's Keeley league. Hon. Thomas E. All left for their homes feeling that the convention was a success, both in a business and social way, and with an earnest desire to be present, God willing, at the next echyention in Toronto.
