STATE LEAGUE OF REPUBLICAN CLUBS

Great Gathering of the Active Young Political Workers.

PATRIOTISM AT WILLIAMSPORT

Mayor Mansell Delivers the Address of Welcome--Stirring Addresses Made by Congressman Stone, Major McDowell, General Latta and Others--Resolutions Urging the Repeal of the Civil Service Law Are Tabled--Resolutions Reported by Chairman Lowry.

Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 8.—There was a great gathering of active young political workers here today in attendance at the tenth annual convention of the State League of Republican clubs. The convention was held in the Lycoming opera house, with delegates present from all the leading Republican clubs in the state. Congressman Charles W. Stone, of Warren; William A. Stone, of Allegheny; Horace B. Packer, of Wellsboro; State Chairman John P. Elkin, of Indiana; State Treasurer B. J. Haywood, of Mercer, were among the spectators. There were many ladies present during the morning session and manifested interest in the proceedings. A mass meeting was held tonight at the opera house, at which stirring addresses were made by Congressman W. A. and C. H. Stone; Major Alex. McDowell, of Mercer, chief clerk national house of representatives; General James W. Latta, of Philadelphia, secretary of internal affairs, and L. J. Crawford, of Newport, Ky., president of the National League of Republican clubs. Isadore Sobel, of Erie, president of the State league, presided.

The convention was called to order at 10.30 o'clock this morning by President Sobel. After prayer by Rev. George C. Foley, of this city, an address of welcome on behalf of the people of Williamsport was delivered by Mayor Mansell. Edward L. Bates, of Meadville, responded and was followed by ex-Representative Emerson Collins, of Williamsport, with an address of welcome on behalf of the Republicans of Lycoming county. A happy response was made by William Henry Lex, of Philadelphia. President Sobel made a brief speech congratulating the league on the large representation and reviewing the effective work which had been done by the clubs throughout the state in the last campaign. He appealed to the party leaders to take a more active interest in the league, and pledged its hearty support for the state ticket this fall. Henry F. Teppee, president of the Rhode Island league, made an eloquent campaign speech, and the Pittsburg Tariff club quintette sang several songs.

LETTERS OF REGRET.

Attorney General McCormick, whose home is in this city, sent the following telegram from Harrisburg to President Sobel: "I sincerely regret that by reason of pressing official duties here I cannot join my fellow citizens of Williamsport in bidding the delegates welcome to our city, and assisting to make their visit a pleasant one. The time of your meeting is most auspicious. Public confidence in the principles of our party was never more complete than now, and all that is necessary to again emphasize them is the overwhelming vote of the people secured by the united and concerted action of the party."

Letters of regret were received from Major Levi G. McAuley, of West Chester; James S. Beacom, of Greensburg, nominees for auditor general and state treasurer; Senator Mark A. Hanna, Hon. R. A. Alger, secretary of war; Postmaster General Gary, Secretary of the Navy John D. Long, Vice President Hobart, Secretary of the Treasury Lyman Gage, Senators Penrose and Quay, Senator Fairbanks, of Indiana; Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, and Congressman W. C. Arnold, of Clearfield, who said in his letter that civil service is "a fraud, a farce and a delusion."

John Verdine, of Philadelphia, offered the following resolution, adopted at a meeting of the Quaker City delegation: That we consider as foreign to the intent of the founders of the government the creation of a favored class of office holders and the discrimination practiced against the masses less fortunate in their opportunities in early life, that we urge our representatives in congress to secure the repeal of the civil service law.

John J. Horn, Philadelphia, also offered a resolution that the league denounces the proposition to leave the Philadelphia gas works to the United Gas Improvement company, to oppose the proposition and vote against any and all ordinances looking to the leasing or sale of any public works in that city, unless a vote be taken upon the question at the polls, and then properly advertised. The resolutions were referred to committee without debate. The committee met subsequently and tabled the resolutions.

A motion was offered by Fred W. Fleitz, of Scranton, and adopted that the rules of the league be amended so that each county elect a member of the executive committee, instead of each senatorial district excepting the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny, which shall elect members of the executive committee from each senatorial district.

M. W. Lowry, of Scranton, was appointed chairman of the resolutions committee; William Henry Lex, philadelphia, chairman of credentials; Levi DeWolf, Pittsburg, on place of next meeting.

Committee to select delegates at large to the national convention, State Treasurer B. J. Haywood, Mercer; T. F. Penman, Scranton; David Hardy, McKeesport; H. L. Herschy, Harrisburg; J. D. Hay, Erie; H. B. Packer, Wellsboro; George W. Weaver, Philadelphia; Leslie Yates and John Keeley, Philadelphia.

The convention took a recess at noon for two hours to allow the committees to meet. After the recess Chairman Lex, of the committee on contests, made a statement that the Lebanon delegates had adjusted their differences and elected J. Henry Miller, a member of the executive committee. There were no other contests. A report was read from the committee to select a place for holding the next convention, recommending that the matter be referred to the executive committee. Ralph Light, of Lebanon, moved that the committee be instructed to select Lebanon. The motion failed and the report of the committee was approved by a vote of 75 to 30.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

Chairman Lowry reported the following from the resolutions committee:

The representative members of the Republican League of Pennsylvania, in convention assembled, hereby reaffirm their allegiance and devotion to the living principles underlying and co-extensive with this great party of the people as expressed at the Republican national convention at St. Louis in 1896, and in the state convention at Harrisburg in 1897, with such modifications of the civil service law as shall insure fair treatment to all citizens of the Republican faith.

We congratulate the people of the United States on their ready conception of Republican principles and their prompt action in November last when, by a spontaneous uprising, they elected as president that "advance agent of prosperity," William McKinley, and making possible the election of Hon. Thomas B. Reed as speaker of the house of representatives, whose voice is everywhere heard in the interest of protection and honest money.

We further congratulate the Republican representatives of Pennsylvania in congress, in the senate and the house for their recognition of the needs of the people and their redemption of the pledge of the party in the last national campaign for their faithful, earnest work for a restoration of protection to our industries and our labor and their firm stand for an honest financial system; for the preservation of our national credit, for increase of prosperity along all lines of business with restoration of confidence in all avenues of trade. We appeal confidently to the people of Pennsylvania to answer at the polls in November whether or not the promises of our party have been fulfilled. We pledge ourselves to the untiring support of our standard bearers, James S. Beacom for state treasurer, and Levi G. McCauley for auditor general, believing that they will receive the loyal aid of every true Republican in this commonwealth.

Mr. Verdine moved to amend by inserting a plank favoring the repeal of the civil service law. The motion was defeated by 73 to 45 and the resolutions were adopted.

Wilson, of the Philadelphia Commercial museum, delivered a lengthy and interesting address on "The Movement of Cereal Foods in the Western Hemisphere; Their Production and Transportation, Duties and Consumption."

Among other things Chairman Welsh asserts that naming of more equitable rates for Pennsylvania millers will not be secured "until we have a railroad commissioner free from political influence and control."

REEDER'S RESIGNATION.

Brought About by the Secretary's Signature on a Bond.

Harrisburg, Sept. 8.—On Thursday, Sept. 2, Governor Hastings sent the following letter to Secretary Reeder:

General Frank Reeder, Secretary of the Commonwealth—Dear Sir: I respectfully request your resignation as secretary of the commonwealth.

General Reeder answered as follows:

Easton, Sept. 2.—Governor D. H. Hastings—Dear Sir: I have the honor to tender my resignation as secretary of the commonwealth. During my official connection with your administration I have received many kindnesses at your hands, and I desire now to express my acknowledgment of your courtesy and consideration. Very respectfully yours,

Frank Reeder.

Today, after a conference between Governor Hastings and General Reeder, the former accepted the resignation in the following letter:

Harrisburg, Sept. 8, 1897.—General Frank Reeder, secretary of the commonwealth. My Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of the 2d inst., tendering your resignation as secretary of the commonwealth. In accepting your resignation I desire to reciprocate the kindly expressions contained in your letter and to assure you of my high appreciation of your uniform courtesy to me. Very truly yours,

Daniel H. Hastings.

General Reeder turned the department over to Deputy Secretary Barnett and left for his home in Easton. It is known that the resignation was asked for because Governor Hastings did not approve of General Reeder's being one of ten signers of a bond indemnifying the state treasurer for money paid out to legislative employes who were alleged to have been on the pay roll without authority of law.

Governor Hastings this evening tendered the office of secretary of the commonwealth to Colonel James H. Lambert, at present insurance commissioner. Colonel Lambert asked for time to consider the matter and consult with friends.

Private Secretary Beitler stated at midnight that Governor Hastings and Insurance Commissioner Lambert had been together at the executive mansion all evening and that the latter had not yet decided what action he would take on the governor's offer.
