BEFORE BREAKFAST.

The cooking lectures continue to attract many ladies each morning at St. Luke's parrish rooms.

It seems probable that on Saturday the Thirteenth regiment will fill the aching void left by their absence in Hazleton.

The probabilities are that, unless an immediate and generous response is made to the request for financial aid, the Hostel of the Good Shepherd, on Capouse avenue, will have to close. This institution was opened by Brother Francis, who is connected with the city mission work of St. Luke's parish, and has received its only support from a few benevolently inclined and public-spirited members of that parish. It is not a parish institution, however, but was opened for the purpose of providing a place for convalescents from the city hospitals to recuperate. Often, owing to a congested condition, patients are obliged to give way to a more urgent case and it is for this class that the hostel opens its doors. Brother Francis, himself, gives time, strength and nursing to the inmates. Only recently he was compelled to refuse the admittance of two patients from the Lackawanna hospital, who did not require special attention, but needed only time for a full restoration of their health. But the inexorable law of necessity prevented their stay, owing to the already overcrowded state of the hospital. It remains with the benevolent public to decide as to a continuation of the hostel of the Good Shepherd.

Many amusing incidents occur daily in naturalization court. Yesterday a candidate for citizenship was mixing some very bad English indiscriminately among some very good German and the court intimated that the man was not able to speak English quite as fluently as a citizen should. Somewhat nettled the applicant replied that he could read English all right and that it was unreasonable for the court to expect it to "come all at once."

Another applicant was asked who the president of the United State is. "Mr. McQuay," was the prompt reply, with the assurance of a man who knows he is correct.

"Who is the governor of Pennsylvania?" asked Judge Archbald of one candidate who was before him. "William Connell," was the answer.

Judge Edwards was questioning a man from the Third ward who was vouched for by School Controller Henry J. O'Malley. The man had been in this country a number of years, but never went to the trouble of securing papers.

"I suppose you have frequently exercised the right of franchise?" queried the judge.

"Well, there's no use of lying about it,' answered the candidate. "To tell you the truth, I have voted a few times."

Another applicant who has been in the country for twenty-three years, said he had never voted, but once in awhile "used a little influence."

SQUANDERED A FORTUNE.

Ten Years Ago George Veal Was Worth $30,000.

George Veal, who died Tuesday night at the Lackawanna hospital, was only 37 years of age, but during that period he experienced some radical ups and downs. In ten years Veal dissipated a fortune of $30,000 and he was admitted to the hospital last Friday as an ordinary patient. Disease and shattered health caused death.

Veal led an eventful life. Born in this city, he grew up a hard-working young man. His father, Charles Veal, was an engineer on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, and the son naturally took to the railroad and rose from a brakeman to conductor, to fireman, and finally to a trusted engineer. Ten years ago Charles Veal, his father, met with a tragic death. He fell from a moving box car in the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western yard and was instantly killed. He had been thrifty and careful in his habits and when his estate was settled up it was found that the banks in this city held nearly $30,000 to his credit.

George Veal, the son, then 27 years of age, was the only surviving child and to him the money reverted. The fortune turned his head. He gradually sank into a life of reckless riot and the money slipped rapidly away. With their son, Charles, who is now 17 years of age, Mr. and Mrs. Veal lived at Green Ridge in a handsome residence. The reckless disregard for the value of money that Veal showed was a constant source of wonder to his neighbors, who finally began to complain of the disturbances caused by the companions that visited Veal at his home. As his fortune disappeared, Veal's creditors became pressing and the house and lot at Green Ridge was sold. Then the Veals moved to Stroudsburg and George went to work on the railroad again, and it was apparent that all of the $30,000 had disappeared.

Three weeks ago Veal was compelled to go to bed from a disease which troubled him for several years past. The physicians who were called advised that the man be sent to the Lackawanna hospital. This was done last Friday, but he could not recover. His wife called to see him once while he was at the hospital, and at her request the remains were removed yesterday to the third floor of No. 321 Centre street. The funeral will take place from that number at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

HOMOEOPATHS IN TWO BUSY SESSIONS

State Society Yesterday Had Its Time Fully Occupied.

INFORMAL EVENING RECEPTION

Was Held at the Scranton Bicycle Club House--Visiting Ladies Given an Afternoon Carriage Ride Over Elmhurst Boulevard--Convention Ends with This Morning's Business Session--A Trip Over the D. and H. Gravity This Afternoon.

The Homoeopathic Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania yesterday held a morning and afternoon session in the board of trade rooms, and in the evening participated in an elaborate reception at the Scranton bicycle club house, together with a large number of the city's best known men and women.

The close of the convention will be marked by the final business session this morning and a trip to Farview this afternon over the Delaware and Hudson railroad in a special train chartered by the Homoeopathic Medical society of Northwestern Pennsylvania.

Yesterday's morning session was devoted to the reading and discussion of papers on clinical medicine, ophthalmology, otology and laryngology. The following papers were read: Dr. Clarence Barrett, of Philadelphia, "Clinical Experience with Locomotor Ataxia;" Dr. W. Dod Bayley, of Philadelphia, "The Acutely Unconscious;" Dr. J. H. Closson, of Philadelphia, "Intestinal Worms;" Dr. W. C. Goodno, of Philadelphia, "Circulatory Organs of the Aged;" Dr. D. S. Kistler, of Wilkes-Barre, "Salient Points in the Cure of Chronic Disease;" Dr. C. W. Roberts, of Scranton, "Disorders of Sleep;" Dr. E. R. Snader, of Philadelphia, "Bad Nauheim Treatment of Heart Disease." The foregoing were under the head of "Clinical Medicine." Other papers on that subject and referred to the publication committee were: Dr. T. H. Carmichael, of Philadelphia, "Neurasthenia in the Light of the Neuron Theory;" Dr. F. M. Lawrence, of Philadelphia, "Statistical Study in Locomotor Ataxia;" Dr. M. D. Youngman, of Atlantic City, "Pulmonary Diseases in the Climate of Atlantic City."

PAPERS READ.

Under the head of ophthalmology, otology and laryngology the following papers were read: Dr. William Spencer, of Philadelphia, "Resume of Progress;" Dr. W. H. Bigler, of Philadelphia, "Congenital Amblyopia;" Dr. H. K. Hoy, of Altoona, "Nasal Dilation;" Dr. H. F. Schantz, of Reading, "Adenoid Vegetations in the Naso-Pharynx;" Dr. H. S. Weaver, of Philadelphia, "Acute Follicular Tonsilitis;" Dr. H. F. Ivans, of Philadelphia, "Galvanism;" Dr. A. B. Norton, of New York city, "Examination of the Eye;" Dr. G. W. Stewart, of Philadelphia, "Ptosis—Its Surgical Treatment."

President Miller, of Pittsburg, presided in the morning, but in the afternoon the vice-president, Dr. W. H. Keim, of Philadelphia, occupied the chair.

In the afternoon the following papers, under the head of materia medica, were read: Dr. Edward Crauch, of Erie, "Gelsemium;" Dr. J. D. Boiteau, of Philadelphia, "Reasons that Contribute to Failure in Homoeopathy;" Dr. P. S. Duff, of Great Belt, "Baptisia Tinctoria;" Dr. Mary A. Cooke, of Philadelphia, "Nitric Acid;" Dr. Charles Mohr, of Philadelphia, "Homoeopathic Uses of Cina." The paper of Dr. C. S. Middleton, of Philadelphia, on "Fragmenta," was referred unread to the publication committee.

Two excellent obstetric papers read were: Dr. T. J. Gramm, of Philadelphia, "A Biographical Sketch of Ignaz Philipp Semmelweiss, Commemorating the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Introduction of the Antiseptic Method;" Dr. G. M. Christine, of Philadelphia, "Consideration of the Surgical Aspect of Obstetrics." The following papers were referred: Dr. F. R. Schumucker, of Reading, "After the Baby Is Born;" Dr. Pearl Starr, of Bellevue, "Cimifuga in Obstetrics."

BUREAU CHAIRMEN.

Up to the close of yesterday's business the following bureau chairmen had been appointed to serve during the next year: Dr. R. S. Marshall, of Pittsburg, pathology and pathological anatomy; Dr. C. S. Raue, of Philadelphia, paedology; Dr. S. M. Reinhart, of Allegheny City, surgery; Dr. W. J. Martin, of Pittsburg, sanitary science; Dr. I. B. Gilbert, of Philadelphia, clinical medicine; Dr. H. B. Bryson, of Pittsburg, ophthalmology, otology and laryngology; Dr. August Korndoerfer, of Philadelphia, materia medica; Dr. Margaret Hassler, of Allentown, obstetrics.

An afternoon carriage ride given the visiting ladies over Elmhurst boulevard developed a most delightful bit of entertainment. The carriages left here about 3.15 o'clock. After reaching Elmhurst the party inspected the homoeopathic sanitarium, lately the Hotel Elmhurst, recently opened by Dr. W. H. H. Bull, of Atlantic City. Dr. Bull, by the way, was this year a member of the state homoeopathic society's bureau of obstetrics.

Before leaving Elmhurst the party on invitation was received at the home of Colonel and Mrs. U. G. Schoonmaker, where a delightful hot lunch was served. The refreshment was most acceptable, particularly on account of the chilly, penetrating air encountered on the mountain drive.

LAST NIGHT'S RECEPTION.

Last night's reception at the Scranton Bicycle club house proved a highly successful event. It was decidedly informal and that fact perhaps contributed largely to the unusual pleasure of the occasion. It was planned jointly by a committee of physicians and a larger committee of physicians' wives and the wives of some of the city's best known new school constituency. On the former committee were Drs. A. A. Lindabury, G. J. Berlinghoff and J. W. Coolidge.

The committee of ladies received. They were: Mrs. Henry Belin, jr., Mrs. L. T. Oakford, Mrs. C. D. Simpson, Mrs. D. B. Ware, Mrs. A. A. Lindabury, Mrs. J. W. Coolidge, Mrs. F. D. Brewster, Mrs. F. W. Lange, Mrs. Theodore Sureth, Mrs. C. W. Roberts, Mrs. G. J. Berlinghoff and Dr. Anna Clarke.

Soon after 8 o'clock the guests began to arrive and it was after 11 o'clock before the reception had ended. Music was furnished by Bauer. Quite an extended period was devoted to dancing. A running supper was serve by Hanley.

Following is the programme for this morning's session.

OFFICERS SELECTED.

John H. Thomas Will Again Be Chairman of the County Committee---Induced to Accept Yesterday.

A meeting was held in the Central Republican club rooms yesterday, which was attended by the Republican county candidates and Chairman M. W. Lowry, of the recent Republican county convention. At this meeting John H. Thomas was made chairman of the county committee; Hon. A. T. Connell, secretary, and D. W. Powell, treasurer. An executive committee was also named and the members of it will meet Saturday afternoon with the officers of the committee and the candidates for the purpose of selecting a county committee.

JOHN H. THOMAS
Will Be in Charge of the Republican Campaign This Fall.

The county committee's headquarters will be in the Central Republican club rooms, on Washington avenue, and after Saturday headquarters will be open every day until election, Sundays excepted. The secretary, Hon. A. T. Connell, will be in charge of headquarters.

John H. Thomas has served two terms as county chairman and when asked to again accept the position was loath to do so. County Commissioner Giles Roberts was then talked of, but when asked to serve as chairman by the candidates he was compelled to decline, because he could not give the time to the position that it would require.

Then the candidates again turned to Mr. Thomas and urged him to reconsider his determination not to be county chairman. At yesterday's meeting the candidates succeeded in inducing him to accept the chairmanship, and he will at once take charge of the campaign. That means that a vigorous battle will be waged and decisive victory won in November.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN MEET.

Discuss the Approaching Parade of the Fire Fighters.

The Volunteer Fireman's association of this city held a meeting last evening in Durr's hall and made further arrangements for the Fireman's day parade. They decided to have the old hand-engine in line again this year.

A committee was appointed to secure a suitable room for the entertainment of the visitors on that day and on motion one carriage will be supplied in the parade to accommodate President A. E. Vorhees, of the local association; ex-Chief Charles W. Roesler, of this city; ex-President Thomas F. Noone and ex-President Salem S. Thomas, of the State association, who is also the oldest fireman in the state. Mr. Thomas will be at Wilkes-Barre during convention week.

The Board of Fire Engineers and a committee from the association will confer tonight regarding the parade.

Educational Rally Tonight.

The Educational Committee of the Young Women's Christian Association has provided an interesting and instructive program which will begin tonight at 7.45. Prof. W. H. Buell and Prof. James Hughes will give short talks. Music will be furnished by Mrs. Brewster, Miss Huber and Miss Long. The introduction of teachers will follow by registration social. Both ladies and gentlemen are invited.

SURVIVORS OF THE FIFTY-SECOND

Will Hold Their Annual Reunion Here Today.

COLONEL DODGE IS IN THE CITY

He Will Greet the Members of His Old Command--Other Officers Who Will Be Present--A Distinguished Visitor from Maine--Historic Battle Flag Will Be Exhibited at the Camp Adjutant General Stewart May Attend.

The surviving members of the famous Fifty-second regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers will muster here today and with appropriate exercises will observe their tenth annual reunion. The observance of this reunion in Scranton is particularly felicitous owing to the fact that this city is the most prominent one in the counties from which the "Old Luzerne" was enlisted and beside very many now on the muster roll came from this vicinity.

Every indication points to the fact that this tenth reunion will be a prominent one in many respects.

The first commander colonel, John C. Dodge, now of Dodgeville, Mass., will greet his comrades for the first time since the war. The colonel arrived here yesterday afternoon and is at the Hotel Jermyn. Probably all of the remaining officers will be present among whom are Quartermaster Sergeant Hugh Crawford, formerly of this city, but now of New York city; Quartermaster Sergeant Charles Ross, of Newark, N. J.; Sergeant Frank Whitehead, of Passaic, N. J., and Captain A. H. Rush.

The historic flag which was planted by the gallant Major Hennessey, of the regiment, on Fort Sumter immediately after its retaking, February 17, 1865, will be exhibited at the campfire.

Alfred Maxwell, who is also staying at the Jermyn, will represent the gallant Eleventh regiment of Maine, which was in the same brigade with the Fifty-second near near the war's close. He will convey the greeting of comrades to comrades. General Thomas J. Stewart, adjutant-general of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, has accepted the invitation extended him to be present and if possible will come.

It is requested that the members as they arrive in the city will register at the rooms of the Lieutenant Ezra Griffin Post, 139, G. A. R., over the First National bank, on Lackawanna avenue. At 2 p. m. a business session will commence in Music Hall and at 6 p. m. a banquet will be served there. In the evening a camp-fire will be conducted.
