SADLY AFFLICTED PARENT.

Just Buried His Wife and Now Loses

His Daughter. Wilkes-Barre, Sept. 3,-Last evening while visiting her grandmother in this city, the 3-year-old daughter of E. W. DeWitt, of West Pittston, was fatally burned. The little girl was in an outhouse, where she found a match. She ignited the match and set fire to some old paper. While she was playing about the blaze her clothing caught fire and in an instant she was completely enveloped in flames.

The little one screamed loudly and her grandmother rushed to her aid, and was horrifled at the sight. Other help came and the burning garments were finally torn off and the flames extinguished, but not before the child had been horribly burned. The child was removed to its home in West Pittston, when it died at midnight. Two weeks ago Mr. DeWitt buried

The animal shied violently and just as it did Reese leaned forward to secure a tighter grasp of the reins. The horse thereupon administered a forceful kick, the hoof striking young Reese squarely in the jaw and knocking him unconscious. A half dozen teeth were knocked out, a piece of flesh torn from his cheek and his face badly bruised.

Thirty-Five Miles an Hour is the Limit for Fast Trains.

Russia, with over 4,875,000 square miles of area more than the United States, has 158,000 miles less of railroads. Most of the engines burn naphtha oil for fuel, with excellent results. This oil is the refuse from the first refining and costs about 40 cents per barrel. This oil is also used for general lubricating purposes.

None of the engines have bells, but instead have two whistles. The engines are finely painted; the wheels red, frames black; jacket as I cabs green, with a fine black stripe; the inside of cabs nearly white, or cream color.

The speed of freight trains is limited to twenty miles per hour, while the fast express is limited to thirty-five miles per hour.

In switching and making up of trains all signals are given by sound-that is, the switchman has a tin horn which he blows, and the engine driver is obliged to repeat this signal by whistle before he goes ahead. When an engine stops the engineer is required to give three short whistles. The passenger coaches are divided into three classes-first, second and third. They are all lighted by candles. The outside of the first class car is painted blue; second-class, yellow; third-class, green; plainly lettered without any striping. Some cars are partitioned off in the centre-one sec tion for first-class passengers, the other for second-class passengers-these are painted one-half yellow the other half blue; and the same combination for second and third class-these are painted half yellow and half green. There is only a single road of all double track, and that is 400 miles long. Some of the switches are provided with padlocks spiked to one of the crossties in the centre of the track. To move a switch requires the use of a key to the padlock, which is about ten inches long and weighs several

There was a decrease of activity in the industrial stocks and the dealings in the standard railroad shares wer largely augmented, the buying through commission houses being confident and on a large scale. The Vanderbilt group closed higher, But the center of interest in the market was shifted from of interest in the market was shifted from the Vanderbilts to St. Paul, which sold during the day at 19, a net advance of 3% on enormous transactions. Statement of estimated gross carnings for St. Paul and Burlington served to put the Grangers again in the lead of the market and their strength helped the whole list. The rise in St. Paul invited profit-taking not only in that stock but all through the list and though a raily followed, closing prices were not at the best. It will pay you to read this adv. and notice the money you can save by buying your Shoes and Oxfords for less than the cost of making. We sell shoes cheaper than any other house, for the reason that we sell for cash only, and buying for spot cash from manufacturers in need of ready cash, and we are satisfied with a small profit, and we are doing the shoe business of the town today, and we are compelled to enlarge our store and engage extra salespeople so you will have no trouble to get waited on. We are determined to clear our entire stock so we can begin Fall Business with new goods, regardless of what the loss will be. We expect to lose money this mouth, as this is the only way we can dispose of odds and ends.
