MONAHAN IN A NEW ROLE.

Tried to Fake Hotelkeeper Richard McHugh and is Now in the Station House.

He walked into Richard McHugh's hotel, on North Main avenue, yesterday, shortly after noon, and taking a pencil and some paper proceeded to state (on paper) that he was deaf and dumb in want and without a home. His general make-up seemed to indicate that species of man known as the "fakir," and a little adroit questioning by Mr. McHugh disclosed the fellow's true identity.

Realizing that the deaf and dumb game was a poor graft that fakir talked instead of writing and assumed a new role. He claimed to be in possession of the knowledge of the whereabouts of Mr. McHugh's son, who left home several months ago. To divulge his secret would cost something, but this much he would say: He was a horsehooper by trade, and exhibited a paring knife as proof. He had been employed last at Butte City, Mont., but being thrown out of work he had started East, and had seen the missing boy at Fort Wayne, Ind. Knowing the lad he had tried to find out what he was doing away from home and received a beating from a big fellow with whom the boy seemed to be traveling.

His statements were so mixed as to cause Mr. McHugh's anger to rise and he ordered the fellow out. He would not go upon request, and was hustled out. Once outside he tried to attack Mr. McHugh and landed in the station house as a result.

Though giving his name as Thomas McHugh, he really is Michael Monahan, a nephew of Martin Monahan, of Price street, and is the fellow who several months ago tried to give his body to Dr. Carroll for the benefit of medical science.

Earlier in the day Monahan had called upon Mrs. Monahan, his aunt, and told her that her sister, who resides in South Scranton, had met her death by being hung. Neighbors, who held insurance upon her, had committed the dreadful deed. Thoroughly frightened, Mrs. Monahan sent to Brig's mines for her husband, and he hurried out and over to investigate the story. Of course it was untrue and the angered man looking for the fellow brought about the disclosure of his real identity. Monahan will receive a hearing this morning.

BIRTHDAY SOCIAL.

The Ladies' Guild of St. David's Episcopal church conducted a birthday social and entertainment in the church parlors last evening. The rooms were prettily decorated with flags and bunting. W. A. Price acted as chairman of the evening and Professor Lewis Watkins was accompanist. The exercises were begun with a piano solo by Master Garfield Davis, followed by a solo rendered by Miss Etta Dunkerly. Messrs. W. J. Davis and David Jenkins sang a duet, "The Pilot Brave," and Master Hugh Gray recited. A violin solo was rendered by John Evans, followed with a duet, "Whispering Hope," by the Misses Etta Dunkerly and Margaret Phillips. The song rendered by Will Evans came next, after which David Stephens gave a solo. The exercises were ended by another duet from Messrs. Davis and Jenkins. Each number as given was heartily applauded. Later refreshments were served consisting of ice cream and cake.

THEY WENT TOGETHER.

The "new woman" idea seems to have seized Mrs. Michael Olenvitski, of Fourth street, for yesterday she was given a hearing before Alderman Kelly on charges of "desertion" and "assault and battery." These charges were preferred by her husband. At the hearing, in defense of herself, the woman spoke disparagingly of mankind in general in a choice mixture of English and Slavish. Her tirade was brought to a close by the request that she produce a bond for her appearance at court. She could not and was committed to the county jail. During the trial when Olenvitski grew abusive and upon being asked to be quiet, told the alderman to take a trip. "One dollar fine," five," said Michael. "Alright five it is," answered the obliging justice. "Oh! can be hundred you like. Me no pay anyhow" yelled Olenvitski. The fine was raised to $10 or fifteen days. Olenvitski, by necessity, took the time and accompanied his wife to the jail.

WILLIAM M. WILSON'S FUNERAL.

The funeral services of the late William M. Wilson, of North Garfield avenue, occurred yesterday afternoon from the Simpson Methodist church. Rev. J. B. Sweet, pastor of the church, preached the funeral sermon and made several touching references to the many qualities of the deceased. There was a large attendance. The Lackawanna Lodge, Order of Redmen, Trauma and Lodge of Order of Masons being well represented. The floral tributes were profuse and beautiful. At the close of the service the remains were viewed and then borne to the Washburn street cemetery, accompanied by a large cortege, where interment was made. The pallbearers and flower-bearers were selected from the Masons, who had charge of the burial service, and were: Horace Costar, William N. Chase, Harry Burns, George F. Thomas, Henry W. Bass and George Wallace. Flower-bearers: Jas. C. Powell and George Oberdorfer.

HIS LIFE THREATENED.

Patrick Joyce, of Hampton street, had John L. Murray, or John Williams as he is better known, a neighbor, arrested yesterday for making threats against his (Joyce's) life. In all probability Joyce would have taken no particular notice of Williams' threat had not Mrs. Williams assaulted Mr. Joyce and discolored her eyes last Saturday. Williams went before Alderman Howe, waived a hearing and entered bail in the sum of $300 for his appearance at court. He then had warrants issued for the arrest of Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Joyce alleging similar offenses.

FIRE ON ROCK STREET.

An alarm of fire was sounded from box No. 32, corner of Hampton street and South Main avenue, yesterday morning. The alarm was caused by a fire which originated in the portion of a double house on Rock street, occupied by Lewis Harris. The other section is tenanted by J. T. Williams. Little damage was done and though the Columbus and Franklins promptly responded their services were not required.

SOUTH SCRANTON.

Mrs. William Lynn, of Minooka, went before Alderman Ruddy, Monday, and swore out a warrant for the arrest of her husband on a charge of assault and battery and non-support. It seems that Lynn came home in an intoxicated condition last Saturday night and when his wife asked him for some money with which to defray the household expenses, Lynn beat her. The woman finally struck her husband on the cheek with a table knife. Lynn retaliated by striking her with his fist. The blow knocked out several teeth in the woman's mouth and cut her lips. Alderman Ruddy discharged Lynn on the charge of assault and battery and held him under $200 bail on the non-support charge.

Doubtless there were many thousands on that occasion, when Blonid had crossed in safety, who echoed the words of the Prince of Wales, who was taking—"Thank God, it is all over!"

Still more hazardous was his taking a man across the Falls on his back. Blonid afterwards crossed on stilts, blindfolded, cooled Blonid's letter, and trundled a barrow from shore to shore. He afterwards repeated these performances quite 500 times during a period of two years. Blonid died in harness, so to speak, for he continued to accept engagements to within a few months of his death.

Some of the Risky Things Done by the Famous Blondin.

The London newspapers just at hand contain many interesting reminiscences of Blondin, "the Hero of Niagara," who died in falling, some time ago, aged 73. It was in 1829 that Blondin performed the feat that made him the talk of the whole civilized world, by crossing the river, on a tight-rope at a point 1,599 feet in width below the Niagara Falls, in the jaws of thousands of spectators. The next year he performed the most perilous feat, of crossing the river below the Suspension Bridge, for, although the next year he performed the more certain if he had fallen into the rapids at this point. But as the rope had been drawn, there was a "rag" of fully forty feet, which increased the difficulty of the transit. Doubtless there were many thousands on that occasion, when Blondin had crossed in safety, who echoed the words of the Prince of Wales, who was taking—"Thank God, it is all over!"

Still more hazardous was his taking a man across the Falls on his back. Blondin afterwards crossed on stilts, blindfolded, cooled Blonid's letter, and trundled a barrow from shore to shore. He afterwards repeated these performances quite 500 times during a period of two years. Blonid died in harness, so to speak, for he continued to accept engagements to within a few months of his death.

THE KLINE SHOE CO.

Nothing in the Retail Trading of this city in years can compare with our record in Shoe Selling for last Saturday. We have practically been doing the shoe business of this town, and we have sold thousands of pairs at prices that were a revelation. It would seem as if every pair of shoes we sold was telling the story of the sale; how we bought them at one-half their regular price and sold them in the same way.

One satisfied customer brought another, and so on ad infinitum. There's the story of our success in shoe selling. We will go on this week in the same way, but probably the selling will be bigger, as the attractions are possibly greater than before. We would advise intending buyers to come during the week, as it was impossible for us to wait on one-quarter of the customers who crowded, or rather, over-crowded our store last Saturday.

One Needs a Change, But the whole trouble hangs on that "But." Summer still lingers with us, although it is cool nights and mornings, and the calendar tells us that Autumn has come. The truth is, it is between seasons; it is neither summer or fall, but that uncertain period of the year when the weather may be anything from sizzling, oppressive heat to cool, crisp and bracing. It is the time when one can no longer trust safely to summer apparel, nor can they comfortably adopt the heavier raiment that comes with the fall.

This is the Experience of Every Woman

these days, and while we can supply your every need for fall wear now, we think that those who feel they need

We have also a wonderfully effective new style, smooth finish, high grade crepon skirt at $5.50 that is bound to become popular among those who seek both style and quality.

Something New to Wear

will study practical thrift, common sense and comfort best by acquiring one or two

For the Bicycle

the light zephyr materials that have so covered so comfortably through the summer must now be discarded mornings and evenings by wheelwomen.

Separate Dress Skirts

The styles are fixed for the season, and a black, plain Brillantine Skirt, of fine texture, high glaze lustre, properly cut, conscientiously made and trimmed, offers the most satisfactory solution of the difficult problem already referred to. We are showing a magnificent line of these at $2.25, $3.50, and $4.50 each.

Bicycle Suits

are now in order, and our line is bound to meet with your approval. They embrace every good improvement for appearance and comfort in riding while the styles are the best and latest that fashion has to offer.

The materials include light and medium weight flannels, Scotch Tweed mixtures, new canvases, cloths, etc., and as we have an idea that a large trade will be done in these this fall, we have determined to popularize these Bicycle Suits by offering prices for this week and Monday next that will not be repeated when the season fairly opens up.

Opening Prices, $5.90, $6.90 and $7.90.
