THE MARKETS.

New York, Sept. 29.—Today's stock mar-ket still further demonstrated the changed character of the speculation and the en-tire subsidence of the recent rampant bull spirit. The bears were more aggressive than at any time hitherto and met with scarcely any opposition. They seemed somewhat apprehensive over their own success and bought quite steadily during the afternoon of the same stocks that had been sold short in the morning. The result was to make net changes quite irregular. But the largest figures were on the side of the losses. The bears succeeded in dislodging a number of stop loss orders of weakly margined speculative holdings and there seemed to be more long selling than has been the case heretofore. The declines extended from one to four points and with very few exceptions affected every active stock on the list. The bears were apparently satissied to realize on a short turn and not leave accounts open even over night. It was a notable fact, however, that what ever animation was shown was during the decline and the recovery was slow and balting, and on much diminished vot-
