Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sisk have returned from Peekskill, N. Y., where they accompanied their son Harry, who has entered college at that place for the coming year.

Benton Coleman had the misfortune to lose his horse last Thursday. It was perhaps the oldest horse (in service) in this section of the county, being thirtythree years of age, and worked well up to the day it died.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Capwell, of Scranton, were calling on relatives here last Sunday.

Lou Harding and Hosea Gorr have resumed their studies at State college. The firm of G. D. Nash & Co. dissolved partnership last Saturday, Mr. Nash retiring, and the business hereafter will be conducted by the com-Mrs. Alice White left Sunday after-

All is not Sweetness over in the vicinity of B. S. Gardner's mills, even if "My Honey" does run there. It seems that our townsmen, U. B. Reynolds (Bonny), as he is familiarly called, was over in that locality recently, and discovered a large "bee tree" of the hemlock variety, and, as is customary, put his name on the tree, which, upon investigation, proved to be owners refused to have it cut at present. The discovery of the bee tree was, however, no secret. Some tree was, a line tree between the lands of B. S. however, no secret. Some few nights ago a male quartette from that neigh-borhood decided to possess themselves of the hundred pounds or more of nature's sweetness that laid concealed in the bosom of that particular line tree. The mighty ax that felled the forests in the time of George Washington was brought into play and in a short time the much coveted companion of the "buckwheat cake" was secured. But the line tree was destroyed and now the trouble commences. The owners of the tree are very "Frank" in their assertions that prosecutions will be made very "Quick" unless the "Worden" of the evidence that they now hold has to be changed. "Bonny" says it is a "Radie" daddle of a note that he lost his sweetness, but he has consolation in the old song that runs: "Oh, My Honey! Good-bye, My Honey; I'll Never Come to See You Any More,'

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Reynolds, of Alderson, Pa., are here for a few days' vacation with their parents. Mr. Reynolds is employed by the Lehigh Valley railroad on one of the passenger trains that runs between Wilkes-Barre and Stull.

Myron Moore has on exhibition, in front of F. M. Osterhout's tonsorial parlors, a stalk of corn that measures 11 feet, 5 inches high and has on it two full developed ears of corn.

James Swartz, of Lake Winola, was over yesterday looking after subscriptions to the game and fish association that is now being organized in that and this section. Mr. Swartz is the secretary of the association. The member-ship fee to the association is but 25 cents, and it is hoped to obtain as members all parties in these sections that are owners of land that is stocked with game. Each member will be provided with a card of membership, which entitles him to hunt or fish on lands or waters that are controlled by the association; provided, however, that the owner of the property does not object. The sole object of the association is to enforce the game and fish laws and presecute all offenders of the same to the extent of the law. They will control no waters from publie fishing in season, but ferret hunters, fish dynamiters, trapping and hunting out of season will be watched very closely and prosecuted by the different fish and game wardens that the association will have commissioned, and stationed at certain districts of the territory controlled and covered by the association. The association will furnish all "trespass" notices free to its members. This is one of the best steps that could be taken to protect our game and fish and thereby allow them to increase in number, which is very necessary, as all game and fish in this section has been slaughtered to such an extent illegally that it is fast becoming extinct. Every farmer ought willing to go into an association of this kind, and preserve and protect his game and fish, thereby forcing all dishonorable and disgraceful so-called

In Washington, D. C., Uncle Sam has set aside by itself what is known as a "conscience fund." In Factoryville, Pennsylvania, they have a body of men set aside by themselves, that are known as the "town council," that neither have a conscience or fund, for if they did our street lamps would be lighted once more.

Among the out of town visitors that registered at Hotel Howell last Satur-day we noticed the following: Edwin and J. M. Graves, Jermyn, Pa.; T. F. Wells, esq., Scranton: J. Miller, Wilkes-Barre; George W. Cook, Tunkhannock; J. S. Sickler, Mill City.

Among the prominent men in town last Saturday were D. F. Hallapeter, of Shickshinny, and G. D. Nash, of

BABY'S CRIB MATE WAS A SNAK Badly Bitten by a Copperhead Six

Feet Long. Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 20.—A 3-year-old child of Mrs. James Cross, who resides n the Beech Creek region, was bitten by large copperhead snake yesterday while in its crib. The child began crying and old its mother that its back was cold. The mother investigated and found that the child was lying on a snake that had colled up in the bottom of the crib. The snake had bitten the baby on the neck, but home-made remedies prevented the poison spreading. The snake measured over six feet in length,

Wall Street Review

New York, Sept. 20.—The stock mar-ket was dull and comparatively neglected during the greater part of the day and the marked advances were confined to a few special instants up to the final half hour, special instants up to the infair fault four, The bears, encouraged by the lack of ac-tivity in the trading and the rise in the money rate, then fell upon the market and raided it to such good effect that tew active stocks escaped with a net decline less than a point and in a few instances much larger losses were shown as a result much larger losses were shown as a result of the day's trading. Total sales were 517,468 shares.

A prospective mother ought to insure her baby's welfare by every means that Nature and science afford to keep her physical powers up to the very highest point.

Every expectant mother ought to know and avail herself of the strengthening and re-enforcing properties of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives health and endurance to the delicate organs concerned in motherhood. Taken early during the period of expectancy, it makes the coming of baby perfectly safe and comparatively easy. It makes the mother strong and cheerful, and gives health and natural vigor to the child. cheerful, and gives heath and the child.
