The "white wings" were decidedly draggled on the first day of their active service and it is supposed that the wearers of the summery uniform went to bed early yesterday while their plumage was being washed, as they were not so much in evidence as on the previous day. Mr. Dunning may have to provide more capacious gunnysacks than those employed at present if he desires to preserve other than scorcher attitudes in the backs of his helpers. Professor Twitmeyer is not an ardent advocate of the vertical system of writing, which the children in Scranton's public schools are labor lously learning to acquire. His system has the three requisites of legibility, speed and beauty, and his methods of teaching seem to be very much admired by the members of the institute. He declares that the Lackawanna teachers surprise him by their enthusiasm over the subject Tuesday, despite the oppressive heat they practiced his directions with interest and seal, hour after hour and the muscular exercises first given were not what may be called "lazy work."

It took a force of clearners from 7 o'clock Tuesday evening until 4 yesterday morning to get court room No. 1 in a condition fit for the teachers to enter, and somehow, even then, you could tell that something had been happening there.

Printed Warnings to Be Dealt Out by Dunning's Man. Street Commissioner Dunning is going to supply his special officer with a pack of cards. These cards will be carried in a case fitted to the top bar of his bicycle frame. On these cards will be printed such legends as "It is a vio-lation of the city ordinances to throw rubbish in the streets," "It is a violation of the city ordinances to blockade the sidewalk," "It is a violation of the city ordinances to leave wagons standing on the streets over night," and such ike. A skull and crossbones, dagger and pair of handcuffs may possibly be pictured on the card, also, but Mr. Dunning does not say anything about

If a person is detected in the act of violating any of the municipal regula- | promisedtions dealing with the street department, the officer will fish out a card fitting the offense and hand it to the offender. He will then ride around the block on his wheel and if on his return the offender is still offending he will be given another card.

Then the officer will ride around anther block or maybe the same old block and if he finds the card receiver persisting in his offensiveness up he es before the mayor. After that he'll be good.

HIS CONDITION NOT CHANGED.

Frank Russa Is Exhibiting Wonderful Endurance and Vitality.

The condition of Frank Russa, at the Lackawanna hospital, last night, was not changed for the worse. The man is bearing up under the effects of his injuries in a remarkable way. The physicians have hopes of his recovery. Joseph Abbate, who is held as a witess, secured new bondsmen yesterday. Emil Morcom, who at first stood for the $500 required, went to police headquarters Tuesday night and surrend-ered the bail. He had learned that Absate was about to flee the country. Special Officer Frank Egli arrested Ab bate in a house where he had gone to spend the night. He was locked in the police station.

Yesterday morning before Alderman Millar, Gusfare Abbate, Ferdinando Noll and Venanzo Zummo signed the bail bond and Abbate was again released. Frank and Sebastiano Sparoeni were unable to obtain ball and vere committed to the county jail yesterday.

The murderer Abbate, at the county ail, maintains his cool, unruffied spirit and eats heartily.

PETITION FOR VIEWERS.

Frouble Between the City and Dominick Healey to Be Adjudicated.

The trouble that has existed for some past between Dominick Healey, of the West Side, and the city of Scranon is to be settled legally. The first step in that direction was taken yes-terday by Mr. Healey, when his at-torneys, I. H. Burns and W. W. Baylor, asked the court to appoint viewers o assess the damage done to Mr. Healey's property at Ninth and West Linden street.

Mr. Healey in his petition for viewers says that the city in constructing the Thirteenth district sewer took and used his land, to his great injury. He has not been recompensed by the city and he wants to be. Judge Gunster appointed C. B. Gardner, Charles Koempel and M. F. Conroy as viewers. For several months there has been rouble between Mr. Healey and the street commissioners' department over the former's determination to keep a fence on what the city claims to be a public street.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL CONFERENCE HELD

THE SESSIONS LARGELY ATTENDED

A Great Deal of Business Was Transacted and Matters of Interest to the Members of the Association Discassed -- Sessions Were Held Mornthe Last Mentioned the Church Was Overcrowded.

The nineteenth annual conference of the Abington Baptist association began yesterday in the Baptist church at Peckville. There were three largely attended sessions. In the morning officers were elected, in the afternoon the several department reports were read, and in the evening the Young People's union, a branch of the assoclation, held an enthusiastic rally in the Methodist church.

The attendance this year is large and a very successful conference is

At 10 o'clock a. m. the conference opened with a season of carnest devotional services, led by Rev. W. B. F. Brown, of Jermyn Baptist church, Rev. H. H. Harris, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church at Taylor, retiring president of the association, called the meeting to order.

The following officers were elected: President, Rev. W. J. Ford, of Green Ridge church; clerk, F. M. Koehler, of Scranton; treasurer, L. M. Peck, of Carbondale. Rev. Mr. Ford, on taking the chair, offered prayer, and then introduced Rev. Mr. James, of Roger Williams college, who spoke on "The Negro Problem and How to Solve It." The introductory sermon was delivered by Rev. A. B. Browe, of Waverly. His text was taken from the second chapter and fourth verse of the book of Revelations.

INDIVIDUAL CHURCH REPORTS. The afternoon session opened at 2 The first business was the reading of the individual reports of the churches by Secretary Koehler and Rev. W. G. Watkins, chairman of the digest committee. The reports showed a mem-bership of about 5,500 Baptists in the thirty churches comprising the association. The report of the treasurer was afterward made, as also that of the auditing and home missions committee. Dr. E. B. Palmer, secretary of the state educational society of the Baptist denomination, delivered an address upon the work of the society.

The session closed with a meeting in of the Woman's Missionary union. Professor Grablechoff delivered a stirring address. This was followed by an address by Mrs. Frutchey and Miss Sara Krigbaum, of Scranton.

The final session of the day, in the vening, was in charge of the Young People's society of the association. The meeting was held in the Methodist church, which was crowded to the overflow. Luther Keller, president of the Young People's union, called upon Rev. Mr. Miller, who has been for seventy years connected with the association, to offer prayer. Mr. Keller then appointed the following nominating committee: Ralph Miller, of Clifford; Rev. J. L. Williams, of Forest City, and B. G. Bed-

While the committee was preparing the nominations the treasurer of the union made his annual report. The following committee was appointed to frame a set of by-laws for the union: Rev. A. B. O'Neal, Rev. W. J. Ford and F. M. Koehler

The nominating committee reported the following nominations: For president; J. R. Ellis; vice president, E. F. Chamberlin; secretary, A. B. O'Neal; board of managers, J. S. Thomas, J. S. Watkins and John Owens, Rev. Mr. O'Neal then arose and placed Luther Keller's name before the meeting as a nominee for president.

MR. KELLER AGAIN PRESIDENT. Mr. Keller has been president of the union for three years. Rev. Mr. Ellis requested that his name be withdrawn the nominating committee. The final elections were: President, Luther Keller; vice-president, Rev. J. R. Ellis; secretary, Rev. A. B. O'Neal; treasurer, J. F. Chamberlin, and the board of managers are suggested by the com-

Rev. J. R. Ellis addressed the convention in the absence of Rev. Chivers, of Chicago, who could not attend. Mr. "Tendencies of the Times."

Ellis spoke upon the subject of the Dr. Stevens, of Philadelphia, then addressed the society upon the subject of "Systematic Benevolence."

Mrs. Jones, secretary of the Woman's Mission union, and Dr. Stevens, of Philadelphia, also spoke. The conference will be continued today.

LAW WILL BE THE MAN.

County Committee Will Select Griffin's Successor Tonight.

The Democratic candidates met yesterday morning with Col. Fitzsimmons, convention chairman, in the latter's office on Spruce street, and selected a county committee. The chosen ones were forthwith notified and requested to meet tonight in Col. Fitzsimmons' office, for organization.

While the session was on a delegation of Archbald Democrats came in with a boom for Thomas Law for clerk of the courts, the position left vacant by the declination of M. H. Griffin. The candidates, it is said, are strongly in favor of having Mr. Law among them, and as they are the ones to be pleased in the matter, it is quite likely that the county committee will agree to Mr. Law's selection. Either Col. Fitzsimmons or E. C. Newcomb will be chairman of the com-

The ladies who attended Miss Vernon's preliminary lecture on Ices, at St. Luke's parish room in August, and others interested in cooking, or in the special charity work of the Girls' Friendly society, especially that for girls and women temporarily stranded in Scranton, is now called to Miss Vernon's course, for the benefit of the soclety, at the same place. It will begin on Monday, Sept. 20, and the six lectures will be given on the successive mornings of that week at 10 o'clock. The first lecture may possibly have to come in the afternoon, but every effort will be made to have Miss Vernon's cooking apparatus in place in time for the morning of that day. The tickets, one dollar for the course, are to be had from the members of the society. At a regular meeting of the society hast evening, by an unanimous vote, fails to cure. 25 cents.

NOT A BAY WINDOW.

Judge Archbald Disapproves of the Structure Erected by Mr. Flaherty, of Penn Avenue.

Michael Flaherty and Judge Arch ald do not agree as to the kind of a structure or construction the law will allow to be called a bay-window. As consequence Mr. Flaherty is in a very distressing predicament. He is the owner of a lot in the 400 block of Penn avenue and until about a year ago it was improved with a two-story frame building in which were stores and living apartments. About a year ago Mr. Flaherty sawed away half of the wooden building, moved it to the rear of the lot and in its place erected a three-story brick building with a store-room on the first floor and living apartments above. In erecting the building Mr. Flaherty ignored the usual Penn avenue build ing line and took possession of a good portion of the ten-foot reservation.

This drew forth a protest from P. J. Vetter, who occupies the adjoining lot, and Jacob Ferber, who owns the property adjoining Mr. Vetter. The protest was ignored and they asked the court for an injunction. About this time Mr. Flaherty somewhat altered his plans so as to make the part of the building that extended onto the reservation a bay-window. Judge Archbald handed down an opinion in the injunction proceedings yesterday. He distinctly disapproves of Mr. Fiaherty's bay-window, in fact post-tively asserted that it is nothing of the kind and concludes his lengthy opinion with the following decree:

Let a preliminary injunction issue as prayed for restraining and enjoining the defendant, his agents and employes, from using the ten feet in the front of his lot on Penn avenue, Scranton, described in the bill, for any purpose other than that a yard, vault, porch, piazza, cellarway or bay windows, and particularly enjoin-ing him from erecting or constructing thereon the building or structure proposed by him to be there built as shown agrams attached to the findings in this case, copies of which shall accompany and be made a part of the writ t be issued in pursuance of this order.

The building has been erected and is now occupied and has been for many months. The legal battle will not stop Mr. Flaherty will try all the kinks in the law before he removes the portion of his building that covers the reservation.

NO OVERCROWDING DISCOVERED.

On the Other Hand, One Building

Was Plethoric of Room. Examinations for conditioned pupils were continued yesterday at the High chool. Today, it is likely, the arrangement of classes will be undertaken. Active work will not be commenced beore Monday, possibly.

Superintendent Howell finished his counds of the schools yesterday and s on the previous day found no instances of serious overcrowding. At No. 14 school, in the Fifteenth ward, it was found possible to do away with the annex at the Tabernacle church, the pupils who had been accommodated here being provided with quarters in the regular building.

This makes it unnecessary to appoint teacher to succeed Mrs. E. E. Robathan, who resigned from the corps of No. 14 during vacation.

AFTER MANY WEARY MONTHS OF DELAY

Portico in Front of the Arcade Property on Wyoming Avenue Is Completed.

FIGHT WAS A MEMORABLE ONE

The Matter Was Carried to the Attention of the County Courts, but It Was in Such Shape That the Right to Construct the Portico Was Not Passed Upon -- Force of Workmen Completed It Yesterday -- They Were Not Interfered With.

The Arcade portico, which was begun over a year and a half ago by Arthur Frothingham, was completed yesterday by Charles H. Welles, trusee, for the present owners of the property. In the condition in which it was eft after the legal interruption it was hardly a thing of beauty, and it was quietly resolved to remove it or else emove its unsightliness. One was about as cheap as the other, and as it was deemed more wise to raise than raze the completion of the much advertised portico was resolved upon. Yesterday morning at 7 o'clock gang of carpenters went hurriedly to operations. At nightfall the job was virtually finished, and today the painters will put on the finishing touches. Street Commissioner Dunning and City Solicitor McGinley both learned of he proceedings early in the day, but did not interfere in any way. They consulted, however, concerning the matter, and may yet take some steps work on the structure. As soon as the roof was in place, tinsmiths appeared and set to work with the same liveliness that characterized the carpenters' egarding it. NEVER PASSED UPON. The question as to whether or not the portico is an obstruction has never peen passed upon by the courts. The litigation which tended to bring this matter to a solution was halted by a combination of circumstances. One of these was a decision by Judge Gunster that the case had been irregularly instituted. Mr. Kinsley, the then street commissioner, had Mr. Frothingnam arrested on a warrant and at empted to collect in this summary manner the penalty imposed by th ordinance, Alderman Millar dismissed he case, and the city took an appeal, M. W. Lowry, attorney for Mr. Frothngham, moved to quash the appeal and Judge Gunster granted the motion wling that the proceedings should have been by summons, and not by warrant of arrest; and further, inasmuch as the fine to be collected was for the use of the city the case should have been brought by "the commonwealth to the use of the city," and not by an individual municipal officer. As to the merits of the case the judge had nothing to say, as it was not regularly be

OPINION HANDED DOWN. The opinion was handed down Sept. t, 1896. At this time Mr. Frothing ham was no longer in undisputed control of the property. The half finished portico was al owed to stand in the condition it was in when the approach of the patrol wagon drove Mr. Frothingham's carpenters scudding through to escape the vengeance of the law.
