PROHIBITION CAMPAIGN.

Address by Professor Samuel Dickie, Chairman of National Committee. A good-sized audience assembled on Wednesday evening at the Opera house and listened to arguments in favor of prohibition, presented by Professor Samuel Dickie, chairman of the Natoinal Prohibition committee, and by

W. W. Lathrope, esq., of Scranton. Professor H. J. Hockenberry and T. C.Rabinson were seated upon the platform. The Prohibition quartette, sisting of Homer Smith, Merritt Abbey, James Balls and A. L. Pyne, gave an appropriate selection and then W. W. Lathrope was announced as the first speaker by Professor Hockenberry. Mr. Lathrope spoke of his recent trip through the state and of the increasing interest in the cause of prohibition. As an illustration he said that Williamsport at its last municipal election had elected the Prohibition candidate, so that with a chief of police, who strictly enforces the law, the place is becoming a model one in which to live. After paying a tribute to Dr. Swallow, the candidate for state treasurer, Professor Samuel Dickie, of Michigan, chairman of the Prohibition National committee, made the address of the evening. For an hour and a half he held the attention of the audience, giving a variety of arguments upon the proposition, "Why have a Prohibition party?

These special complaints from which so many women suffer are not necessary. Dr. Pierce's Pavorite Prescription positively cures even the most severe and obstinate cures even the most severe and obstinate cases.

It is not a haphazard medicine. It is not a "cure-all." It is a scientific remedy devised by an educated and experienced specialist for the one purpose of curing the special diseases of women.

Tens of thousands of women have been restored to perfect health by this wonderful "Prescription." In many instances they were actually given up as hopeless by physicians and family doctors.

"I have taken both your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pavorite Prescription' for chronic inflammation of the uterus and bladder," writes Mrs. M. A. Scott, of Park Rapids, Hubbard Co., Minn. "I also had stomach trouble which was terribly distressing. I have been cured of all. I had suffered untold misery for four years previous to taking your treatment, but began to feel the good effect at once."

JERMYN NEWS.

A Minister's Experience with Two Tourists Who Wanted Assistance. Wedding Reception -- The Mystery of Frank Belcher.

In an account in yesterday's Leader the people of this town seemed to have been duped on Tuesday in aiding the couple giving the name of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bernard. A couple called at Trinity rectory on Tuesday giving their name as Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barrett, of Newport News. According to their story, they had formerly kept a restaurant at that place, but sold out and were ant at that place, but sold out and were coming to Hazleton to visit his sister, Mrs. J. S. Brown. They said they had come to Baltimore by steamer, thence to White Haven by steamer, and from that place to Carbondale without changing cars. This would be impossible, as they were much nearer Hazleton at White Haven than they were after reach-ing Carbondale. Rev. Mr. Fitchett ques-tioned them rather closely, and they showed ignorance of what railroads they had traveled ever. Mr. Fitchett volun-teered to arrange for their dinners at Hotel Anthracite, and would telegraph to his sister at Hazleton, and the minister in Newport News, and if their story was true, he would provide their fare to Hazieton. This, however, seemed to frighten them both. The man said he was afraid he was going to have another "spell" and both left the rectory as soon as possible. It is possible they are not the same couple who came here, but it looks as though it might be.

People sincerely hope it is not he, for while a resi-dent of this place he made many friends who could wish him nothing but success. It is known that he was up in the Klon-dike region, where the death of the one mentioned occurred. Word was received some time ago that he was alling. PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES. How Mr. Doverspike Prepared to Circumvent the Nimble Microbe. From Puck. "I have been reading a great deal lately about the deadly germs which infest the water we drink," said Mr. Dover-spike to his wife. "Well, if the germs can stand it, I think we should be able to," replied Mrs. Dov-erspike. "We are considerably bigger than they are, I take it."

"That isn't the way the doctors talk, my dear. The germs may be little, but they get there just the same," the husband went on, with an attempt at gaysty.
"The germs never hurt me."
"Don't you remember when you had typhoid fever, Mandy?"

"Of course, I remember. It didn't destroy my memory, I should hope!"
"That was caused by germs."
"Oh, laws! Was it?" "It was, most assuredly." "I suppose you are telling me all this as an excuse for not drinking water, but guzzling down some other liquid, which, of course, has no germs in it!"

"Mandy, you misjudge me severely, and, what is much worse, you have misjudged me in this way ever since our marriage. I am tempted to say nothing whatever of the plan I had in mind to circumvent these germs,, and thus save you from ever having typhoid or any other

"Oh, well, I didn't mean to offend you. "Well, the germs in water can be killed and the water made perfectly wholeson by sterilizing it."

sort of fever again.

'What is that, I'd like to know?" "Ordinarily the apparatus for sterilizing liquids is very expensive; but I read a cheap and effective method in the newspaper a day or two ago. "What was it?"

"Well, you simply put the water which you wish to sterilize in beer bottles, close them with the mechanical stoppers, and then put the bottles so filled with water in a big kettle of water, and boil them for a while. That kills the germs." "I'd like to know where we'd get any beer bottles from to do the sterilizing

"Well, I have solved that problem, too, in the interest of wholesome water. I or-dered a few cases of beer this afternoon. They will be delivered at dark. As soon as I have drunk five or six bottles you can proceed to sterilize the water for family consumption."

Vindicating Her Idea.

The vindication of an idea is a great thing. One of the teachers in the public school in Wells street was speaking to another a few days ago of the careless-ness of pupils in certain directions and measures to be taken to cure them.

"Why," she said, "on one of the bitterest days of the early part of the week a little boy came to school from his home, nearly a mile away, without an overcoat. The temperature had been at nearly 30 degrees below zero, and think of that child walking all that distance in such weather! It was terrible. I don't see how he kept from perishing. He said he had forgotten to put it on."
"Forgot to put it on." said the the other. "Isn't that silly! What did you do about it?"

"Go up to the twentieth floor? Oh, no! I'm too rheur stic for that." "Good gracicus, you don't hi up! There's an elevator."
"I know it, but it wouldn't make any
