AN AFFLICTED WOMAN.

Remains of the Two Children of Mrs. David S. Hughes Burned Beside Their Father.

The affliction which has so recently come upon Mrs. David S. Hughes, of 314 Hughes court, by the death of her husband in April and last week the loss of two children on the same day, has aroused the sympathy of the entire community. Yesterday afternoon the funeral services of the children were held and the attendance numbered many hundreds.

SERMONS OF REV. D. E. WILLIAMS.

Last Before He Sails for His Home in London.

After spending the past four months in a trip through the far west, Rev. D. E. Williams, of London, returned here on Saturday and preached again at the First Welsh Baptist church yesterday at both services. His sermon of the morning was delivered in Welsh and he spoke in English at the evening service.

His sermon of the evening was preached from the passage found in the gospel of Mark, 10-32. "And Jesus went before them." The main idea of his sermon was the leadership of Christ, with which was closely associated the Master's solicitude and His protection.

Under the head of his leadership is found the predominant quality of His divinity. The coming from and going to His Father. His character was a revelation to men and the natural sympathy which resulted aroused the sense of being guided or led. The moral effect produced by this leadership indicated His nobility and holiness.

Then Christ is made to convey hope and then raise man to his proper sphere. He showed mankind that the best was yet to come. His influence tended to uplift and elevate all men "whosoever would." He also demonstrated to man that He was able to do that which He had caused him to believe He would bring about.

They were going up to Jerusalem, the holy city, and the very fact that He went before" indicated his protecting grace. He stood between his disciples and followers and the rabble. He also stands between man's holiness and unhappiness, ever ready to protect and support in time of need.

JONES WAS VERY BOLD.

Relieved Mrs. Morgans of Her Pocket Book in Broad Day Light.

A bold attempt was made to rob Mrs. Morgans, of Academy street, Saturday afternoon, while she was walking along Mullein street. The highwayman was Edward Jones, who recently served a term in the county jail for a similar offense. Jones stopped Mrs. Morgans and snatched where he could find a person whom he named. Mrs. Morgans told him she knew no such person, and while she was speaking Jones seized the pocketbook, which contained some money, and dashed up the street.

He was overtaken by Patrick Murray, who gave chase. Mr. Murray is a driver for Luce Brothers and, catching sight of the fleeing man, after whom Mrs. Morgans was calling "stop that man," he soon overtook the culprit. The thief tossed the purse into a neighboring yard, but it was recovered. Jones was given a hearing yesterday morning before Alderman Moses and committed in default of $500 bail.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied by the names of the writers. The name of the writer will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.

STATEMENT BY M. J. NORTON, Editor of the Tribune.

Sir: I feel that on account of certain charges made in one of the Sunday papers concerning the delegates' election Saturday in the First district of the Eighth ward a word of explanation is due. I am quite certain that the delegates' election was in accordance with the rules. On the contrary, I have always voted the Republican ticket and supported Republican principles and am a member of good standing in the Central Republican club. It is true that I defeated Mr. Raub and used a ticket bearing Alderman Miller's name at the polls.

No More Dread of the Dental Chair

On account of the increasing patronage of the New York Dental Parlors, due to our methods of painless dentistry, we have been obliged to fit up the entire second floor with our patent appliances, which make it both pleasant and painless for our patients.

Teeth extracted and filled absolutely without pain by our late scientific method applied to the gums. No sleep producing agent or cocaine. We are not competing with the cheap dental establishments, but with the first-class dentists, at prices less than half charged by them.

Full Set Teeth, $5.00. We guarantee a fit or no pay. Will fill and apply gold crowns and porcelain crowns undetectable from natural teeth, and warranted ten years without the least particle of pain. Come and have your teeth extracted in the morning and go home in the evening with new teeth.
